"No More Armed Intervention By U. S."—Roosevelt

U. S. FOREIGN POLICY WILL BE OF PEACE

President in Address at Wilson Dinner Blames Politicians For Wars

"LIVE AND LET LIVE"

Declares United States is Not Contemplating Joining League of Nations

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(UP)—A clear-cut statement of American policy, based on the simple maxim of "live and let live," was received by the nations of the world from President Roosevelt last night.

In an address that rang with a warning that wars are started by politicians and not by the people, the chief executive praised the objectives of Woodrow Wilson for universal tranquility, enunciated in behalf of the United States a program of non-intervention, and served notice that so far as the League of Nations was concerned "we are not members and do not contemplate membership."

"From now on, wars by governments will be changed to peace by peoples," the president said.

Mr. Roosevelt's speech was delivered before a brilliant audience in connection with the annual dinner of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation in the ballroom of the Hotel Mayflower here. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the war-time president, was among the guests.

The president took as his text the utterance of Wilson in 1913 that "comprehension must be the soil in which shall grow all the fruits of friendship."

He developed from this declaration a policy of particular import to the countries of Latin-America. He said they were free to set up and maintain governments of their own choosing.

Suspicions Justified

Mr. Roosevelt declared that events since the World war justified Latin American suspicions of the motives of the United States but added significantly:

"It therefore has seemed clear to me as president that the time has come to supplement and to implement the declaration of President Wilson by the further declaration that the definite policy of the United States from now on is one opposed to armed intervention.

"The maintenance of constitutional government in other nations is not a sacred obligation devolving upon the United States alone. The maintenance of law and the orderly processes of government in this hemisphere is the concern of each individual nation within its own borders first of all.

"It is only if and when the failure of orderly processes affects the other nations of the continent that it becomes their concern; and the point to stress is that in such an event it becomes the joint concern of a whole continent in which we are all neighbors."

The President turned to a discussion of the broader aspects of world problems.

Blames Politicians

"The blame for the danger to world peace lies not in the world population but in the political leaders of that population," he said.

GIRL, 13 YEARS OLD CONFESSES KILLING CHILD

Slays 8 Year Old Playmate Then Trusses Body and Conceals It

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Dec. 29.—(UP)—The confession of a 13-year-old girl that she murdered her younger playmate in an outburst of temper left authorities undecided today as to what action the state would take.

Mary Kavala, 13, of Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., was held as the confessed slayer of Josephine Waropay, 8, the child whose trussed body was found Sunday behind a clubhouse building. The murder, which at first was believed to have been a sex crime, was committed by the Kavala girl without accomplices, District Attorney Frank H. Coyne said, on the basis of the confession.

"Mary claimed," Coyne said, "that Josephine had been telling stories about her mother and her family, and in a fit of temper she struck Josephine in the face with a rock. Then, while the child was stunned, she bound her hands with strands from an old mop. She put a rubber band around her neck and tied strands from the mop around the neck. She had found the rubber band, which had been cut from the inner tube of an old tire.

SACRAMENTO PLANS LIQUOR TAX LEVY

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 29.—(UP)—Despite Board of Equalization general instructions against local taxation of liquor, Sacramento will try to collect $100 a year from wholesale liquor distributors effective January 1.

The city council voted to enforce an old section of the city license ordinance providing the $100 annual fee.

"This may be in conflict with what the state considers its province in controlling all licensing," said City Manager James S. Dean, "but we will enforce the law until we are brought into court."

Collection of such fees would net the city $3300.

DRUNKENNESS WILL BE COSTLY IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—By a vote of eleven to two the city council yesterday adopted an ordinance increasing the penalty that may be imposed for violation of the law prohibiting drunkenness.

Under the new measure a $500 fine or a six months' jail sentence, or both such fine and jail sentence, may be imposed.

Under the present law the penalty is a $50 fine or a fifty-day jail sentence, or both.

The new ordinance was opposed by Councilmen Charles W. Breedlove and Edward L. Thrasher.

FLIERS EXPECT TO END FLIGHT BEFORE NIGHT

Women Endurance Aces Still Aloft 12 Hours After Setting Record

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 29.—(UP)—Mrs. Frances Harrell Marsalis and Miss Helen Richey were more than 12 hours past a new world's record for women endurance fliers today after they had passed their ninth night aloft.

The plane, which officially passed the old mark at 6:08 p. m. EST yesterday, made a successful refuelling at dawn today, thus indicating the new record holders plan to remain up at least several more hours.

The girls kept the "Outdoor Girl" within easy gliding distance of the airfield, but showed no signs of weakening. They sent notes to the ground that they hoped to establish a record "beyond all possibility of reaching." Both were said to be very tired and it was understood they would come to earth long before they approached the men's endurance record of over three weeks.

On the ground, arrangements were made for an ambulance and nurse to be in readiness when they do decide to come down.

"Gee, I want to stay up," Mrs. Marsalis said in a note dropped to the flight manager, M. R. Colee. She indicated a desire to remain aloft until Saturday, at least.

Both complained of being "very tired," however, and it was felt that Colee might ask them to come down soon to avoid endangering their health.

They took the air at 1:03 p. m. Dec. 20, after an earlier false start when they were forced down by a clogged oil pump.

Christmas day and Mrs. Marsalis' 29th birthday were celebrated aboard the plane. Several difficulties were encountered and twice they narrowly escaped serious accidents.

FOLSOM INMATE IS GUILTY OF SLAYING

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 29.—(UP)—Harry Garcia, 29-year-old Folsom prison inmate, faced a death sentence today after a superior court jury found him guilty on two counts of first degree murder, and refused to recommend leniency.

Sentence will be passed tomorrow by Judge Dal M. Lemmon, but Garcia will remain in the county jail pending trial of his additional plea, not guilty by reason of insanity, scheduled for January 3.

Garcia stabbed two fellow convicts, Juan Garcia, 22, and Stanley Price, 25, as they listened to a world series broadcast in the prison courtyard October 7. His attorney tried to prove he killed them only after a terrific fight and in defense of his own life.

THREE MURDERERS PAY DEATH PENALTY

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., Dec. 29.—(UP)—Dewey Hunt, Dallas slayer whose strange romance flowered while death was the only prospect before him, died early today with a Tennessee hill-billy song as his requiem.

Hunt met death in the state's electric chair with calm protestations of innocence in the slaying of Samuel Cole, a street car operator, in Dallas five years ago.

In his cell he left three letters from Miss Cornelia Wilkerson, 18, of Dallas, in which she declared her love and faith. The girl became enamored of Hunt when she saw him in Dallas after his arrest.

Two Negro murderers followed Hunt to the chair. They were Clarence Booker and Carl Stewart, both 24.

No Foolin', It's Cold In New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(INS)—Manhattan shivered today in freezing temperatures, but New York harbor was really COLD.

So cold, in fact, the whistle of the French liner Champlain developed a "sore throat" and could only wheeze hoarsely as the liner came up the bay. The Champlain had great difficulty warning small craft out of her way.

The customs cutter Raritan was in worse shape. Loaded with immigration and newspapermen, she sought to halt the Champlain at quarantine but her whistle wouldn't work.

TREASURY ACTS TO SEIZE ALL PRIVATE GOLD

New Regulation Applies to Holders of Less Than $100 and Others

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(UP)—The government held its domestic gold buying price unchanged at $34.06 per ounce today as it tried to "corner" nearly $600,000,000 of gold bullion and gold money still believed to be in private hands.

This price was $1.92 above the world price set in London today at 126 shillings 2 pence. Based on the opening pound sterling exchange rate of $5.09 1-2, this was equivalent to $32.14 an ounce.

The dollar remained at 60.69 cents.

The gold buying program today went ahead coincident with the order of Acting Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau requiring all gold outside the Federal Reserve banks to be exchanged for other forms of money at the old statutory price of $20.67 an ounce.

It is understood that the government's new anti-gold hoarding program would not affect the gold buying by which the government has sought to depreciate the dollar and promote inflationary advances in commodity prices.

After Big Fellows

"We are worrying about the big fellows and the drive is directed against them," Morgenthau said. "This is a year-end mopping up."

Unlike previous anti-hoarding orders, the new regulation applies to holders of less than $100 of gold as well as larger amounts. But Morgenthau said he was not worried over those who may be keeping just one or two gold pieces.

Morgenthau was uncertain as to what penalties would be imposed on gold hoarders under his latest order. Previously gold

PREMIER DUCE OF ROUMANIA ASSASSINATED

Youth Believed to Be Student Fires Four Shots Into Premier's Head

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Dec. 29.—(UP)—Premier Ion G. Duca of Roumania, was assassinated late today.

The assassin killed the premier by shooting.

Duca became premier of Roumania on November 15, forming a cabinet after the resignation of Dr. Vaida Voevod. Duca was leader of the Liberal party.

It was understood three men, believed to be members of the recently outlawed "iron guard," perpetrated the shooting.

One of them, a youth believed to be a student, fired four revolver shots into Duca's head.

Duca was 54 years old and was one of the country's outstanding diplomats and politicians. Educated in the universities of Bucharest and Paris, he was a member of parliament since 1907 and became leader of the Liberal party.

He was minister of education in the Bratianu cabinet from 1914 to 1918; minister of agriculture in the coalition cabinet of 1918 and foreign minister in the Bratianu cabinet from 1922 to 1927.

Duca was organizer of the cooparative movement in Roumania.

The assassination occurred at the railroad station at Sinai, where King Carol and the royal family have their country home. Duca was awaiting a train to take him back to Bucharest after conferring with Carol at his Sinai residence.

Duca recently developed a strong pro-French policy which proved unpopular with the German elements of the country.

Just before the elections a few days ago he outlawed the Roumanian Nationalist group and the anti-Emetic league with its iron guard, which has been blamed for many anti-Jewish outrages. For the latter reason, initial suspicion centered on the iron guard, in which many students are enrolled.

TEXAS BABY GOES UNDER KNIFE TODAY

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 29.—(UP)—Dr. Walter R. Dandy, famous surgeon, today performed a delicate operation on the brain of five-months-old Sue Trammel, Houston, Texas, baby who was brought here in a spectacular airplane flight made by Jimmy Weddell.

The operation to drain fluid from the membranes beneath the baby's skull was one of the most delicate known to medical science.

UNLIMITED COINAGE TO BE SOUGHT

WILL RAISE PRICES

Action Contemplated Not in Opposition to Roosevelt Plans, Revealed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(UP)—A powerful senate silver bloc of 26 members was organized today, and immediately adopted a resolution calling for "free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver" at a ratio to be established by law.

A score of senators met with Senator Wheeler, Dem., Mont., author of a 16-to-1 silver coinage bill, and pledged their support to a silver campaign in congress this winter.

Wheeler predicted passage of silver legislation in both house and senate, and said the resolution would be conveyed to President Roosevelt immediately.

Wheeler explained the conferees had not decided upon a definite ratio because they did not know what Mr. Roosevelt might do in reducing the gold content of the dollar.

Sound Policy

"We agreed that we were not in favor of unrestricted inflation," Wheeler said, "and felt that to follow the policy we have decided upon was the soundest and safest way to prevent uncontrolled inflation."

He said it was not the purpose of silver supporters to oppose any action the president already has taken, but to "supplement and carry further his proposals."

WESTERN RAILROADS GET 12 MILLIONS

SAN FRANCCISCO, Dec. 29.—(UP)—Southern Pacific railroad officials today explained that the $12,000,000 alloted the road by the public works administration would be used in track replacement and equipment reconditioning "throughout all the areas served by the line."

The grant was additional to the $22,000,000 allotted the road last spring by the reconstruction finance corporation.

The west coast will receive a "proportionate share" of the new fund.

The road expects to buy and lay 40,000 tons of rail under its improvement program. Additional expenditures will be made for repairing bridges and culverts and recondditioning locomotives and cars.

SAN JOSE CHURCH MEMBERS PROTEST

SAN JOSE, Dec. 29.—(UP)—A petition signed by 1000 church members today demanded that the Santa Clara county grand jury "clean house" among county officials because of the recent lynchings and the conduct of the Lamson and the Templeton slaying trials.

"Petulance, incompetence and preoccupation with re-election rather than fulfillment of duties and an undignified atmosphere in some of our superior courts have long prevailed and have undermined the faith of the people in the orderly process of our courts," the petition alleged.

The conditions complained of were particularly noticeable in the Lamson and Templeton trials "which were allowed to degenerate into disgraceful circuses," the church members claimed.

UNION PACIFIC AND SANTA FE TRAINS CRASH

Mail Clerk Slightly Hurt in Yards at San Bernardino Early Today

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Dec. 29.—(UP)—A locomotive and two cars were derailed when the Santa Fe Chief, east-bound, collided with a section of an east-bound Union Pacific passenger train here early today.

A mail clerk on the Santa Fe train was reported slightly injured.

The Chief was proceeding slowly into the station when it struck a sleeping car and an observation car on the Union Pacific Limited. The two cars were derailed. The Chief's locomotive also left the tracks.

The Chief sideswiped the cars as they were being switched in "cutting off" a dining car. The Chief was moving so slowly, little damage was done, railroad officials reported.

The mail clerk, E. W. Harriet of Los Angeles, was bruised.

Several motion picture notables were aboard the Chief, en route to New York, but none was hurt, railroad officials said. They included Arlene Judge, actress; Wesley Ruggles, director; and Travis Banton, costume designer.

The derailed cars and locomotive were soon placed back on the tracks and both trains proceeded. Railroad officials said many of the sleeper occupants were not even awakened.

HEIR TO JAPANESE THRONE IS NAMED

TOKIO, Dec. 29.—(UP)—The infant son of Emperor Hirihito and Empress Nagako, born a week ago, today was given the name of Akihito Tsugu-No-Miya, which freely translated means "Bright and Magnanimous Prince of the Realm."

The emperor chose the name for his first son from the list submitted by the ritualiste just a week after the birth in accordance with the ancient Shinto rites.

As Akihito he will ascend to the imperial throne as the 125th Mikado, continuing unbroken the line established, according to Japanese tradition, by the mythical sun goddess 2,600 years ago.

MRS. SPLIVALO SAYS REPORTS ERRONEOUS

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—(UP)—Reports that Mrs. Rheba Crawford Splivalo, former angel of Broadway, and present state director of public welfare in California, received a four-year contract to preach at Angelus temple, were denied today by Harriet Jordan, Temple secretary.

Miss Jordan said Mrs. Splivalo will continue as temporary pastor when the regular pastor, Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton, is absent.

RECORDS FOR SIXTY YEARS ARE BROKEN

Eastern Seaboard is Hit by New and Sudden Cold Blasts This Morning

DEATH TOLL IS 150

Cold Brings Intense Suffering to Thousands in All Parts of Nation

(By United Press)

COLDEST winter blasts in 60 years suddenly struck the Eastern seaboard today as new snowfall accompanied milder temperatures in the midwest.

East of the Alleghenies temperatures plunged to 60 below zero and set new all-time records for cold in half a dozen cities. The poor and destitute, suffering from a week of blizzards and cold, faced new hardships.

Owl's Head, N. Y., reported an unofficial record of 60 degrees below zero, Lake Edward, Que., had 50 below zero and New Hampshire and Maine points recorded more than 40 below zero. In Connecticut the thermometer showed more than 20 below.

Upper New York state recorded 25 below zero and more in many places. At Boston a low of 17 below zero was registered at 8 a. m., the lowest mark in the 60 years the weather bureau has operated. Fears were expressed for crews of coastwise vessels forced to battle heavy heas in the frigid atmosphere.

PRICE OF HAIRCUTS RAISED IN NORTH

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—(UP)—The 65-cent state barbers' code price for haircuts applies today in the San Francisco trade area, Walter Pierce, barbers' union secretary, explained in seeking to straighten a confusing situation.

Pierce said that the state code permitted 80 per cent of the barbers in any area to set the scale of prices. In the San Francisco area, 85 per cent of the employed barbers decided on the following scale: Shaves, 25 cents; haircuts, 65 cents; ladies' neck trim, 40 cents; and children's haircutting 50 cents.

"These prices will be in full force and effect on and after Friday, Dec. 29, in the San Francisco trade area," Pierce said.

CONFESSED SLAYER IS HELD ON COAST

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—(UP)—A 20-year-old youth who purportedly confessed killing Margaret Peevey, Michigan deaf mute, was held in the county jail here today awaiting return to Grand Rapids to face murder charges.

William McMann was arrested in a local telegraph office last night at the end of a 2000 mile flight from a corn field where the girl's bullet pierced body was found last Saturday night. Police said he readily admitted killing her during a quarrel and then driving around with the body until he summoned enough nerve to dispose of it. He waived extradition.

SECRETARY WOODIN IS BETTER TODAY

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 29.—(UP)—William H. Woodin, secretary of the treasury, confined to the desert sanitarium here, was reported "much improved" in a bulletin issued today by Drs. Jerome Wagner of New York and Paul Holbrook.

The secretary had a restful night and was said to be showing decided signs of improvement. Secretary Woodin has been in a hospital here for more than two weeks following a recurrence of the recent throat ailment which forced him to seek a leave of absence from his duties in Washington.

PRORATION OF ORANGE AND GRAPEFRUIT SHIPMENTS TO TAKE EFFECT ON JANUARY 7

Vitally affecting Orange county citrus growers and shippers, proration of oranges and grapefruit in California and Arizona under the National Marketing Agreement, effective January 7, was decreed today by the new distribution committee as the first step toward national stabilization.

Beginning January 7, the committee must determine the weekly shipments of each variety of oranges and grapefruit grown in California and Arizona. National stabilization can go into effect only when decreed by the national citrus stabilization committees, which are expected to convene in the near future in Washington for that purpose.

The nation was divided into two market areas, the first including the eight southern counties of California south of a line drawn across the southern boundary of Utah through to the coast at San Luis Obispo, including all the Nevada markets except Reno and all of Arizona.

All other marketing areas of continental United States and Canada will be included in the second market area, it was announced.

Proximity of the first area to the production districts necessitated special treatment, it was decided by the committee. The result will be that fruit allocated to the first area cannot be shipped into the second area, and vice versa.

Each shipper will be allotted by the committee on distribution, including individual growers for whom a prorate has been established, the quantity of each variety of oranges and grapefruit which may be sent to market during any proration period.

One of them, a youth believed to be a student, fired four revolver shots into Duca's head.

Duca was 54 years old and was one of the country's outstanding diplomats and politicians. Educated in the universities of Bucharest and Paris, he was a member of parliament since 1907 and became leader of the Liberal party.

He was minister of education in the Bratianu cabinet from 1914 to 1918; minister of agriculture in the coalition cabinet of 1918 and foreign minister in the Bratianu cabinet from 1922 to 1927.

Duca was organizer of the cooperative movement in Roumania.

The assassination occurred at the railroad station at Sinai, where King Carol and the royal family have their country home. Duca was awaiting a train to take him back to Bucharest after conferring with Carol at his Sinai residence.

Duca recently developed a strong pro-French policy which proved unpopular with the German elements of the country.

Just before the elections a few days ago he outlawed the Roumanian Nationalist group and the anti-Semetic league with its iron guard, which has been blamed for many anti-Jewish outrages. For the latter reason, initial suspicion centered on the iron guard, in which many students are enrolled.

TEXAS BABY GOES UNDER KNIFE TODAY

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 29.—(UP)—Dr. Walter R. Dandy, famous surgeon, today performed a delicate operation on the brain of five-months-old Sue Trammel, Houston, Texas, baby who was brought here in a spectacular airplane flight made by Jimmy Weddell.

The operation to drain fluid from the membranes beneath the baby's skull was one of the most delicate known to medical science.

UNLIMITED COINAGE TO BE SOUGHT

WILL RAISE PRICES

Action Contemplated Not in Opposition to Roosevelt Plans, Revealed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(UP)—A powerful senate silver bloc of 26 members was organized today, and immediately adopted a resolution calling for "free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver" at a ratio to be established by law.

A score of senators met with Senator Wheeler, Dem., Mont., author of a 16-to-1 silver coinage bill, and pledged their support to a silver campaign in congress this winter.

Wheeler predicted passage of silver legislation in both house and senate, and said the resolution would be conveyed to President Roosevelt immediately.

Wheeler explained the conferees had not decided upon a definite ratio because they did not know what Mr. Roosevelt might do in reducing the gold content of the dollar.

Sound Policy

"We agreed that we were not in favor of unrestricted inflation," Wheeler said, "and felt that to follow the policy we have decided upon was the soundest and safest way to prevent uncontrolled inflation."

He said it was not the purpose of silver supporters to oppose any action the president already has taken, but to "supplement and carry further his proposals."

WESTERN RAILROADS GET 12 MILLIONS

SAN FRANCCISCO, Dec. 29. —(UP)—Southern Pacific railroad officials today explained that the $12,000,000 alloted the road by the public works administration would be used in track replacement and equipment reconditioning "throughout all the areas served by the line."

The grant was additional to the $22,000,000 allotted the road last spring by the reconstruction finance corporation.

The west coast will receive a "proportionate share" of the new fund.

The road expects to buy and lay 40,000 tons of rail under its improvement program. Additional expenditures will be made for repairing bridges and culverts and recopditioning locomotives and cars.

SAN JOSE CHURCH MEMBERS PROTEST

SAN JOSE, Dec. 29.—(UP)—A petition signed by 1000 church members today demanded that the Santa Clara county grand jury "clean house" among county officials because of the recent lynchings and the conduct of the Lamson and the Templeton slaying trials.

"Petulance, incompetence and preoccupation with re-election rather than fulfillment of duties and an undignified atmosphere in some of our superior courts have long prevailed and have undermined the faith of the people in the orderly process of our courts," the petition alleged.

The conditions complained of were particularly noticeable in the Lamson and Templeton trials "which were allowed to degenerate into disgraceful circuses," the church members claimed.

PRORATION OF ORANGE AND GRAPEFRUIT SHIPMENTS TO TAKE EFFECT ON JANUARY 7

Vitally affecting Orange county citrus growers and shippers, proration of oranges and grapefruit in California and Arizona under the National Marketing Agreement, effective January 7, was decreed today by the new distribution committee as the first step toward national stabilization.

Beginning January 7, the committee must determine the weekly shipments of each variety of oranges and grapefruit grown in California and Arizona. National stabilization can go into effect only when decreed by the national citrus stabilization committees, which are expected to convene in the near future in Washington for that purpose.

The nation was divided into two market areas, the first including the eight southern counties of California south of a line drawn across the southern boundary of Utah through to the coast at San Luis Obispo, including all the Nevada markets except Reno and all of Arizona.

All other marketing areas of continental United States and Canada will be included in the second market area, it was announced.

Proximity of the first area to the production districts necessitated special treatment, it was decided by the committee. The result will be that fruit allocated to the first area cannot be shipped into the second area, and vice versa.

Each shipper will be allotted by the committee on distribution, including individual growers for whom a prorate has been established, the quantity of each variety of oranges and grapefruit which may be sent to market during any proration period.

UNION PACIFIC AND SANTA FE TRAINS CRASH

Mail Clerk Slightly Hurt in Yards at San Bernardino Early Today

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Dec. 29.—(UP)—A locomotive and two cars were derailed when the Santa Fe Chief, east-bound, collided with a section of an east-bound Union Pacific passenger train here early today.

A mail clerk on the Santa Fe train was reported slightly injured.

The Chief was proceeding slowly into the station when it struck a sleeping car and an observation car on the Union Pacific Limited. The two cars were derailed. The Chief's locomotive also left the tracks.

The Chief sideswiped the cars as they were being switched in "cutting off" a dining car. The Chief was moving so slowly, little damage was done, railroad officials reported.

The mail clerk, E. W. Harriet of Los Angeles, was bruised.

Several motion picture notables were aboard the Chief, en route to New York, but none was hurt, railroad officials said. They included Arlene Judge, actress; Wesley Ruggles, director; and Travis Banton, costume designer.

The derailed cars and locomotive were soon placed back on the tracks and both trains proceeded. Railroad officials said many of the sleeper occupants were not even awakened.

HEIR TO JAPANESE THRONE IS NAMED

TOKIO, Dec. 29.—(UP)—The infant son of Emperor Hirihito and Empress Nagako, born a week ago, today was given the name of Akihito Tsugu-No-Miya, which freely translated means "Bright and Magnanimous Prince of the Realm."

The emperor chose the name for his first son from the list submitted by the ritualiste just a week after the birth in accordance with the ancient Shinto rites.

As Akihito he will ascend to the imperial throne as the 125th Mikado, continuing unbroken the line established, according to Japanese tradition, by the mythical sun goddess 2,600 years ago.

MRS. SPLIVALO SAYS REPORTS ERRONEOUS

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—(UP)—Reports that Mrs. Rheba Crawford Splivalo, former angel of Broadway, and present state director of public welfare in California, received a four-year contract to preach at Angelus temple, were denied today by Harriet Jordan, Temple secretary.

Miss Jordan said Mrs. Splivalo will continue as temporary pastor when the regular pastor, Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton, is absent.

RECORDS FOR SIXTY YEARS ARE BROKEN

Eastern Seaboard is Hit by New and Sudden Cold Blasts This Morning

Cold Brings Intense Suffering to Thousands in All Parts of Nation

(By United Press)

COLDEST winter blasts in 60 years suddenly struck the Eastern seaboard today as new snowfall accompanied milder temperatures in the midwest.

East of the Alleghenies temperatures plunged to 60 below zero and set new all-time records for cold in half a dozen cities. The poor and destitute, suffering from a week of blizzards and cold, faced new hardships.

Owl's Head, N. Y., reported an unofficial record of 60 degrees below zero, Lake Edward, Que., had 50 below zero and New Hampshire and Maine points recorded more than 40 below zero. In Connecticut the thermometer showed more than 20 below.

Upper New York state recorded 25 below zero and more in many places. At Boston a low of 17 below zero was registered at 8 a. m., the lowest mark in the 60 years the weather bureau has operated. Fears were expressed for crews of coastwise vessels forced to battle heavy seas in the frigid atmosphere.

PRICE OF HAIRCUTS RAISED IN NORTH

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—(UP)—The 65-cent state barbers' code price for haircuts applies today in the San Francisco trade area, Walter Pierce, barbers' union secretary, explained in seeking to straighten a confusing situation.

Pierce said that the state code permitted 80 per cent of the barbers in any area to set the scale of prices. In the San Francisco area, 85 per cent of the employed barbers decided on the following scale: Shaves, 25 cents; haircuts, 65 cents; ladies' neck trim, 40 cents; and children's haircutting 50 cents.

"These prices will be in full force and effect on and after Friday, Dec. 29, in the San Francisco trade area," Pierce said.

CONFESSED SLAYER IS HELD ON COAST

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—(UP)—A 20-year-old youth who purportedly confessed killing Margaret Peevey, Michigan deaf mute, was held in the county jail here today awaiting return to Grand Rapids to face murder charges.

William McMann was arrested in a local telegraph office last night at the end of a 2000 mile flight from a corn field where the girl's bullet pierced body was found last Saturday night. Police said he readily admitted killing her during a quarrel and then driving around with the body until he summoned enough nerve to dispose of it. He waived extradition.

SECRETARY WOODIN IS BETTER TODAY

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 29.—(UP)—William H. Woodin, secretary of the treasury, confined to the desert sanitarium here, was reported "much improved" in a bulletin issued today by Drs. Jerome Wagner of New York and Paul Holbrook.

The secretary had a restful night and was said to be showing decided signs of improvement. Secretary Woodin has been in a hospital here for more than two weeks following a recurrence of the recent throat ailment which forced him to seek a leave of absence from his duties in Washington.

"Then she pulled a large sled over the child's body," Coyne said, quoting the girl's confession. She said she killed Josephine about 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon while they were on their way home together."

Mary, a precocious child, was said to have been involved in petty crimes previously. She took an interest in the case soon after the body of Josephine was found last Sunday.

Authorities had questioned her intermittently since Sunday. She volunteered information about the victim, but later made contradictory statements. Finally she was held as a material witness.

Coyne said he could prefer a first degree murder charge against the girl and ask the grand jury to indict her, despite her age. He added, however, that he was not certain he would take that step. Mary will be held at a children's shelter pending the final disposition.

The murder of the Waropay girl aroused the quiet village of Hastings-on-Hudson to a degree equal to that caused by the case of Helen Vasko, whose parents objected to a court order that one of the child's eyes should be removed to save her from a fatal infection. The Vasko family lived directly back of the Kavalas and Waropays.

ORANGE PERSONALS

The board of directors of the Orange Lions club will meet January 4 in Burson's cafe at 6:30 p.m.

INTERVENTION IS RULED OUT BY PRESIDENT

ence on world peace, the President outlined the movement for creation of the League of Nations, and pointedly criticized the "so-called statesmen who gathered in Paris to assemble a treaty of so-called peace in 1919."

"Political profit," he asserted, "personal prestige, national aggrandizement attended the birth of the League of Nations, and handicapped it from its infancy by seeking their own profit and their own safety first.

"Nevertheless, through the League directly, or through its guiding motives indirectly, the states of the world have groped forward to find something better than the old way of composing their differences.

At this juncture Mr. Roosevelt declared:

"We are not members and we do not contemplate membership. We are giving co-operation to the league in every matter which is not primarily political and in every matter which obviously represents the views and the good of the people of the world as distinguished from the views and good of political leaders, of privileged classes or of imperialistic aims."

"Throughout all the centuries," he concluded, "and down to the world conflict of 1914 to 1918, wars were made by governments. Woodrow Wilson challenged that necessity. That challenge made the people who create and who change governments think. They wondered with Woodrow Wilson whether the people themselves could not some day prevent governments from making war.

"It is but an extension of the challenge of Woodrow Wilson for us to propose in this newer generation that from now on war by governments shall be changed to peace by people."

SENATE SILVER BLOC PLANS TO PRESS ACTION

Eighteen senators were present at the conference, and Wheeler said he had obtained pledges from eight more to support any action taken.

He said the conferees believed free coinage would raise world commodity prices, promote United States foreign trade and aid all silver using nations.

"It also will prevent the Orient from dumping manufactured goods in this country because of the depreciated value of silver," he added.

"The United States is the largest creditor nation in the world and we can adopt a free coinage policy without running the danger of being flooded with silver from other nations.

Protect Trade

"Other countries will have to follow our course if they would protect their oriental trade and financial fabric"

Views of the silver senators will be taken to the White House by Wheeler and Senator King, Dem., Utah.

Senators present at today's meeting were: Adams, Colo.; Bulow, S. D.; Erickson, Mont.; Caraway, Ark.; Hatch, N. M.; King, Utah; McCarran, Nev.; McGill, Kan.; Thomas, Okla.; Thomas, Utah; Dill, Wash.; Logan, Ky.; Pope, Ida.; and Wheeler, Mont., all Democrats; Borah, Ida.; Frazier, N. D., and Nye, N. D., Republicans, and Shipstead, F-L, Minn.

Wheeler said the following also were in complete accord with the program: Ashurst, Ariz.; Clark, Mo.; Costigan, Colo.; Bone, Wash.; Overton and Long, La.; Smith, S. C.; and Duffy, Wis., all Democrats.

JAYCEE P.-T. A. ENTERS FLOAT IN ROSE PARADE

"Sea God and Jewels of the Sea" is the title given a float to be entered by the Santa Ana Junior College P.-T. A. in the Tournament of Roses Parade at Pasadena on New Year's Day, it was announced today.

The float was designed by Hazel Bemus, art director at the school, while Mrs. Ora K. Heine directed the decoration of the float.

A description of the float was given as follows: "From a sea of green pepper boughs an immense wave breaks over the backs of two sea serpents made of shiny green magnolia leaves, open mouths and long, protruding tongues in red geraniums and poinsettias.

"Farla Nell Clayton, in a silver bathing suit, is the driver. Lying on the wave, with a huge blue statia octopus holding her down, is a mermaid, Lucile Harper, with a long silver tail.

"The float ends in a huge rock on which is seated the sea god, Kenneth Lamb, in silver drapes, with a silver trident. He is attended by two silver-tailed mermaids, Hazel and Helen Harper. About the rocks are sea anemones, star fish and shells of magenta mesembryanthemum, orange trumpet flowers, yellow and white chinese lilies."

A special Santa Fe train will leave Santa Ana for Pasadena at 7:15 a. m. January 1, and will arrive in that city at 9:15 o'clock, for the parade, returning at 1:40 p. m., to arrive back in Santa Ana at 2:55 p. m. If persons go to the football game, they may return on a train which leaves at 5:40 p. m., to arrive here at 7 p. m.

JUNIOR LIONS MEET

Santa Ana Junior college Junior Lions holding a business meeting last night in the home of Jack McFarland, 617 East Walnut street, made further plans for the entertainment of the District 4 council meeting to be held here in James cafe on January 15. John Henderson as chairman reported on arrangements made so far. Among associates members attending were Glenn Smith of Berkeley, Francis Hall, Bob McFarland and Willard Minor.

DENIES GUILT IN DRIVING CHARGE

Karroll LaGrange who was driving the automobile that struck and killed William Mack Ament on the night of December 9 appeared before Superior Judge James L. Allen this morning and pleaded not guilty to a charge of failure to stop and render aid after an accident.

LaGrange's trial was set for January 16 and his bail of $5000 was continued by the court.

Reuben Quezada, who two weeks ago pleaded guilty to grand theft of an automobile and asked for probation, was denied probation this morning and sentenced to San Quentin penitentiary. Quezada was denied probation when a check up of his past record revealed a jail record and the fact that he was, at the time of his arrest, on probation from the Los Angeles court.

Court Notes

Orville Branum, 24, Long Beach oilworker, was booked at the county jail by Chief R. L. Howard of Seal Beach yesterday to serve a five day sentence for malicious injury to real property. Branum had broken into a paint shed on the property of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation while intoxicated, officers said, and gone to sleep.

Frank Palomino and S. F. Hearn, charged with overtime parking, were fined $1 in police court yesterday.

TREASURY ACTS TO SEIZE ALL PRIVATE GOLD

hoarders of more than $100 were subject to a maximum penalty of $10,000 and 10 years imprisonment.

He did not know whether holders of less than $100 would suffer any penalty beyond a fine or double the gold held.

Morgenthau said he believed that "several million" dollars in gold would be recovered as a result of the new order.

He said the gold order had no connection with the administration's gold buying program which is designed to boost commodity prices by a successive depression in the value of the dollar.

No Exemption

Heretofore, holders of gold or gold money have been granted an exemption of $100 in their gold holdings.

The only exemptions under the new treasury order were gold held under license; rare coins, not including $2.50 gold pieces; unmelted scrap of not more than $100 or in the process of fabrication for industrial, professional or ornamental use; that now held by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or a federal reserve bank, and gold held in various United States possessions owned by persons not domiciled or doing business in the continental United States.

At present the United States holds more than a third of the world's monetary stock of gold of $12,000,000,000.

60 BELOW ZERO REPORTED OVER EAST SEABOARD

Amid a new fall of light snow, Lake Michigan again was the scene of thrilling battles between men and the winter elements. Two airmail pilots were rescued by coast guardsmen near Escanaba, Mich., after drifting for hours when forced down on the lake.

Other guardsmen rescued the crew of the fishing schooner, Seagull, after a 24-hour fight to keep the tiny craft afloat in the ice-filled lake.

The cold brought intense suffering to thousands who had insufficient clothing or fuel to keep warm. Deaths from exposure and accidents directly attributed to the weather totaled more than 150 since the storm began Christmas day.

Lake Michigan was the scene of tragic shipping disasters and thrilling rescues during the week. Eight men were drowned when fishing tugs foundered early in the week. Another tug was driven ashore and pounded to pieces.

Chicago coast guard headquarters rescued three members of the crew of the 38-foot fishing schooner Seagull after it had been battered by ice and almost sunk a few miles from port. The crew fought for 24 hours to keep the boat afloat.

Near Grand Haven, Mich., the coast guard cutter Escanaba rescued two airmail pilots who had been drifting helplessly for eight hours after being forced to land on the lake. The plane was being towed into port by the captain of the cutter, who reported the flyers "uncomfortable but unharmed."

JAYCEE P.-T. A. ENTERS FLOAT IN ROSE PARADE

"Sea God and Jewels of the Sea" is the title given a float to be entered by the Santa Ana Junior College P.-T. A. in the Tournament of Roses Parade at Pasadena on New Year's Day, it was announced today.

The float was designed by Hazel Bemus, art director at the school, while Mrs. Ora K. Heine directed the decoration of the float.

A description of the float was given as follows: "From a sea of green pepper boughs an immense wave breaks over the backs of two sea serpents made of shiny green magnolia leaves, open mouths and long, protruding tongues in red geraniums and poinsettias.

"Farla Nell Clayton, in a silver bathing suit, is the driver. Lying on the wave, with a huge blue statia octopus holding her down, is a mermaid, Lucile Harper, with a long silver tail.

"The float ends in a huge rock on which is seated the sea god, Kenneth Lamb, in silver drapes, with a silver trident. He is attended by two silver-tailed mermaids, Hazel and Helen Harper. About the rocks are sea anemones, star fish and shells of magenta mesembryanthemum, orange trumpet flowers, yellow and white chinese lilies."

A special Santa Fe train will leave Santa Ana for Pasadena at 7:15 a. m. January 1, and will arrive in that city at 9:15 o'clock, for the parade, returning at 1:40 p. m., to arrive back in Santa Ana at 2:55 p. m. If persons go to the football game, they may return on a train which leaves at 5:40 p. m., to arrive here at 7 p. m.

JUNIOR LIONS MEET

Santa Ana Junior college Junior Lions holding a business meeting last night in the home of Jack McFarland, 617 East Walnut street, made further plans for the entertainment of the District 4 council meeting to be held here in James cafe on January 15. John Henderson as chairman reported on arrangements made so far. Among associates members attending were Glenn Smith of Berkeley, Francis Hall, Bob McFarland and Willard Minor.

DENIES GUILT IN DRIVING CHARGE

Karroll LaGrange who was driving the automobile that struck and killed William Mack Ament on the night of December 9 appeared before Superior Judge James L. Allen this morning and pleaded not guilty to a charge of failure to stop and render aid after an accident.

LaGrange's trial was set for January 16 and his bail of $5000 was continued by the court.

Reuben Quezada, who two weeks ago pleaded guilty to grand theft of an automobile and asked for probation, was denied probation this morning and sentenced to San Quentin penitentiary. Quezada was denied probation when a check up of his past record revealed a jail record and the fact that he was, at the time of his arrest, on probation from the Los Angeles court.

Court Notes

Orville Branum, 24, Long Beach oilworker, was booked at the county jail by Chief R. L. Howard of Seal Beach yesterday to serve a five day sentence for malicious injury to real property. Branum had broken into a paint shed on the property of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation while intoxicated, officers said, and gone to sleep.

Frank Palomino and S. F. Hearn, charged with overtime parking, were fined $1 in police court yesterday.

TREASURY ACTS TO SEIZE ALL PRIVATE GOLD

hoarders of more than $100 were subject to a maximum penalty of $10,000 and 10 years imprisonment.

He did not know whether holders of less than $100 would suffer any penalty beyond a fine or double the gold held.

Morgenthau said he believed that "several million" dollars in gold would be recovered as a result of the new order.

He said the gold order had no connection with the administration's gold buying program which is designed to boost commodity prices by a successive depression in the value of the dollar.

No Exemption

Heretofore, holders of gold or gold money have been granted an exemption of $100 in their gold holdings.

The only exemptions under the new treasury order were gold held under license; rare coins, not including $2.50 gold pieces; unmelted scrap of not more than $100 or in the process of fabrication for industrial, professional or ornamental use; that now held by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or a federal reserve bank, and gold held in various United States possessions owned by persons not domiciled or doing business in the continental United States.

At present the United States holds more than a third of the world's monetary stock of gold of $12,000,000,000.

Amid a new fall of light snow, Lake Michigan again was the scene of thrilling battles between men and the winter elements. Two airmail pilots were rescued by coast guardsmen near Escanaba, Mich., after drifting for hours when forced down on the lake.

Other guardsmen rescued the crew of the fishing schooner, Seagull, after a 24-hour fight to keep the tiny craft afloat in the ice-filled lake.

The cold brought intense suffering to thousands who had insufficient clothing or fuel to keep warm. Deaths from exposure and accidents directly attributed to the weather totaled more than 150 since the storm began Christmas day.

Lake Michigan was the scene of tragic shipping disasters and thrilling rescues during the week. Eight men were drowned when fishing tugs foundered early in the week. Another tug was driven ashore and pounded to pieces.

Chicago coast guard headquarters rescued three members of the crew of the 38-foot fishing schooner Seagull after it had been battered by ice and almost sunk a few miles from port. The crew fought for 24 hours to keep the boat afloat.

Near Grand Haven, Mich., the coast guard cutter Escanaba rescued two airmail pilots who had been drifting helplessly for eight hours after being forced to land on the lake. The plane was being towed into port by the captain of the cutter, who reported the flyers "uncomfortable but unharmed."

THE
OF NEW YORK

is pleased to announce that in collaboration with the proprietors of LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes, it has been enabled to utilize the complete facilities of both the Red and the Blue networks of the National Broadcasting Company, to the end that on Saturday, December 30, and every Saturday thereafter, from two o'clock, Eastern Standard time, and until such time as each Opera is finished—the complete Operas presented at the Metropolitan Opera House will be broadcast. We know that the public will be glad to avail themselves of these unique opportunities. They mean that Opera in its best form is brought to every home in the United States. We feel that this is a great step forward in the development of fine music in this country, and that it will be of great interest and a source of pleasure to the entire American public.

BROKER SEEKS COMMISSION ON PROPERTY DEAL

Judgment for $13,000 allegedly due him on a real estate trade that was cancelled through failure of one of the principals to live up to the terms of the deal, is sought in a suit filed this morning in superior court by C. G. Dowds, Santa Ana real estate operator. The action names as defendants William W. Armstrong and Mrs. Blanche Armstrong.

According to his complaint on May 13, last, the Armstrong's gave him a 33-day option for the purchase of their ranch on Prospect avenue, Tustin, and the 1933 fruit crop. According to the agreement the Armstrongs were to receive $65,000 for the property and would not pay Dowds a commission.

On the same day, the complaint alleges, Dowds named Cood Adams and his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Adams, as his nominees to purchase the property. Adams was to pay, in addition to the $65,000 stipulated in the option $3000 additional cash and trade in property at Balboa valued at $10,000. The value of the Armstrong property, Dowds said, is $78,000. The $3000 cash and the beach property were to be turned over to Dowds.

In the agreement of exchange which was accepted by the Armstrongs, according to Dowds' complaint, the Tustin property was to be turned over to Adams free of encumbrance. After making the agreement Dowds alleges, the Armstrongs placed a $6500 crop mortgage on the property and declined to remove the encumbrance.

Because of the refusal to deliver a clear title to the property Adams, on August 2, last served notice on Dowds that he had rescinded the agreement for exchange. On the following day Armstrong served him with a notice terminating the offer and agreement of exchange.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY REVOLVER CLUB

Myron A. Warner was president of the Santiago Rifle and Revolver club today following the annual meeting held at the offices of Dr. Roy S. Horton.

A. Green was elected vice president; James S. Sweet, secretary-treasurer and E. B. Workman, range officer. Directors are Dr. Roy S. Horton and Dr. Harvey A. Stryker, in addition to the first three officers named.

At the meeting the club created a junior class of membership, open to young men under 21 years of age. Dr. Horton was named Junior Range officer.

It was announced that at the annual qualification shoot this year, 30 members qualified for medals, 22 qualifying as expert riflemen, four as sharpshooter and four as marksmen. The annual match was won by Dr. Stryker.

The club is affiliated with the National Rifle association. Shoots are held monthly at the Santiago Rifle range on the Irvine ranch near Irvine Park.

SPEEDER ARRESTED ON DRUNK CHARGE

Arrested for drunken driving after being chased by an officer for speeding, Gisaburo Shiomi, 34, Corona Del Mar, was booked at the jail last evening by California Highway Patrolman George Peterkin.

According to reports, Shiomi crossed an intersection near Newport Beach at a high rate of speed. When Peterkin started to pursue him, the Japanese drove up to his home and ran in the house. Peterkin made the arrest and finding his prisoner intoxicated, changed the offense to driving while intoxicated.

Judge Kenneth Morrison set bail at $500, which had not been posted this morning.

LEGIONNAIRES RECALL HISTORY OF S. A. POST

Hilarious and serious retrospection regarding historical facts concerning Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion, featured the annual past commanders night meeting last night in Getty Hall, when past commanders of the post were honored.

Of the 15 past commanders of the post who have served since the post was organized right after the World War, but two were absent last night. These were Dr. John Wehrly, first commander of the post, and Maurice Enderle, third commander.

Past commanders present at the session were Col. M. B. Wellington, Franklin Grouard, Ed. T. McFadden, Wilbur Getty, G. K. Scovel, Jules Markel, Charles Van Wyk, Franklin West, Otto Jacobs, Hunter Leach, William H. Penn, Rodney Bacon and Judge J. B. Tucker, Otto Jacobs acted as master of ceremonies aided by Franklin West. The meeting was opened by Charles Swanner, present commander.

Members and guests had considerable fun listening to humorous incidents of the past as each commander reviewed the activities of the post under his predecessor. History of the post unfolded as the past commanders outlined activities of the post since its inception.

Tribute for the work of the four adjutants of the post who have served was paid by several speakers. These adjutants were Clyde C. Whitney, now of San Bernardino, who sent regrets at not being able to attend the meeting, Elmer Schaniel, Ed Kolbe and Art Eklund, present adjutant.

Entertainment was furnished by Walter Cheif, who presented vocal solos, accompanying himself on the guitar. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

Local Briefs

A thief who broke into a weighing machine at the Orange Motor Transit depot last night secured approximately $1.50 in pennies, according to a report to Orange police. Chief B. F. Richards and Officer Homer Davis are investigating.

* * *

Florence L. Davis, 18, of Santa Ana, and Charles B. Branson, 21, of Irvine, and Leo H. Ott, 26, and Mary Troutman, 21, both of Anaheim, have filed notices of intention to wed in Riverside.

REPORT FOUR THEFT CASES TO POLICE

Four theft cases were reported to police yesterday with loot ranging from chickens to rare coins.

The same thieves are believed to have stolen chickens from A. W. McMullen, 1848 West Seventeenth street and O. T. Smith, 1722 West Seventeenth, on Wednesday night, since similar tire marks and tracks were found at both places. McMullen lost 11 chickens while one hen was left dead with its throat cut. Smith had five hens taken, valued at $7.50.

Mrs. Ernest L. Wade, 805 South Garnsey street, reported articles valued at $10 were stolen from her clotheslines Wednesday evening. The articles taken included four pillow cases, one red woolen dress, two green bath rugs, three bath towels and 12 tea towels.

Robert R. Biles, 1050 Highland aenue, reported to police that a $5 bill, fountain pen, string of crystal beads and 50-cent piece, dated in 1856, were taken from his home on December 22.

WINDOW DISPLAY WINNER ANNOUNCED

A special committee appointed by the Santa Ana Merchants association to judge the most attractive show window in the city during the holiday season today announced the selection of Rutherford's on North Main street as winner.

Judging was based on the most attractive window and display of Christmas gifts, most aptly typifying the holiday spirit.

First place for the store with the most attractive interior was given to Swanberger's on Fourth street, but because Walter Swanberger, proprietor, is president of the Merchants association, he refused the honor and asked the judges to name another store.

Judging committee was comprised of Francis Houseman, Pomona; Carl Hanson, Pasadena; James Smith, Long Beach, and William C. Edwards, of Riverside.

WORKING AT ONTARIO

Road crews are at work on Archibald avenue in Ontario, for about two miles, reports the touring department of the National Automobile club. Work is being done on curbs and gutters at present. The road is to be widened.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT

You cannot forsee what will happen to you but you can choose whether it shall bring you closer to God or drive you away from Him. The closer you come to Him the nearer you are to the one you love best.

God will reveal Himself as close beside you as you seek to do that which is pleasing unto Him. Trust His love for you and learn to love Him more and more.

(Funeral Ntoice)

HOWE—Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. for George Wakefield Howe, 59, at the family home at 560 North Glassell street, Orange, under the direction of the C. W. BROKER SEEKS COMMISSION ON PROPERTY DEAL

Judgment for $13,000 allegedly due him on a real estate trade that was cancelled through failure of one of the principals to live up to the terms of the deal, is sought in a suit filed this morning in superior court by C. G. Dowds, Santa Ana real estate operator. The action names as defendants William W. Armstrong and Mrs. Blanche Armstrong.

According to his complaint on May 13, last, the Armstrong's gave him a 33-day option for the purchase of their ranch on Prospect avenue, Tustin, and the 1933 fruit crop. According to the agreement the Armstrongs were to receive $65,000 for the property and would not pay Dowds a commission.

On the same day, the complaint alleges, Dowds named Cood Adams and his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Adams, as his nominees to purchase the property. Adams was to pay, in addition to the $65,000 stipulated in the option $3000 additional cash and trade in property at Balboa valued at $10,000. The value of the Armstrong property, Dowds said, is $78,000. The $3000 cash and the beach property were to be turned over to Dowds.

In the agreement of exchange which was accepted by the Armstrongs, according to Dowds' complaint, the Tustin property was to be turned over to Adams free of encumbrance. After making the agreement Dowds alleges, the Armstrongs placed a $6500 crop mortgage on the property and declined to remove the encumbrance.

Because of the refusal to deliver a clear title to the property Adams, on August 2, last served notice on Dowds that he had rescinded the agreement for exchange. On the following day Armstrong served him with a notice terminating the offer and agreement of exchange.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY REVOLVER CLUB

Myron A. Warner was president of the Santiago Rifle and Revolver club today following the annual meeting held at the offices of Dr. Roy S. Horton.

A. Green was elected vice president; James S. Sweet, secretary-treasurer and E. B. Workman, range officer. Directors are Dr. Roy S. Horton and Dr. Harvey A. Stryker, in addition to the first three officers named.

At the meeting the club created a junior class of membership, open to young men under 21 years of age. Dr. Horton was named Junior Range officer.

It was announced that at the annual qualification shoot this year, 30 members qualified for medals, 22 qualifying as expert riflemen, four as sharpshooter and four as marksmen. The annual match was won by Dr. Stryker.

The club is affiliated with the National Rifle association. Shoots are held monthly at the Santiago Rifle range on the Irvine ranch near Irvine Park.

SPEEDER ARRESTED ON DRUNK CHARGE

Arrested for drunken driving after being chased by an officer for speeding, Gisaburo Shiomi, 34, Corona Del Mar, was booked at the jail last evening by California Highway Patrolman George Peterkin.

According to reports, Shiomi crossed an intersection near Newport Beach at a high rate of speed. When Peterkin started to pursue him, the Japanese drove up to his home and ran in the house. Peterkin made the arrest and finding his prisoner intoxicated, changed the offense to driving while intoxicated.

Judge Kenneth Morrison set bail at $500, which had not been posted this morning.

LEGIONNAIRES RECALL HISTORY OF S. A. POST

Hilarious and serious retrospection regarding historical facts concerning Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion, featured the annual past commanders night meeting last night in Getty Hall, when past commanders of the post were honored.

Of the 15 past commanders of the post who have served since the post was organized right after the World War, but two were absent last night. These were Dr. John Wehrly, first commander of the post, and Maurice Enderle, third commander.

Past commanders present at the session were Col. M. B. Wellington, Franklin Grouard, Ed. T. McFadden, Wilbur Getty, G. K. Scovel, Jules Markel, Charles Van Wyk, Franklin West, Otto Jacobs, Hunter Leach, William H. Penn, Rodney Bacon and Judge J. B. Tucker, Otto Jacobs acted as master of ceremonies aided by Franklin West. The meeting was opened by Charles Swanner, present commander.

Members and guests had considerable fun listening to humorous incidents of the past as each commander reviewed the activities of the post under his predecessor. History of the post unfolded as the past commanders outlined activities of the post since its inception.

Tribute for the work of the four adjutants of the post who have served was paid by several speakers. These adjutants were Clyde C. Whitney, now of San Bernardino, who sent regrets at not being able to attend the meeting, Elmer Schaniel, Ed Kolbe and Art Eklund, present adjutant.

Entertainment was furnished by Walter Cheif, who presented vocal solos, accompanying himself on the guitar. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

Local Briefs

A thief who broke into a weighing machine at the Orange Motor Transit depot last night secured approximately $1.50 in pennies, according to a report to Orange police. Chief B. F. Richards and Officer Homer Davis are investigating.

* * *

Florence L. Davis, 18, of Santa Ana, and Charles B. Branson, 21, of Irvine, and Leo H. Ott, 26, and Mary Troutman, 21, both of Anaheim, have filed notices of intention to wed in Riverside.

REPORT FOUR THEFT CASES TO POLICE

Four theft cases were reported to police yesterday with loot ranging from chickens to rare coins.

The same thieves are believed to have stolen chickens from A. W. McMullen, 1848 West Seventeenth street and O. T. Smith, 1722 West Seventeenth, on Wednesday night, since similar tire marks and tracks were found at both places. McMullen lost 11 chickens while one hen was left dead with its throat cut. Smith had five hens taken, valued at $7.50.

Mrs. Ernest L. Wade, 805 South Garnsey street, reported articles valued at $10 were stolen from her clotheslines Wednesday evening. The articles taken included four pillow cases, one red woolen dress, two green bath rugs, three bath towels and 12 tea towels.

Robert R. Biles, 1050 Highland aenue, reported to police that a $5 bill, fountain pen, string of crystal beads and 50-cent piece, dated in 1856, were taken from his home on December 22.

WINDOW DISPLAY WINNER ANNOUNCED

A special committee appointed by the Santa Ana Merchants association to judge the most attractive show window in the city during the holiday season today announced the selection of Rutherford's on North Main street as winner.

Judging was based on the most attractive window and display of Christmas gifts, most aptly typifying the holiday spirit.

First place for the store with the most attractive interior was given to Swanberger's on Fourth street, but because Walter Swanberger, proprietor, is president of the Merchants association, he refused the honor and asked the judges to name another store.

Judging committee was comprised of Francis Houseman, Pomona; Carl Hanson, Pasadena; James Smith, Long Beach, and William C. Edwards, of Riverside.

WORKING AT ONTARIO

Road crews are at work on Archibald avenue in Ontario, for about two miles, reports the touring department of the National Automobile club. Work is being done on curbs and gutters at present. The road is to be widened.

CWA PROGRAM, FEDERAL LOANS BEFORE LEAGUE

Councilman A. C. Hasenjaeger of Santa Ana was unanimously elected president, a new constitution and by-laws were approved, county welfare officials explained new phases of the CWA program, and State Real Estate Commissioner Joseph Smith of Santa Ana gave a short talk as features of the December meeting of the Orange County League of Municipalities, held last night in Fullerton at McFarland's cafe, with nearly 70 city officials present.

Hasenjaeger will succeed Leo Sheridan, Anaheim councilman, as head of the county league. He was nominated by Mayor Clyde Watson of Orange, seconded by Mayor L. A. Hogue of Brea and swept into office without opposition. The Santa Ana official, on the city board of trustees since 1931, has taken an active part in League affairs since the group was organized about a year ago. With his election, he joined Mayor Paul Witmer on the board of directors, since Witmer was recently named representative of the county group of the board of directors of the California League of Municipalities.

Hasenjaeger, following his election, said, "At this time, more than ever, it is necessary that the cities of Orange county stand together and present a united front in the many battles to be fought. The County League of Municipalities, now only a year old has helped much to unite and cement the ties of all the cities in the county. I am hopeful and confident that at the end of the coming year, we shall again be able to point with pride to the outstanding and worthwhile accomplishments of the County League, for the benefit of the taxpayers of the cities.

Other officers named were Mayor L. A. Hogue of Brea, vice-president and Albert Launer of Fullerton, reelected secretary. Conforming to a provision of the new constitution adopted before the election, each city will choose a member for the executive committee before the next meeting of the league, which will be held in Tustin on Thursday, January 25.

Welfare Work

Byron Curry, county welfare director, spoke at length regarding CWA and work relief projects and outlined the benefits and problems arising from recent developments in the program. He stressed the importance of having quotas of men raised and urged the league to send telegrams to state officials. At the close of his talk, Secretary Albert Launer was appointed a committee to confer with Curry and Robert Ramsey, new CWA director, to draft resolutions to send to San Francisco and Washington D. C. officials, showing the need here and in Southern California for a new allocation of funds and men.

"The best indication of the value of the CWA," Curry said, "is the fact that 1600 families, representing nearly 5000 persons, have been removed from the direct relief rolls of the county. The direct relief load is still increasing but the drop was a big help in the face of dwindling funds."

Ramsey also stressed the need for more quotas and said that registration will continue at the federal re-employment agency. He pointed out that the CWA does not select the workers but merely asks the federal office for a certain number of men for any job. He said that the federal government would soon be giving out actual food and supplies in addition to the relief given in the past.

Cal Ewing and William Hay, newly-appointed members of the county CWA committee, spoke briefly and urged the support of cities in securing allocations and funds for projects.

Smith, real estate commissioner for the past three years, congratulated the county on its fight against crime through the adoption of the police radio, emphasized how the courts are handicapped in speedy justice and outlined his recent travels through Mexico and the United States.

Farm Loan Response

Secretary Albert Launer read the reply from the Farm Credit Administration in Washington regarding a resolution sent recently, urging speed in granting farm loans in this county. The acting governor pointed out that the main problem has been due to the fact that the federal land bank office has been in Berkeley and that there has been insufficient consideration of sectional differences. He said there is a plan to organize a branch in Los Angeles to more adequately care for southern needs.

Mayor Hermann Hilmer of Newport Beach expressed the thanks of the coast districts in passing the harbor bonds and said that the rest of the county could depend on the coast for united support on matters of water conservation and other projects.

On the motion of Councilman Hasenjaeger, a member of the state board of equalization will be asked to attend the next meeting of the league to explain the position of cities in the collection of revenue from the sale and licensing of liquor. Fred Baughan, secretary of the Los Angeles League, explained that his group had forwarded resolutions to the California league and the board of equalization, urging that cities be given the task of investigating applicants for licenses. This would reduce the expense of state inspectors, give more efficient service beause of the statistics and information already possessed by cities, and make it possible for the towns to receive their 60 per cent of the taxes, as set forth in the state law.

No action was taken on the proposed uniform handbill ordinance, although the various cities were asked to send in sentiment and suggestions to Secretary Launer. Most of the cities now have some legislation and only need uniform action, Launer said.

Ted Corcoran of Fullerton, program chairman, presented Benjamin Edwards, director of music at the Fullerton Junior college, who sang two solos.

NEW PRESIDENT

Councilman A. C. Hasenjaeger of Santa Ana, below, was elected president of the Orange County League of Municipalities at the monthly meeting held in Fullerton last night.

TALBERT

TALBERT, December 29. — Mr. and Mrs. Albert Farnsworth were hosts to relatives Sunday. A luncheon was served by Mrs. Farnsworth, a decorated holiday cake being one feature of the luncheon which was served at a daintily appointed table. Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Talbert and Mrs. M. L. Thurman motored to Buena Park, Monday, to visit relatives and friends.

REQUEST COURT WRIT ORDERING PROPERTY SALE

William I. Gibbs has filed in superior court a petition for a writ of mandate ordering the Orange County Title company to sell certain Laguna Beach property as trustee under a trust deed on the date to which the sale has been continued. Gibbs alleged that the title company declines to sell the property and continually postpones the sale date. Superior Judge H. G. Ames issued a writ ordering the title company to either sell the property or appear in court January 5 to show cause why the sale was not made.

Gibbs alleges that on December 31, 1927, the Yoch company borrowed $14,000 from him and secured the loan through a trust deed to three lots and portion of another at Laguna Beach. The amount of the loan was to fall due December 31, 1930. The note later was declared defaulted and the title company as trustee under the trust deed ordered to sell the property. The sale was advertised for September 5, last, and on August 6 the Yoch company filed suit against Gibbs and the title company seeking to have them enjoined from declaring the note in default prior to February 11, 1935, and restrained from selling the property until that time.

On September 1, the court issued a preliminary injunction restraining sale of the property until after the suit had been heard. The case went to trial October 4 and on October 19 a defense motion for non-suit was granted. Yoch's motion for a new trial was denied December 9 and on December 18 the plaintiffs served notice of appeal.

According to the complaint the title company has declined to sell the property and continually postpones the date. The date now set for the sale is said to be January 4.

California Moves Forward!

A billion-dollar development program—that is the inspiring story of California which will be presented in the Los Angeles Times' Annual Midwinter Number. A billion dollars transformed into gigantic projects, three of which are the largest undertakings of their kind in the world's history.

This epic of progress will be accompanied with a full illustrated account of present-day Southern California—its resources, manufacturing, agriculture, commerce, sports, pastimes, and all the colorful aspects of local life.

One magazine will be devoted to the great motion-picture industry showing actual studio scenes of important forthcoming feature pictures.

For the benefit of eastern readers who have friends in Southern California, brief descriptions will be given of more than 200 Southland cities, towns and communities—a feature that will be kept on hand as an up-to-the-minute reference guide to Southern California.

Special Tournament of Roses Section

CWA PROGRAM, FEDERAL LOANS BEFORE LEAGUE

Councilman A. C. Hasenjaeger of Santa Ana was unanimously elected president, a new constitution and by-laws were approved, county welfare officials explained new phases of the CWA program, and State Real Estate Commissioner Joseph Smith of Santa Ana gave a short talk as features of the December meeting of the Orange County League of Municipalities, held last night in Fullerton at McFarland's cafe, with nearly 70 city officials present.

Hasenjaeger will succeed Leo Sheridan, Anaheim councilman, as head of the county league. He was nominated by Mayor Clyde Watson of Orange, seconded by Mayor L. A. Hogue of Brea and swept into office without opposition. The Santa Ana official, on the city board of trustees since 1931, has taken an active part in League affairs since the group was organized about a year ago. With his election, he joined Mayor Paul Witmer on the board of directors, since Witmer was recently named representative of the county group of the board of directors of the California League of Municipalities.

Hasenjaeger, following his election, said, "At this time, more than ever, it is necessary that the cities of Orange county stand together and present a united front in the many battles to be fought. The County League of Municipalities, now only a year old has helped much to unite and cement the ties of all the cities in the county. I am hopeful and confident that at the end of the coming year, we shall again be able to point with pride to the outstanding and worthwhile accomplishments of the County League, for the benefit of the taxpayers of the cities.

Other officers named were Mayor L. A. Hogue of Brea, vice-president and Albert Launer of Fullerton, reelected secretary. Conforming to a provision of the new constitution adopted before the election, each city will choose a member for the executive committee before the next meeting of the league, which will be held in Tustin on Thursday, January 25.

Welfare Work

Byron Curry, county welfare director, spoke at length regarding CWA and work relief projects and outlined the benefits and problems arising from recent developments in the program. He stressed the importance of having quotas of men raised and urged the league to send telegrams to state officials. At the close of his talk, Secretary Albert Launer was appointed a committee to confer with Curry and Robert Ramsey, new CWA director, to draft resolutions to send to San Francisco and Washington D. C. officials, showing the need here and in Southern California for a new allocation of funds and men.

"The best indication of the value of the CWA," Curry said, "is the fact that 1600 families, representing nearly 5000 persons, have been removed from the direct relief rolls of the county. The direct relief load is still increasing but the drop was a big help in the face of dwindling funds."

Ramsey also stressed the need for more quotas and said that registration will continue at the federal re-employment agency. He pointed out that the CWA does not select the workers but merely asks the federal office for a certain number of men for any job. He said that the federal government would soon be giving out actual food and supplies in addition to the relief given in the past.

Cal Ewing and William Hay, newly-appointed members of the county CWA committee, spoke briefly and urged the support of cities in securing allocations and funds for projects.

Smith, real estate commissioner for the past three years, congratulated the county on its fight against crime through the adoption of the police radio, emphasized how the courts are handicapped in speedy justice and outlined his recent travels through Mexico and the United States.

Farm Loan Response

Secretary Albert Launer read the reply from the Farm Credit Administration in Washington regarding a resolution sent recently, urging speed in granting farm loans in this county. The acting governor pointed out that the main problem has been due to the fact that the federal land bank office has been in Berkeley and that there has been insufficient consideration of sectional differences. He said there is a plan to organize a branch in Los Angeles to more adequately care for southern needs.

Mayor Hermann Hilmer of Newport Beach expressed the thanks of the coast districts in passing the harbor bonds and said that the rest of the county could depend on the coast for united support on matters of water conservation and other projects.

On the motion of Councilman Hasenjaeger, a member of the state board of equalization will be asked to attend the next meeting of the league to explain the position of cities in the collection of revenue from the sale and licensing of liquor. Fred Baughan, secretary of the Los Angeles League, explained that his group had forwarded resolutions to the California league and the board of equalization, urging that cities be given the task of investigating applicants for licenses. This would reduce the expense of state inspectors, give more efficient service bcause of the statistics and information already possessed by cities, and make it possible for the towns to receive their 60 per cent of the taxes, as set forth in the state law.

No action was taken on the proposed uniform handbill ordinance, although the various cities were asked to send in sentiment and suggestions to Secretary Launer. Most of the cities now have some legislation and only need uniform action, Launer said.

Ted Corcoran of Fullerton, program chairman, presented Benjamin Edwards, director of music at the Fullerton Junior college, who sang two solos.

NEW PRESIDENT

Councilman A. C. Hasenjaeger of Santa Ana, below, was elected president of the Orange County League of Municipalities at the monthly meeting held in Fullerton last night.

TALBERT, December 29. — Mr. and Mrs. Albert Farnsworth were hosts to relatives Sunday. A luncheon was served by Mrs. Farnsworth, a decorated holiday cake being one feature of the luncheon which was served at a daintily appointed table. In the family group were Mr. Farnsworth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Farnsworth, and family, of Tustin; an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lawrence and family, of Westminster, and the hosts and their small daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Talbert and Mrs. M. L. Thurman motored to Buena Park, Monday, to visit relatives and friends.

REQUEST COURT WRIT ORDERING PROPERTY SALE

William I. Gibbs has filed in superior court a petition for a writ of mandate ordering the Orange County Title company to sell certain Laguna Beach property as trustee under a trust deed on the date to which the sale has been continued. Gibbs alleged that the title company declines to sell the property and continually postpones the sale date. Superior Judge H. G. Amos issued a writ ordering the title company to either sell the property or appear in court January 5 to show cause why the sale was not made.

Gibbs alleges that on December 31, 1927, the Yoch company borrowed $14,000 from him and secured the loan through a trust deed to three lots and portion of another at Laguna Beach. The amount of the loan was to fall due December 31, 1930. The note later was declared defaulted and the title company as trustee under the trust deed ordered to sell the property. The sale was advertised for September 5, last, and on August 6 the Yoch company filed suit against Gibbs and the title company seeking to have them enjoined from declaring the note in default prior to February 11, 1935, and restrained from selling the property until that time.

On September 1, the court issued a preliminary injunction restraining sale of the property until after the suit had been heard. The case went to trial October 4 and on October 19 a defense motion for non-suit was granted. Yoch's motion for a new trial was denied December 9 and on December 18 the plaintiffs served notice of appeal.

According to the complaint the title company has declined to sell the property and continually postpones the date. The date now set for the sale is said to be January 4.

California Moves Forward!

A billion-dollar development program—that is the inspiring story of California which will be presented in the Los Angeles Times' Annual Midwinter Number. A billion dollars transformed into gigantic projects, three of which are the largest undertakings of their kind in the world's history.

This epic of progress will be accompanied with a full illustrated account of present-day Southern California—its resources, manufacturing, agriculture, commerce, sports, pastimes, and all the colorful aspects of local life.

One magazine will be devoted to the great motion-picture industry showing actual studio scenes of important forthcoming feature pictures.

For the benefit of eastern readers who have friends in Southern California, brief descriptions will be given of more than 200 Southland cities, towns and communities—a feature that will be kept on hand as an up-to-the-minute reference guide to Southern California.

Special Tournament of Roses Section

ORGANIZATION PLANNED FOR LEGION SONS

A movement to organize the Sons of the American Legion Squadron of Santa Ana Post No. 131, which will be similar to Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, was launched here today by W. Hunter Leach, past commander of the post who was appointed chairman of the organization committee by Commander Charles Swanner.

Organization of the local unit is part of a nation-wide movement, Leach said. All male descendants, adopted sons and stepsons of members of the American Legion and such descendants of male and female veterans who died in service in the World War or who died subsequent to honorable discharge from such service, shall be eligible for membership in the Sons of the American Legion.

Leach requested that parents of sons eligible for membership bring them, with their discharge papers, to the constable's office in the courthouse on January 3, 4, 5 and 6 from 6:30 to 9 p. m. to receive applications on those nights.

If it is impossible to come at the time specified, to make application for membership, application forms may be obtained at the constable's office between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. up to and including January 14. The charter will be forwarded the day following to national headquarters at Indianapolis, Indiana.

plans are under way, Leach said, to hold a public charter presentation after applicants are signed up. There is no charge for enrollment.

Nature of the Sons of the American Legion organization is set out in the constitution, which says: "The Sons of the American Legion is a civilian organization. Membership therein does not affect nor increase liability for military or police service. It shall be absolutely non-political and shall not be used for the dissemination of partisan principles nor for the promotion of the candidacy of any person seeking public office or preferment. No candidate for or incumbent of a remunerative elective public office shall hold any office in the organization. It shall be absolutely non-sectarian. Each member shall perform his full duty as a citizen to his own conscience and understanding. The Sons of the American Legion shall be organized in detachments and these, in turn, in squadrons. There shall be one detachment in each state."

MASONS HOLD INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS

Colorful ceremonies and a program of entertainment featured installation of officers of Jubilee Lodge No. 604, F. & A. M., last night in the Masonic Temple when John Kahler was installed as worshipful master.

The Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, minister of the First Christian church, was the speaker of the evening. He gave an inspiring talk on the subject, "Forward."

Installation ceremonies were interspersed with a program of entertainment, including novelty numbers by the Clover Leaf quartet, accompanied by Esther Vogt; tenor solos by Charles Hill, accompanied by Elizabeth Morgan; soprano solos by Miss Morgan, accompanied by her brother, Wesley Morgan; and violin solos by Robert Haven, accompanied by Miss Morgan.

J. G. Sutherland presented Junior Past Master George Mull with an attractive Past Master's jewel, a gift from the lodge. Past Master Mull's wife was presented with a tile coffee table as a token of the lodge's appreciation of her help during the past year.

C. Y. Yeilding, past master of Santa Ana Lodge No. 241, presented Worshipful Master Kahler with a hand-carved gavel which he made. Edison Masons of Jubilee lodge presented Kahler with a beautiful Masonic pin as a token of friendship. He also was presented with a leather-bound Masonic Bible, a gift from his wife.

Preceding the installation ceremonies, members of Jubilee lodge, their families and friends, enjoyed a turkey dinner. During the dinner hour a skit, "The Past and the Future," was put on by Hugo Lamb, C. E. Carlson and Mrs. Harvey Dimmitt, under the direction of J. G. Sutherland, which brought forth appreciative laughter from the audience.

The dinner was in charge of Mrs. George Mull, assisted by Mrs. W. G. Lewis, Mrs. Fred Pope, Mrs. Louis Braasch and Mrs. J. Kahler.

REQUEST ACTION ON MANCHESTER HIGHWAY WORK

A request that Manchester boulevard in Orange and Los Angeles counties be completed in the near future will be made of the State Highway Commission at its meeting in Sacramento next Thursday, it was learned today following a meeting held at the home of Phil A. Stanton, highway commissioner, near Anaheim last night.

It was estimated that it would cost around $650,000 to complete about 13 miles of the boulevard remaining to be constructed between here and Playa del Rey on the coast. About six miles of the unconstructed route is in Orange county.

Representatives of Orange and Los Angeles counties attended the meeting. All members of the Orange county board of supervisors except John Mitchell were present at the meeting. Other representatives of the Manchester Avenue association from Orange county at the meeting were George A. Raymer, Santa Ana, and George Reid, Anaheim. There were 19 at the session.

Th meeting was held to join Orange and Los Angeles county interests in an appeal to the highway commission to complete the road soon.

Manchester comes in at Buena Park at the new cut-off and follows the Southern Pacific tracks northwest to Downey straight through to South Gate and Inglewood to Playa del Rey. From Buena Park it follows the tracks southeast to Santa Ana boulevard south of Anaheim near the Orange County hospital. Completion of the route will save about six miles to Los Angeles from here, it was said.

Refreshments were served to those present at the conclusion of the discussion.

Stanton agreed to the board suggestion that Edward Whittemore, of the state highway department right-of-way division be sent to Orange county to contact property owners along the proposed route for the purpose of securing the necessary rights-of-way in this county.

Whittemore, who formerly was connected with the Orange county road department, will try to secure the co-operation of the property owners in securing the rights-of-way.

GEORGE W. HOWE CALLED BY DEATH

George Wakefield Howe, 59, 560 North Glassell street, Orange, passed away this morning at his home. He was the father of Mrs. Gertrude Winchester, 414 Harwood place, this city. Funeral services are to be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. at the family home, and funeral arrangements are in charge of the C. W. Coffey Funeral establishment of Orange.

Mr. Howe was born in Esmond, Ill., and had resided in California for the past five years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ellen Howe; his daughter, Mrs. Winchester; two sisters, Mrs. Hattie Newell of Chicago and Mrs. William Acaley of Rockford, Ill., and one brother, John Howe, of Kingston, Ill.

EXPECT OIL CONTROVERSY SETTLEMENT

Definite settlement of the Huntington Beach tidelands drilling controversy is expected in the near future, it was indicated today following a conference between oil men, attorneys and state representatives held in San Francisco yesterday.

The conference was a continuation of a series held for the past several weeks in Los Angeles. Because several important points remain unsettled, another meeting of the group will be held early in January, Rolland Vandegrift, state director of finance, indicated.

Among the points still to be decided are:

1. Whether the plan should go into effect with the present 80 per cent of the operators agreeing.
2. Whether the royalties should be retroactive.
3. The wording and form of the oil settlement agreement.
4. The amount of royalty to be paid by the operators.

Vandegrift said that approximately 80 per cent of the operators with well producing from the tidelands had signed or had agreed to sign the agreement. Vandegrift indicated some time ago that operators who refused to sign would face court suits. The state has several suits pending in Orange county in connection with the tidelands drilling, but no decision has been rendered due to a series of continuances granted with the consent of state attorneys.

Little difficulty is anticipated in deciding the wording and the form of the final agreement, but the scale of royalties to be paid, and whether they should be retroactive, are matters on which the operators and state officials thus far have failed to agree.

Vandegrift recently presented a scale of royalties ranging from 5 per cent for a 50-barrel well of low gravity to 66 per cent for big producers of high gravity oil. The operators claim Vandegrift's scale is too high. Some are reported in favor of a flat 10 per cent, regardless of the size of the well or the gravtiy, while others approve of a scale of 5 per cent for 50-barrel wells, 6 per cent for wells flowing 50 to 100 barrels, 7 per cent for wells producing 100 to 200 barrels, and so on up the scale.

State officials have estimated that upwards of $1,000,000 will accrue to the state yearly from royalties on the tidelands wells.

Among those attending yesterday's conference in San Francisco were Eugene Overton, Los Angeles attorney; Cecil M. Rood and H. R Hamilton, Huntington Beach oil operators; Oscar Lawler, Standard Oil company attorney, and Oscar Sutro of San Francisco.

Horace Hancock, secretary of the Oil Property Protective association, which was organized by land owners, oil operators and royalty owners as an aftermath of the first suits filed by the state, was in Huntington Beach yesterday conferring with operators.

Representatives of the state were in the beach city this week looking for a suitable site for an office to handle the state's oil business.

ORANGE PARK PROJECTS GET CWA APPROVAL

Orange's civic recreation center was given a boost today when CWA authorities gave approval to plans for materials, the total cost of which will be $5227.

Plans include a swimming pool 50 by 150 feet, wading pool 20 by 20 feet, a sewer line 2400 feet long, clubhouse 24 by 36 feet and two tennis courts.

A call for bids for the several projects was issued this morning by C. C. Bonebrake, city engineer of Orange, who will direct the work.

The swimming pool was dug some time ago. The cement necessary to complete it will be furnished under the CWA.

DOG POISONED

Police are seeking the person believed to have poisoned the police dog of Mrs. M. W. Green, 1570 West Seventh street, which was found yesterday in a fish pond at the Green home. The dog had been dead only a short time and an examination by a veterinarian revealed that it probably died from arsenic poisoning.

Edison Masons of Jubilee lodge presented Kahler with a beautiful Masonic pin as a token of friendship. He also was presented with a leather-bound Masonic Bible, a gift from his wife.

Preceding the installation ceremonies, members of Jubilee lodge, their families and friends, enjoyed a turkey dinner. During the dinner hour a skit, "The Past and the Future," was put on by Hugo Lamb, C. E. Carlson and Mrs. Harvey Dimmitt, under the direction of J. G. Sutherland, which brought forth appreciative laughter from the audience.

The dinner was in charge of Mrs. George Mull, assisted by Mrs. W. G. Lewis, Mrs. Fred Pope, Mrs. Louis Braasch and Mrs. J. Kahler.

REQUEST ACTION ON MANCHESTER HIGHWAY WORK

A request that Manchester boulevard in Orange and Los Angeles counties be completed in the near future will be made of the State Highway Commission at its meeting in Sacramento next Thursday, it was learned today following a meeting held at the home of Phil A. Stanton, highway commissioner, near Anaheim last night.

It was estimated that it would cost around $650,000 to complete about 13 miles of the boulevard remaining to be constructed between here and Playa del Rey on the coast. About six miles of the unconstructed route is in Orange county.

Representatives of Orange and Los Angeles counties attended the meeting. All members of the Orange county board of supervisors except John Mitchell were present at the meeting. Other representatives of the Manchester Avenue association from Orange county at the meeting were George A. Raymer, Santa Ana, and George Reid, Anaheim. There were 19 at the session.

Th meeting was held to join Orange and Los Angeles county interests in an appeal to the highway commission to complete the road soon.

Manchester comes in at Buena Park at the new cut-off and follows the Southern Pacific tracks northwest to Downey straight through to South Gate and Inglewood to Playa del Rey. From Buena Park it follows the tracks southeast to Santa Ana boulevard south of Anaheim near the Orange County hospital. Completion of the route will save about six miles to Los Angeles from here, it was said.

Refreshments were served to those present at the conclusion of the discussion.

Stanton agreed to the board suggestion that Edward Whittemore, of the state highway department right-of-way division be sent to Orange county to contact property owners along the proposed route for the purpose of securing the necessary rights-of-way in this county.

Whittemore, who formerly was connected with the Orange county road department, will try to secure the co-operation of the property owners in securing the rights-of-way.

EXPECT OIL CONTROVERSY SETTLEMENT

Definite settlement of the Huntington Beach tidelands drilling controversy is expected in the near future, it was indicated today following a conference between oil men, attorneys and state representatives held in San Francisco yesterday.

The conference was a continuation of a series held for the past several weeks in Los Angeles. Because several important points remain unsettled, another meeting of the group will be held early in January, Rolland Vandegrift, state director of finance, indicated.

Among the points still to be decided are:

1. Whether the plan should go into effect with the present 80 per cent of the operators agreeing.
2. Whether the royalties should be retroactive.
3. The wording and form of the oil settlement agreement.
4. The amount of royalty to be paid by the operators.

Vandegrift said that approximately 80 per cent of the operators with well producing from the tidelands had signed or had agreed to sign the agreement. Vandegrift indicated some time ago that operators who refused to sign would face court suits. The state has several suits pending in Orange county in connection with the tidelands drilling, but no decision has been rendered due to a series of continuances granted with the consent of state attorneys.

Little difficulty is anticipated in deciding the wording and the form of the final agreement, but the scale of royalties to be paid, and whether they should be retroactive, are matters on which the operators and state officials thus far have failed to agree.

Vandegrift recently presented a scale of royalties ranging from 5 per cent for a 50-barrel well of low gravity to 66 per cent for big producers of high gravity oil. The operators claim Vandegrift's scale is too high. Some are reported in favor of a flat 10 per cent, regardless of the size of the well or the gravtiy, while others approve of a scale of 5 per cent for 50-barrel wells, 6 per cent for wells flowing 50 to 100 barrels, 7 per cent for wells producing 100 to 200 barrels, and so on up the scale.

State officials have estimated that upwards of $1,000,000 will accrue to the state yearly from royalties on the tidelands wells.

Among those attending yesterday's conference in San Francisco were Eugene Overton, Los Angeles attorney; Cecil M. Rood and H. R. Hamilton, Huntington Beach oil operators; Oscar Lawler, Standard Oil company attorney, and Oscar Sutro of San Francisco.

Horace Hancock, secretary of the Oil Property Protective association, which was organized by land owners, oil operators and royalty owners as an aftermath of the first suits filed by the state, was in Huntington Beach yesterday conferring with operators.

Representatives of the state were in the beach city this week looking for a suitable site for an office to handle the state's oil business.

ORANGE PARK PROJECTS GET CWA APPROVAL

Orange's civic recreation center was given a boost today when CWA authorities gave approval to plans for materials, the total cost of which will be $5227.

Plans include a swimming pool 50 by 150 feet, wading pool 20 by 20 feet, a sewer line 2400 feet long, clubhouse 24 by 36 feet and two tennis courts.

A call for bids for the several projects was issued this morning by C. C. Bonebrake, city engineer of Orange, who will direct the work.

The swimming pool was dug some time ago. The cement necessary to complete it will be furnished under the CWA.

DOG POISONED

Police are seeking the person believed to have poisoned the police dog of Mrs. M. W. Green, 1570 West Seventh street, which was found yesterday in a fish pond at the Green home. The dog had been dead only a short time and an examination by a veterinarian revealed that it probably died from arsenic poisoning.

BEACH SOCIETY IN DANCE JANUARY 13

BALBOA ISLAND, Dec. 29.—Preliminary arrangements for a dance to be held at the Woman's clubhouse January 13 were made by members of the Altar society of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, when they met with their president, Mrs. W. F. Strain, in her Apolena avenue home Wednesday evening. Mrs. Joe Rollins and Mrs. Albert Dyckman are the committee in charge of arrangements. It is planned to secure a well known orchestra.

It was voted to hold the regular meetings in the future on the third Wednesday of each month, the next meeting to be held January 17 at the home of Mrs. Dyckman in Costa Mesa.

The new officers of the society, president, Mrs. Strain; vice president, Mrs. W. J. Neville; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth Hyde, assumed their duties for the first time this week.

Party Observes 82nd Anniversary

SAN CLEMENTE, Dec. 29. — Mrs. Amelia Haas was assisted by a group of friends in celebrating her 82nd birthday Tuesday afternoon. Bridge and pinochle were played. Mrs. Haas was remembered by her guests with gifts of potted plants for her garden.

Guests present were Mesdames Fred Shork, Emma Servus, David W. Barrett, Monroe Thurman, E. R. Bartlett, W. H. Hogeland, Clyde Baxter and F. A. Neddermeyer, and the Misses Maude Ahern, Jennie Lane and Emma J. Ochsner.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Baxter and Mrs. Shork in serving a delicious lunch. Prizes were won by Mrs. David W. Barrett and Miss Emma J. Ochsner.

Waffle Supper, Bridge Enjoyed

GARDEN GROVE, Dec. 29.—Miss Lida Mitchell entertained a group of friends with a waffle supper Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Madelyn Short, of Pomona college, who is spending her holiday vacation with her parents here.

The guests were seated at one long table decorated in seasonal appointments. The evening was spent playing bridge. First prize was awarded to Miss Roxanna Dales and consolation went to Miss Beatrice Dolf.

Those present were the honoree, Miss Short, Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, Miss Zelma Jones, Miss Juanita Dungan, Miss Dorothy Dales, Miss Roxanna Dales, Miss Beatrice Dolf and Miss Lida Mitchell.

Sheriff To Talk Before P.-T. A. On Evils Of Narcotics

LA HABRA, Dec. 29.—Motion pictures will be used to illustrate the talk of Sheriff Logan Jackson next Wednesday afternoon when he speaks at the regular session of the La Habra P.-T. A. He has chosen as his subject, "The Evils of Narcotics."

The meeting will be held at the Washington school auditorium at 2:30 p. m. The executive board will convene before noon with a luncheon served in the school cafeteria.

ARRANGE CAROL PROGRAM FOR LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 29.—The third annual feast of old Christmas carols of all nations is to be given Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at St. Mary's Episcopal church under the direction of Charles Addison Parker and with interpretative remarks by the vicar, the Rev. Robert M. Hogarth.

The program of carols follows: English, "The Seven Joys of the World," Miss Margot Sangster and chorus; "The Cherry Tree Carol," solos by G. R. Parker and Miss Sangster, with women's chorus and full chorus; "What Child is This?" full chorus. German, "O Come, Little Children," full chorus. Dutch, "Sleep, My Little One," Doris Lailor and chorus. Old Bohemian from sixth century, "Come, All Ye Shepherds." Russian, "Kelyada, Kelyada," (Father Christmas). Danish, "Christmas Brings Joy to Every Heart." French, "Angels We Have Heard On High." "Ah, Great Is Our Good Fortune," duet, Harriet Boulanger and Doris Lailor; "The Children at the Manger," trio, Doris Lailor, Harriet Boulanger, Mrs. W E. Goode and chorus; "The Message of Christmas Morn." Spanish-Basque, "Companions, All Sing Loudly." Portuguese, "All That Wondrous Christmas Night."

The vicar will read an address, "Boar's Head, Not Beans," by the Rev. John R. Crosby, St. Luke's church, Seaford, Del.

Sunday morning at 8 o'clock the Christmas eve candlelight service will be repeated because of the many requests from those unable to get into the little chapel. The vicar will preach on "The Cradle of Life."

Party Enjoyed In Westminster

WESTMINSTER, Dec. 29.—A postponed Christmas party was held Wednesday evening by members of Mrs. Henry Snasdell's Sunday school class at the home of one of the class members, Miss Betty Hanline, with 13 present.

The group gathered at 7 o'clock for an evening of games and music and had a gift exchange, with refreshments served at the close of the evening.

Roads In Heights Section Improved

LA HABRA, Dec. 29.—Men are at work in the La Habra Heights area regrading and graveling about two miles of roadways. A short time ago property owners in this area petitioned Los Angeles county to take over these roads, which heretofore have been maintained by the property holders themselves and the La Habra Heights company. The county has taken over about 10 miles of roadway in the area.

In addition to the resurfacing of these roads, there are 40 men employed for 80 days under the CWA who are cutting weeds and cleaning out gutters and storm drains.

CWA Director Addresses Club

GARDEN GROVE, Dec. 29.—R. W. Ramsey, of Santa Ana, county CWA adminstrator, spoke of CWA work at the Lions club luncheon held in Legion hall Wednesday. A. L. McColough was in charge of the program.

The meeting on January 3, when a representative from the General Electric company will demonstrate the latest inventions in electricity, will be open to the public, it was announced. The members are showing much interest in the attendance contest being conducted and the meeting was well attended.

Visitors included B. A. Liebermann and D. B. Baldwin.

W.C.T.U. OPENS CAMPAIGN FOR NEW MEMBERS

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 29.—A membership campaign in which every member of the local W. C. T. U. was named as a committee of one was launched yesterday, when the society met at the Community church. Mrs. Flora Beatty, chairman of the society, was in charge of the meeting. Plans were made for a campaign for the Union Signal, W. C. T. U. publication.

Preliminary arrangements were made for a potluck dinner and program with Mrs. J. J. Atwood at her Thirty-seventh street home January 24. The theme of the program will be "The New Crusade." It is hoped to have Mrs. Pearl Kendall Hess, county S. T. I. director, and Mrs. Margaret Utt, of Tustin, state and county legislative chairman, present at the meeting.

A prayer meeting was held in Mrs. Atwood's home recently, when a service was held commemorating the 60th anniversary of the organization of the W. C. T. U. Miss Delphia Philips, of Corona Del Mar, directed the services.

23 CANDIDATES FOR 14 CHAMBER PLACES

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 29.—Twenty-three candidates, the largest number in many years, will battle for the 14 places on the directorate of the Laguna Beach chamber of commerce at the election January 10. In announcing the list Wednesday night, following the close of nominations, Dr. D. A. Hoffman, president, declared that the renewed interest in the organization is due to the successful activities since the appointment of Capt. George A. Portus as executive secretary.

The old directors running for re-election are Dr. Hoffman, Earle M. Hatheway, Dr. B. B. Mason, Lloyd J. Seilset, Sam S. Smith, A. J. Stead, Glenn B. Acord, Paul Beckquist, C. E. C. Teter, Leroy F. Walker and W. A. Wolf. The new candidates are Loyd Burnett, John Clapp, Gene Douglas, Howard G. Heisler, Robert W. Jorden, Edward L. Keller, Leslie F. Kimmell, R. G. Lindley, G. Robert Parker, Capt. Portus, E. A. Stevenson and Capt. Don Wilkie.

Directors who will not again be candidates are Sherman A. Paddock, John Jehle, Perry E. McCullough, Frank D. Hevener and Leo B. Wilson.

An election dinner will be held at the Hotel Laguna at 6:30 o'clock on the evening of January 10. The polls close at 8 o'clock and the ballots will be counted following the dinner. The canvassing committee includes H. H. Henshaw, George E. Thompson and Leslie F. Kimmell. Ballots will be mailed to all members. They will be taken or mailed to the chamber of commerce and deposited in a ballot box.

C. Luz, of Moneta.

ANNUAL ARTISTS' BALL HELD AT LAGUNA BEACH SATURDAY

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 29.—Costumes for the fourth annual ball of the Laguna Beach Art association, to be held Saturday evening, promise to outshine those of former years. While many are making their own for the occasion, the biggest social event of the year in Laguna Beach, Mrs. Elinor Hutchings has given space for the renting and trying on of costumes brought to the city from Pasadena through Mrs. Helen Carter Tiffany, curator of the gallery.

The music for the dance is to be modern, the board of directors having decided this year to make a special appeal to the young people. Louis Danz, of Anaheim, president of the association, will have some special entertainers and has promised there will not be a dull moment from 9 o'clock, when the dancing begins, until the close of the ball.

Supper will be served beginning at 11 o'clock. Instead of the usual cafeteria style all guests will be seated and served at tables. Special entertainment features will be put on in the basement gallery for the diners. The proceeds will go to the building fund of the gallery.

Hold Card Party In San Clemente

SAN CLEMENTE, Dec. 29.—Observing the birthday of Dr. F. T. Hogeland, friends were entertained in the Hogeland home Wednesday evening. Bridge and "500" were played.

Those present were Dr. F. T. Hogeland, Dr. and Mrs. Paul H. Esslinger, of San Juan Capistrano; Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Lape, Mr. and Mrs. Roy R. Divel, Miss Frances Underhill, Miss Dorothy Latham, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Thurman, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hogeland, Judge F. S. Warner, Earl Beadle, of Santa Ana, and the hostess, Mrs. F. T. Hogeland.

Mrs. Esslinger received first prize in bridge for women and Dr. Esslinger men's prize in bridge. Monroe Thurman won the "500" prize. Miss Frances Underhill, whose birthday also was celebrated on this date, received a guest prize. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. W. H. Hogeland.

Dr. Hogeland, who is surgeon for the Cananea Mining corporation of Cananea, Mexico, joined his family in time for Christmas festivities. He will return to his post soon after New Year's day.

Hold Card Party In La Habra Home

LA HABRA, Dec. 29.—Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Upton entertained their "500" club with a party at their home this week. Prizes in the card games were won by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stahl, of Buena Park, first and Mrs. T. J. Swan and Robert Thompson, low.

Presents were exchanged through a grab box. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, of Maywood; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Swan, of Lindsey; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stahl, of Buena Park and Mr. and Mrs. Upton.

CHURCH GROUPS OF MESA PLAN JOINT SERVICE

COSTA MESA, Dec. 29.—A program lasting from 8 p. m. to midnight, with the Woman's Aid society, the Epworth league, the Queen Esther society, the Missionary society, the Loyal Workers' class, and the Friendly class, all organizations of the community church, participating, will be given in the church Sunday, ending with a candlelight processional and holy communion service as the New Year comes in.

During the first hour, community singing, vocal selections by individuals and small groups and a short talk by the Rev. W. I. Lowe will be given. Hot cocoa, coffee and sandwiches will be served.

The half hour preceding the candlelight processional will be given to community singing and personal experience testimonials.

MIDWAY CITY, Dec. 29.—Coming as a surprise to local friends of William Schmidt, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt, of 107 Adams street, was his marriage December 26 at Yuma Ariz., to Miss Amy Creed, formerly of Santa Ana but more recently of San Francisco.

Marshall Hall, of Garden Grove and a sister of Miss Creed attended the couple.

La Habra Board Discusses Plans For New Library

LA HABRA, Dec. 29.—Further plans were discussed by the library board Wednesday evening for larger quarters for the La Habra public library. Possibilities of securing CWA aid on the proposition were suggested by chairman of the board, L. H. Brewer.

Through the Kiwanis club fund a lot is now provided for the library and owing to the overcrowded condition of the present quarters, the board feels that steps will have to be taken in the near future to secure additional room. It is expected a special meeting will be called in January to decide on some definite plan for a new library building.

Loraine McJunkin To Marry In North

LA HABRA, Dec. 29.—Loraine McJunkin, former La Habra girl and daughter of Mrs. Adeline McJunkin, announced to friends here this week that she will marry Archie Campbell, in Bremerton, Wash., during the New Year's holidays.

Miss McJunkin who left La Habra about three years ago, is a graduate of the Fullerton Union High school, class of '31. Since leaving here she has been assisting her mother in her beauty parlor work. Mrs. McJunkin is at present in Arizona. Miss McJunkin, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Colley for several days, left Wednesday for her trip north.

Mr. Campbell is on the U. S. S. Saratoga, now stationed near Seattle.

LA HABRA, Dec. 29.—Motion pictures will be used to illustrate the talk of Sheriff Logan Jackson next Wednesday afternoon when he speaks at the regular session of the La Habra P.-T. A. He has chosen as his subject, "The Evils of Narcotics."

The meeting will be held at the Washington school auditorium at 2:30 p.m. The executive board will convene before noon with a luncheon served in the school cafeteria.

ARRANGE CAROL PROGRAM FOR LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 29.—The third annual feast of old Christmas carols of all nations is to be given Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at St. Mary's Episcopal church under the direction of Charles Addison Parker and with interpretative remarks by the vicar, the Rev. Robert M. Hogarth.

The program of carols follows: English, "The Seven Joys of the World," Miss Margot Sangster and chorus; "The Cherry Tree Carol," solos by G. R. Parker and Miss Sangster, with women's chorus and full chorus; "What Child is This?" full chorus. German, "O Come, Little Children," full chorus. Dutch, "Sleep, My Little One," Doris Lailor and chorus. Old Bohemian from sixth century, "Come, All Ye Shepherds." Russian, "Kelyada, Kelyada," (Father Christmas). Danish, "Christmas Brings Joy to Every Heart." French, "Angels We Have Heard On High." "Ah, Great Is Our Good Fortune," duet, Harriet Boulanger and Doris Lailor; "The Children at the Manger," trio, Doris Lailor, Harriet Boulanger, Mrs. W. E. Goode and chorus; "The Message of Christmas Morn." Spanish-Basque, "Companions, All Sing Loudly." Portuguese, "All That Wondrous Christmas Night."

The vicar will read an address, "Boar's Head, Not Beans," by the Rev. John R. Crosby, St. Luke's church, Seaford, Del.

Sunday morning at 8 o'clock the Christmas eve candlelight service will be repeated because of the many requests from those unable to get into the little chapel. The vicar will preach on "The Cradle of Life."

Party Enjoyed In Westminster

WESTMINSTER, Dec. 29.—A postponed Christmas party was held Wednesday evening by members of Mrs. Henry Snasdell's Sunday school class at the home of one of the class members, Miss Betty Hanline, with 13 present.

The group gathered at 7 o'clock for an evening of games and music and had a gift exchange, with refreshments served at the close of the evening.

Roads In Heights Section Improved

LA HABRA, Dec. 29.—Men are at work in the La Habra Heights area regrading and graveling about two miles of roadways. A short time ago property owners in this area petitioned Los Angeles county to take over these roads, which heretofore have been maintained by the property holders themselves and the La Habra Heights company. The county has taken over about 10 miles of roadway in the area.

In addition to the resurfacing of these roads, there are 40 men employed for 80 days under the CWA who are cutting weeds and cleaning out gutters and storm drains.

CWA Director Addresses Club

GARDEN GROVE, Dec. 29.—R. W. Ramsey, of Santa Ana, county CWA adminstrator, spoke of CWA work at the Lions club luncheon held in Legion hall Wednesday. A. L. McColough was in charge of the program.

The meeting on January 3, when a representative from the General Electric company will demonstrate the latest inventions in electricity, will be open to the public, it was announced. The members are showing much interest in the attendance contest being conducted and the meeting was well attended.

Visitors included E. A. Liebermann and D. B. Baldwin.

W. C. T. U. OPENS CAMPAIGN FOR NEW MEMBERS

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 29.—A membership campaign in which every member of the local W. C. T. U. was named as a committee of one was launched yesterday, when the society met at the Community church. Mrs. Flora Beatty, chairman of the society, was in charge of the meeting. Plans were made for a campaign for the Union Signal, W. C. T. U. publication.

Preliminary arrangements were made for a potluck dinner and program with Mrs. J. J. Atwood at her Thirty-seventh street home January 24. The theme of the program will be "The New Crusade." It is hoped to have Mrs. Pearl Kendall Hess, county S. T. I. director, and Mrs. Margaret Utt, of Tustin, state and county legislative chairman, present at the meeting.

A prayer meeting was held in Mrs. Atwood's home recently, when a service was held commemorating the 60th anniversary of the organization of the W. C. T. U. Miss Delphia Philips, of Corona Del Mar, directed the services.

23 CANDIDATES FOR 14 CHAMBER PLACES

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 29.—Twenty-three candidates, the largest number in many years, will battle for the 14 places on the directorate of the Laguna Beach chamber of commerce at the election January 10. In announcing the list Wednesday night, following the close of nominations, Dr. D. A. Hoffman, president, declared that the renewed interest in the organization is due to the successful activities since the appointment of Capt. George A. Portus as executive secretary.

The old directors running for re-election are Dr. Hoffman, Earle M. Hatheway, Dr. B. B. Mason, Lloyd J. Seilset, Sam S. Smith, A. J. Stead, Glenn B. Acord, Paul Beckquist, C. E. C. Teter, Leroy F. C. Luz, of Moneta.

ANNUAL ARTISTS' BALL HELD AT LAGUNA BEACH SATURDAY

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 29.—Costumes for the fourth annual ball of the Laguna Beach Art association, to be held Saturday evening, promise to outshine those of former years. While many are making their own for the occasion, the biggest social event of the year in Laguna Beach, Mrs. Elinor Hutchings has given space for the renting and trying on of costumes brought to the city from Pasadena through Mrs. Helen Carter Tiffany, curator of the gallery.

The music for the dance is to be modern, the board of directors having decided this year to make a special appeal to the young people. Louis Danz, of Anaheim, president of the association, will have some special entertainers and has promised there will not be a dull moment from 9 o'clock, when the dancing begins, until the close of the ball.

Supper will be served beginning at 11 o'clock. Instead of the usual cafeteria style all guests will be seated and served at tables. Special entertainment features will be put on in the basement gallery for the diners. The proceeds will go to the building fund of the gallery.

LONG BEACH GROUP JOINS MEXICAN TOUR

The second Southern California cruise to Mexico, scheduled for February 3, received cohorts from fresh source this week with the decision of the Long Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce to ally itself with the goodwill move. Twelve residents of that city already have applied for cruise membership, it was learned.

Announcement of the chamber's plans to join the pre-spring excursionists in their neighborly invasion of Mexico was made today by Howard Deems, representing the Long Beach organization. Deems declared that, aside from the international and cultural advantages of the journey, the cruise impressed his association as representing an unusual means of acquainting Mexican tradesmen with the advantages of the Long Beach harbor.

Goodnatured rivalry between Orange county and Long Beach members of the cruise is anticipated on the harbor score, in view of the recent passing of the Orange county harbor bonds. The prospect of early improvement of the local harbor is expected to give Orange county residents a definite wedge in levering for Mexico's present tourist and future economic favor, and is regarded as lending the goodwill cruise a new economic significance.

Among other Long Beach prominents arranging to join the party are Jonah Jones, well known Long Beach attorney, who accompanied a Long Beach delegation to Mexico on a goodwill trip several years ago; Mrs. Jonah Jones, member of the 1933 Los Angeles county grand jury, and other chamber of commerce and grand jury affiliates.

Don E. Hillman of Los Angeles, formerly of this city, manager of the Hillman Cruise-Tours and director of the November and February cruises, spent Christmas week end in Santa Ana following a conference with Long Beach officials. Hillman, who, with Mrs. Hillman and their son, Donald jr., visited Mrs. Hillman's relatives at the W. C. Budrow home, 1119 Spurgeon street, recently established the Hillman Cruise-Tours as an independent concern in the Associated Realty building, Los Angeles.

Erfurt Bans Women Smoking

ERFURT, Germany—(UP)— The police chief here has decreed that all hotels, restaurants and cafes must display a placard announcing: "Women are requested not to smoke." In the same decree the police chief asked all citizens for their help and declared that "A German woman does not smoke in the streets and public rooms."

VOTERS LEAGUE TO BE CONSIDERED BY COUNTY VETERANS

Matters relating to the organization of a district unit of the newly formed Veterans Voters League, a national body with headquarters in New York City, in the nineteenth congressional district, will be taken up at an open meeting of Orange county veterans, to be held Tuesday, January 9, at 7:30 p. m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, fourth and French streets, Santa Ana, according to an announcement today by Charles E. Dixon, past department commander of the United Spanish War Veterns, in charge of the organization arrangements in this district.

According to Dixon, the meeting is open to all ex-service men who served under the flag in time of war, and their relatives of voting age, men and women. He also added that the principal objective of the new organization, which he said is non-partisan in character and national scope, is to take an active interest in public affairs, particularly as they relate to legislation and adminstrative measures, affecting the welfare of veterans and their dependents. In this connection, he declared that the organization movement has met with a ready response throughout the country and that congressional district units of the league are already operating in several states.

Picnics and Reunions

MICHIGAN

The annual official picnic reunion for the Michiganders is announced by President E. E. Haring of the Michigan Association of Southern California, in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles. The county registers will be open all day, hot coffee served and silk souvenir badges supplied. The program will follow the dinner hour and will include music and addresses.

TOASTMASTERS HEAR TALKS ON PHONE COMPANY

Telephone officials demonstrated before El Camino Toastmasters that the function of purveying talk is shared by them individually as well as the company they serve when they had most to do with the Thursday evening program.

C. B. "Dick" Whitney was in charge as toastmaster and had as his speakers Eddie Weidler, G. G. Lawrence, M. Macurda and Lewis Williams of the telephone company's local officials. In addition H. Erwin Whipple and Roy Coleman were critics.

Other speakers were Lee Mohler who told something of the business of renting cars and trucks to individuals and companies; and W. F. Sorenson who considered apparent lawlessness a good thing at times in stirring people up to better law observance and who commended the action and sentiment of Gov. Rolph in the San Jose lynching.

Allison C. Honer told club members of the past, present and future of Santa Ana, speaking glowingly of the city.

Other critics were Ernest S. Wooster, Dr. H. J. Howard, Carlyle Dennis, C. M. Gilbert and W. L. Jolivette, with Don Rice as general critic.

NAME CHAIRMAN FOR FLOOD RELIEF FUND

Mrs. Eugene A. Robinson, 1802 Spurgeon street, has been named chairman of the Santa Ana Red Cross drive to raise this city's quota of $170 to aid sufferers in Washington and Idaho whose homes were damaged or ruined by floods, it was announced today by Terry E. Stephenson, president of the Santa Ana chapter.

A fund of $50,000 is needed for the rehabilitation of about 1000 homes and every effort is being made to raise the necessary money. Donations in Santa Ana can be made to Mrs. Robinson, Stephenson, Harry Hanson, treasurer at the First National bank or to Mrs. J. E. Liebig at the courthouse annex in the welfare department.

The first three donations to the fund were given by Stephenson, W. B. Williams and A. J. Cruickshank. Others were being made rapidly and officials expressed the hope that the entire quota for this city can be subscribed in a few days, so that all possible speed can be made in sending the money to the stricken areas.

'HAVANA WIDOWS' AT WEST COAST TODAY

"Havana Widows," a sparkling comedy pertaining to show life and show girls, comes to the Fox West Coast theater today to play through Sunday night.

Starring Joan Blondell and Glenda Farrell, as wisecracking show girls, who go to Havana because they hear the millionaire crop is ready to pick there, the plot deals with their adventures in the Cuban capital.

Guy Kibbee plays the role of one of the monied men, while Allen Jenkins also has a prominent part in the production. Several selected short subjects also are scheduled.

TRAILING BIG GAME

By George Briggs

The boys crossed in the old skiff to skin him out while I went back to my cold coffee again. The bear had fallen in his stride but stretched out on his stomach. He was the largest black bear I have ever seen or killed and the Indians said they never had seen one so large. Futher, the measurement at Telegraph by the officers who keeps a record of all game trophies vouched for the fact that he was unusually large and, for a fall-killed pelt, was in fine fur. We fleshed and salted the hide later.

Soon we were on the trail again, well satisfied with the morning's work. The bear was very fat, quantities of which we hung in the trees. Two parties of prospectors were pleased to get some fine cooking-fat, worth at Telegraph, so my boys said, about 50 cents a pound.

Nothing futher of interest happened until we camped at the foot of Caribou mountain. I might mention it had been snowing intermittently for two days and all high-lands were white, but even then it wasn't excessively cold except when inactive. We were out of fresh meat (I don't like bear except the fat for cooking) so I went out and stocked the larder, leaving the carcase to be picked up next day when we were to move camp further into the mountain where we made our longest and coldest stay and from which camp I secured the balance of my trophies which I shall presently relate.

Spot Hundreds of Caribou

The day I got the camp meat we saw two or three hundred caribou, the advance guard that comes here for the mating. This herd numbers, at the height of the rut, probably as many as three or four thousand animals. This was indeed a lucky camp with moose and caribou in abundance and a fair chance for grizzles.

After making camp snug the first day, we took a little "look-see" trip. Saw three bull moose this day. Leaving John with the horses, I got within 40 yards of three of them, and one had more than a fair set of horns for this country and all three bulls were out of velvet. We got within 60 yards of the barren. He was lying down, a large animal and dark in color but he was in velvet, had wide palms, good points but a narrow spread.

In the timber across quite a canyon we saw another pair of antlers and started over to inspect them when just as we were starting up a steep, slippery bank, on a game trail, a bull caribou started down from 75 or 80 feet above. The velvet was beginning to peel from his horns, the beams were good and so was the spread.

Pursues Bull Up Hill

I concluded to take him so slid off the horse and pulled the gun from the scabbard but, before I could shoot the caribou concluded he had seen enough of us, turned and slowly stepped out of sight. The brush here came half-way up his sides and was thick. The melting snow in the game-trail made it slippery on that steep hill so I had to take to the brush to negotiate it.

Finally, when I got up, there stood the bull about 45 or 50 yards away, with his stern to me. This was just before the rut, the bulls were very fat and the meat fine so I didn't want to shoot him in the hips and thereby ruin the best of the meat. I started walking toward him and the bull started walking away at about the same speed. Soon he half turned which gave me a close easy shot at his neck—and I missed. He stopped and looked me over. I took the neck shot again and he dropped dead.

John now came up with the horses, we tied a rope on the hind feet and dragged it uphill so it would bleed well, dressed him out and left him to be picked up later and then went on to see if the shooting had frightened our moose, some half-mile away. It hadn't so we got a good inspection of the head, concluded it wasn't what we wanted and returned to camp.

Binoculars Essential In Alaska

Every since we had crossed the Klapan river it had been snowing and the barrens were covered with from three to five inches of snow. The trouble was we never knew when we left camp, how long before a half-blizzard would sweep down on us, blotting out the landscape, making our glasses useless and hunting futile. In this country, as in most of the big game sections of the north, binoculars are an absolute nessity to hunt successfully.

Next day we packed in the head meat of the caribou, then made an afternoon hunt. We saw several hundred bulls, cows and calf caribou but nothing that looked good enough to take. Strange to me, although the rutting season had begun, many of the bulls were still in velvet. During out protracted stay on Caribou mountain we seldom were out of sight of caribou and while we also were on the lookout for moose and grizzlies—grizzlies on the barrens above timberline, digging for ground hogs; bull moose lying around in the little fingers or splits of timber that run themselves out just at timberline.

Always there was an expectancy, except when the snowstorm wasn't so disagreeable and blinding that we took shelter in the last timber or beat it for camp. At this camp the horses gave us a lot of trouble and on three seperate occasions they were overtaken only after Alex had put in a day following them, once for 18 or 20 miles. Their winter range was some 35 miles away and they were heading for it.

Difficulties of Search

After snowing most of the night, John and I started out over that cold, inhospitable blanket of white, to find the country alive with caribou in considerable bunches and, believe me, it was no easy matter, under such circumstances, to select a head we afterwards would be pleased with Some of the heads that are tall and attractive have too few points. Others are narrow, while the beams of others are not massive enough. The effort is to get a head that combines enough of all these features to make it symmetrical and desirable. Many of the horns still had velvet and this was many animals together, some one or two of these were apt to get nervous and start the whole bunch on the trot or run.

At best they were always milling about or traveling and a fair shot at an individual animal was hard to get.

Finally I made a selection of one that, while not an unusually big specimen had some of the requirements, in fact most of them, and I took the shot, hitting him too far back to be immediatly fatal. He trotted up a knoll and I missed a second shot, but the third broke his back. This knocked him down and I finshed him with the 22-rifle. We dressed him out, cut off the head at base of the horns and left him in the snow six or seven miles from camp to be brought in next day.

Undefeated Bears Rout Santa Clara

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—(UP)—University of California's unbeaten basketball team added Santa Clara to its list of victims last night. The Bears scored a 48-29 victory.

SPORTS BULLETINS

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(UP)—Max Baer, actor-pugilist, was named defendant today in a $250,000 breach of promise suit brought by Bee Starr, circus aerialist.

PASADENA, Dec. 29.—(INS)—Despite the illness of Bobby Grayson, mainspring of the Stanford football backfield, odds today went to 2½ to 1 that Stanford would defeat Columbia in the New Year's day game, with even money that Stanford would win by 13 points.

SANTA CLARA, Dec. 29.—(INS)—Santa Clara university's football team will not meet Rice institute of Texas in 1934, according to Sam Dunne, Santa Clara athletic manager, who announced today that negotiations had been called off.

The game originally was set for No. 3, but that date was later taken on the Bronco schedule by University of California.

Rice is unable to give a favorable date during the regular season and Santa Clara is not interested in a post-season game, Dunne said.

ROME, Dec. 29.—(INS)—Primo Carnera, world's heavyweight boxing champion, escaped injury today when an automobile in which he was riding in Genoa collided with a horse and wagon.

Carnera had just disembarked from the liner Conte Di Savoia, returning him from New York.

DONS, SLOW TO HIT PEAK, GET TEST TONIGHT

Still inconsistent on offense, Santa Ana junior college's basketball team must improve greatly before the Eastern conference season opens January 13 if it would figure in the 1934 championship race. Coach Bill Cook's Dons performed raggedly in Andrews gym last night while trimming Fullerton's Pay-n-Takit grocery quintet, second flight opposition, by only 10 points, 37-27.

Santa Ana has a stiffer assignment tonight. The Dons oppose Vic Baden's Concordia clubmen at 8 o'clock on the Walker gymnasium floor in Orange. How they treat this opposition should determine their changes in the jaysee league, since the Concordians possess probably the strongest team in Orange county.

For the past seven games the Cookmen have not been at full strength. Three of their best prospects—Harold Welty, Frank Kroener and Walt Gunther—have not reported, and will not be in suit until after the holidays. Cook proposes to start his best available lineup, which includes Ed Bragg and Byron Stoddard, forwards; Horace Ritner, center; Alex Clark and Bob Schwarm or Clair Preininger, guards.

Bragg was the only Don who displayed real defensive ability against the Fullerton team. He slipped in six field goals and a foul shot for 13 points while playing three quarters of the game. The whole Santa Ana team received numerous opportunities to score, but failed to take advantage of them.

Assistant Ed Adams was in charge of the Dons in the absence of Coach Cook.

The lineups:

Santa Ana (37)	Pos.	(27) Fullerton
Bragg (13)	F	(2) Hilgers
B. Stoddard (6)	F	Ellis
Schwarm (2)	C	(6) Mallar
Preininger (4)	G	Price
A. Clark (2)	G	(3) Banks

Score by Quarters

Santa Ana	5	10	15	7	—37
Fullerton	1	7	14	5	—27

Substitutions

Santa Ana—R. Clark (2) for Bragg, McDaniel (2) for R. Clark, Youel (2) for B. Stodard, Dugan (3) for Schwarm, Lash for Dugan, Schwarm for Lash for A. Clark, R. Clark for A. Clark, Hurley for Youel.

Fullerton—Ellis for Hilgers, Gargan (8) for Ellis, McNay (2) for Price, Hilgers for McNay, Price for Banks.

350 GOLFERS ENTER SANTA MONICA PLAY

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 29.—(UP)—A $2000 pot of gold attracted a horde of golfers to the fourth annual Santa Monica pro-amateur golf tournament today.

Approximately 350 golfers were entered. Top-ranking American stars, paired with lesser-known amateurs, divided their forces in the opening round. One half of the field played today, the other half will play tomorrow, with the final 36-holes scheduled Sunday. The first ten professionals in the opening rounds will split $500 each day. A $1000 prize will be at stake Sunday.

Archie Hambrick, bespectacled Zanesville, O. pro who won the championship last year with Jim Ross of Santa Monica, had the self-same amateur partner today.

LOLITA MEAD FIRST IN S. A. MEDAL PLAY

Miss Lolita Mead's card of 96-12-84 gave her first place by one stroke in medal play competition at the Santa Ana Country club yesterday, Mrs. B. W. McClure and Mrs N. W. Miller placing second and third. Mrs. McClure had 101-16-85, Mrs. Miller 106-20-86.

Class B place winners: Mrs. Jack Colburn, 109-29-80; Mrs. Ludy Schaffer, 107-26-81; Miss Nan Mead, 104-23-81.

N. C. A. A. OFFICIALS BEGIN CONVENTION

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—(UP)—The 28th annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic association opened a two-day gathering today at the Hotel Stevens. Major John L. Griffith, Big Ten commissioner, is president of the body, which conducts annually collegiate championships in track and field, swimming and wrestling.

The N. C. A. A. track and field championships, which have been held in Chicago for the past 12 years, will be shifted to the Far West this year, going to Los Angeles June 22 and 23.

BOXING BOARD DELAYS ACTION ON AMATEURS

LOS ANGELES, (Dec. 29.—(UP)—The California boxing commission is not yet ready to rocognize amateur boxing of a semi-pro character on a par with professional fighting.

Commissioners Harry W. Martin of Los Angeles and Harry Sperb of San Francisco deferred action on the proposal when they met here yesterday.

Joe Genschlea, secretary, prepared a code providing that the commission regulate amateur boxing. The issue was sidetracked when Henry Learned of the S. P. A. A. U. said his group wanted the membership of all competing fighters in order to guarantee their amateur standing.

The commission as a result of the postponement, held in abeyance the applications of promoters at Long Beach, Wilmington, San Pedro, Inglewood and Pasadena for permits to promote amateur bouts.

The board granted the application of Jackie Fields, former world welterweight champion, for a referee's license. Professional permits for boxing or wrestling were issued to the following applicants:

The commission also reinstated Tom Maloney, who seconded Frankie Campbell in his fatal fight with Max Baer at San Francisco three years ago.

TROY PREPARES FOR BASKETBALL SEASON

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—Opening of the conference basketball season being hardly more than two weeks off, Coach Sam Barry of the University of Southern California team today announced the scheduling of a pair of practice games to help condition the Trojans for the league contests.

The Southern Californians meet the Firestone five tonight at 8 p. m, at the Armory in Long Beach, and the United Athletic club of San Francisco Jan. 6 in the Olympic auditorium here. Both games will be return affairs. The Trojans opened the season by defeating the Firestones 27-26 and recently dropped a 31-28 game to the United A. C. in San Francisco.

Barry's boys have won five games out of their six practice tilts. After beating the U. S. S. Tennessee and the Firestones in Southland games, they went to San Francisco to win from the Young Men's institute, 28-24, and to lose to the Uniteds. From San Francisco the Trojans went to Salt Lake where they defeated the University of Utah, 45-40, and Brigham Young university, Rocky Mountain champions, 36-33.

The Trojan-Firestone contest tomorrow night is expected to be one of the fastest of the non-conference season. Jerry Nemer, star Trojan forward for three years, and Wilbur (Web) Caldwell, former S. C. center, are the aces of the Firestones.

BOTTOMLEY TO BE TRADED FOR BURT SHOTTON?

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—After taking testimony from several available sources, I can feel free today to state that there seems to be more fact than fiction in the story that the Philadelphia National league ball club is ready to trade its manager, even up, for nobody.

That, anyhow, is the general aspect of a deal that is understood to be under way, whereby Jim Bottomley, first baseman, is to be traded from Cincinnati to Philadelphia for Don Hurst, first baseman, with Mr. Burt Shotton, the manager, being, as they say, thrown in.

Maybe that's what is holding it up. Most of the time, Shotton is being thrown out. In fact, I now am informed that Gerald Nugent, the president, offered to do this only a few weeks ago, with the result that the story got around that Jimmy Wilson, the catcher, was to take over the club.

However, there was and is only one thing against it. Shotton isn't very broad minded and it seems he doesn't want to be thrown out and, besides, he has a contract which says that he is not to get what he doesn't want. So when Nugent suggested that he leave, Shotton offered to arbitrate.

"All right," said he brightly. "I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll stay."

It was then, I believe, that the ball club decided to offer the trade of Shotton for nobody and, in fact, to make up the difference out of its own pocket. This no doubt sounds like a lot of light, airy banter but it seems to be no more than the simple truth. The deal, as I get it, is being considered strictly on the basis named, the idea being that if the Cincinnati club is not willing to pay Shotton his $15,000 as provided by the contract, the Philadelphia club is ready to kick back with the difference.

This, for all I know, may be contrary to baseball law. It may even be contrary to common sense but Nugent might be a little prejudiced on that point. In fact, if I didnt know better, I'd almost begin to think that maybe he isn't one of Shotton's many admirers.

SAINT 'BEES' BEAT GARDEN GROVE, 29-22

Climaxing its vacation schedule against the reputedly powerful Orange middleweights, Coach Clyde Cook's undefeated Santa Ana high school Class B basketball team today hoped to win its fourth game in as many days.

Employing reserves for three quarters, the Saint quintet defeated Garden Grove, 29-22, at Andrews gymnasium yesterday afternoon. Coach Cook started Gross and Patton at forward, Clem at center, Hammil and Meserve at guards, and the reserves played until the fourth period when the regulars—Nissley, Flood, Warren, Wallace and Beall—came in for a brief workout.

The lineup:

Santa Ana (29)		(22) Garden Grove
Gross	F	(6) Kuhn
Patton (6)	F	(3) Skinner
Clem (4)	C	Allen
Hammil	G	Rumbaugh
Meserve (6)	G	(4) Nida

Substitutions

Santa Ana—Brown (4) for Gross, Nisley (2) for Brown, Flood (2) for Patton, Warren (2) for Clem, Wallace (3) for Hammil, Beall for Meserve.

Garden Grove—Nilro (2) for Kuhn, Chapman (4) for Skinner, Estep for Allen, Masuda (2) for Rumbaugh, Kobayashi for Nida.

LEVINSKY 6-5 OVER DON M'CORKINDALE

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—(UP)—An international heavyweight bout of importance will bring together King Levinsky, idol of Chicago's Ghetto, and Don McCorkindale, champion of South Africa, in a 10-round engagement at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

The crowd is expected to reach 14,000 and the gate receipts $20,000. Levinsky was quoted a 6 to 5 favorite today.

The winner of tonight's bout may find himself stepping right into a match with either Max Schmeling former heavyweight champion, or Max Baer, leading challenger for Primo Carnera's crown.

THE NEW YEAR

The coming 365 days have all the appearance of being the most bountiful in some time for lean and hungry sports fans.

It seems as if sports promoters, realizing that the New Deal has shuffled quite a few kopecs into heretofore empty pockets, are out to cash in on the upturn in the purchasing department.

Let it be said that the promoters have cooked up some tasty tid-bits for the boys, excluding, of course, that Johnny Risko-Jimmy Maloney affair.

THE FIRST COURSE

To start, there's that Rose Bowl tilt between Stanford and Columbia. And don't let anyone tell you that the big Red team from the Pacific coast is going to have things easy. Lou Little's Lions will play plenty interesting ball and will be out there to win, not just to make the game interesting.

That will be football's swan song, following which the indoor tracksters will start pounding the boards.

This season one of the hottest rivalries in years has been built up around three of the greatest milers to step off the distance in moons.

Starting January 6, with the K. of C. indoor meet at New York, and swinging around the circuit, lasting well into February, Bill Bonthron of Princeton, Gene Venzke of Penn and Glenn Cunningham of Kansas will put on their show.

Bonthron, you know, is the fellow who ran second to Jack Lovelock, New Zealander, when they both broke Jules Ladmougues' mile record in the Cambridge-Oxford vs. Princeton-Cornell games last summer. Hill's mile mark was the best produced during the year.

• • •

BETTER THAN EVER

Venzke is the fellow who, as a high school student in 1931, set a new 1500-meter indoor mark. Last season he dueled with Cunningham on the eastern board tracks, and didn't do so well. But with a year of training under Lawson Robertson, Penn mentor, he's bound to be better.

Cunningham, resembling one of those Kansas cyclones in action, was the best all-season performer in 1933. He didn't set any world marks, for he didn't have to. His competition wasn't the kind that Bonthron faced in Jack Lovelock.

With the three greatest distance men in the country running together, each striving to outdo the other, you'll see a new indoor mile mark set before the season is over.

OLD BASEBALL ECHOES

When the baseball magnates recently renewed the expensive contract of Judge Kenesaw Mountain mop-haired Landis for a period of seven years, there was some surprise and criticism . . . it was felt in some conservative quarters that the judge, as baseball's high commissioner, had outserved his usefulness . . . what was there left for the judge to do? . . . was there still crookedness in organized baseball?

The point seems poorly taken, and though the administration of Landis has been accused of many injustices in the name of righteousness, I would say that he has earned every dime baseball has given him or will give him during the next seven years.

• • •

WHAT IT TOOK HE HAD

The judge came to his high office at a time when relentless investigation and punishment were badly needed . . . it has not been made public how rotten the game had become . . . not only in the majors were ball games thrown like the White Sox threw that 1919 world series to the Cincinnati Reds . . . the uncleanliness reached down into remote minors.

I have talked with ball players who suspected their teammates of throwing games for as cheap a reward as a few dollars . . . . they have told me they were very sure about certain infielders allowing easy grounders to roll through their legs for hits because they had made bets that morning on the opposing team . . . and of pitchers who heaved "fat" pitches to dangerous hitters at critical times.

• • •

"MONEY CHANGERS"

Gamblers became bolder and more numerous in the baseball stands than they had ever been at the race tracks . . . not only in the big league towns was there a "morning line" furnishing odds on that afternoon's entertainment. Landis stepped into this situation . . . soon the scourge of his vengefulness was snapping about the ears of the men who were killing baseball's respectability.

He sent secret emissaries from city to city . . . they unearthed startling evidence of skullduggery, much of which has not been printed . . . I know a former newspaperman who became an operative under Landis . . . and who toured the south inquiring into activities of a certain major league ball club that had been soliciting school kids to sign contracts.

SILENT SERVICE

Landis was ballyhooed, himself, but many of the works he performed were done quietly . . . his picture was printed so often in the newspapers that people began to grow tired of seeing it . . . and asked, "What is the cause for this guy now anyway?" . . . . What they could not see was the tireless, patient investigation that he started to conduct in 1920 and which he still pursues.

He purged baseball of an evil element ..... vermin could not live under a regime such as he set up . . . he became feared by the people who had been wronging the game . . . and it seems to me he has earned every dime those magnates ever paid him . . . so much for that!

Net Hitch-Hiker With $1.50 Club Extends Tidball

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—(UP)—After hitch-hiking from West Virginia, without practice for months, playing with a $1.50 racket he had strung himself and then cracked against a post, Jack Field extended Jack Tidball, National intercollegiate tennis champion, last night.

Field was playing indoors for the first time in his life when he met Tidball in the Southern California indoor championships.

Although he lost the first set, 6-0, Field carried the champion 8-6 in the second set.

N. Y. GARDEN LOSES $40,105 IN QUARTER

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(INS)—Madison Square Garden officials had a financial hearache today as they surveyed the figures for the last quarter which showed a deficit of $40,105, compared with a profit of $26,011 last year.

The Garden lost $205,629 for the last six months compared with a loss of $130,135 for the same period in 1932. The deficit is attributed to boxing.

BETTING ODDS EVEN IN SHRINE CONTEST

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—(UP)—The flash shown by Eastern football players in their training for the annual East-West game New Year's day has shifted betting odds today to even money.

For a week after Coach Dick Hanley and Andy Kerr unloaded their 22 Eastern college stars off a transcontinental train, the odds had favored their Western rivals, usually at 10 to 8.

But Beattie Feathers of Tennessee, Eddie Laws of Iowa, Everhardus of Michigan and their mates, working out at Stanford university, showed so much speed and ability in practice that reluctant Western fans finally were convinced that "maybe those Eastern boys do stand a chance."

Hail Westrope As Champion Jockey

HOUSTON, Tex., Dec. 29.—(INS)—Little Jackie Westrope, sensational American jockey, today was hailed the outstanding rider of his time.

Booting home winner No. 300 and 301 following a short suspension for alleged rough riding, the cherub-faced 16-year-old jockey yesterday attained a record unequalled in 25 years. The last jockey to ride 300 winners in one year was Vincent Powers, who booted home 324 in 1905.

HARD PRACTICE OVER FOR BOTH LIONS, INDIANS

PASADENA, Dec. 29.—(UP)—Stanford and Columbia today neared the end of their training routes that will converge in the Rose Bowl here New Year's day.

Heavy workouts are over. Light drills were the order of the day. Rival coaches, "Tiny" Thornhill and Lou Little, began polishing off offensive and defensive formations. Tomorrow the training grind will be completed and Columbia's 30 players will be bundled aboard a train at Tucson, Ariz., and brought here for a one-day rest.

The situation today found Stanford an overwhelming favorite to repel the invasion of New York City's first Rose Bowl representative. Odds held at 2½ to 1 or 12 points at even money. Betting commissioners complained there was little response even at these odds.

Their report reflected what was generally believed—a lack of popular interest in the forthcoming battle. Although officials displayed a reluctance to discuss the matter, it was believed in most quarters the two teams will battle before the smallest crowd in years. An attendance of 50,000 was regarded as a maximum.

Stanford cohorts received a fright last night when Bobby Grayson, spectacular sophomore halfback, was ordered to bed with a bad cold. As Grayson went on the sick list, "Monk" Moscrip, star end, and Wes Muller, center, returned to service. Both had been out with colds. They took part in today's exercises.

The Columbia squad was reported in tip-top condition, physically and mentally. Coach Little has made no secret of his satisfaction and partisans who accompanied the team shared his enthusiasm.

Little barred the gates for the final drills at the University of Arizona stadium. Only accredited newspapermen were admitted but they too were ejected toward the end of the daily session.

"I'm not doing this to throw an air of mystery about Columbia," Little said, "but simply to have the boys to myself while we rehearse some of our more complicated plays."

Reports from Tucson indicate the Lions will uncork a tricky attack for Stanford. Little has stressed speed in workouts and had campaigned actively against Stanford's passing attack.

COLUMBIA PLAYERS EAGER TO GET AT CARDS

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 29.—(INS)—Columbia university's football team will take only easy workouts today and tomorrow in preparation for the Rose Bowl game with Stanford.

Coach Little said today his team was physically perfect and he did not intend to take a chance on either injury or staleness.

The players are eager to get at Stanford. The natives here, who have seen many teams practice on their way to Rose Bowl duels, say they never saw a team so eager to battle as Columbia.

The boys think they have a great chance to score the major upset of the season despite a disparity of 15 or more pounds a man in weight.

MOSCRIP, MULLER REJOIN REDS

TRAILING BIG GAME

By George Briggs

The boys crossed in the old skiff to skin him out while I went back to my cold coffee again. The bear had fallen in his stride but stretched out on his stomach. He was the largest black bear I have ever seen or killed and the Indians said they never had seen one so large. Futher, the measurement at Telegraph by the officers who keeps a record of all game trophies vouched for the fact that he was unusually large and, for a fall-killed pelt, was in fine fur. We fleshed and salted the hide later.

Soon we were on the trail again, well satisfied with the morning's work. The bear was very fat, quantities of which we hung in the trees. Two parties of prospectors were pleased to get some fine cooking-fat, worth at Telegraph, so my boys said, about 50 cents a pound.

Nothing futher of interest happened until we camped at the foot of Caribou mountain. I might mention it had been snowing intermittently for two days and all high-lands were white, but even then it wasn't excessively cold except when inactive. We were out of fresh meat (I don't like bear except the fat for cooking) so I went out and stocked the larder, leaving the carcase to be picked up next day when we were to move camp further into the mountain where we made our longest and coldest stay and from which camp I secured the balance of my trophies which I shall presently relate.

Spot Hundreds of Caribou

The day I got the camp meat we saw two or three hundred caribou, the advance guard that comes here for the mating. This herd numbers, at the height of the rut, probably as many as three or four thousand animals. This was indeed a lucky camp with moose and caribou in abundance and a fair chance for grizzles.

After making camp snug the first day, we took a little "look-see" trip. Saw three bull moose this day. Leaving John with the horses, I got within 40 yards of three of them, and one had more than a fair set of horns for this country and all three bulls were out of velvet. We got within 60 yards of the barren. He was lying down, a large animal and dark in color but he was in velvet, had wide palms, good points but a narrow spread.

In the timber across quite a canyon we saw another pair of antlers and started over to inspect them when just as we were starting up a steep, slippery bank, on a game trail, a bull caribou started down from 75 or 80 feet above. The velvet was beginning to peel from his horns, the beams were good and so was the spread.

Pursues Bull Up Hill

I concluded to take him so slid off the horse and pulled the gun from the scabbard but, before I could shoot the caribou concluded he had seen enough of us, turned and slowly stepped out of sight. The brush here came half-way up his sides and was thick. The melting snow in the game-trail made it slippery on that steep hill so I had to take to the brush to negotiate it.

Finally, when I got up, there stood the bull about 45 or 50 yards away, with his stern to me. This was just before the rut, the bulls were very fat and the meat fine so I didn't want to shoot him in the hips and thereby ruin the best of the meat. I started walking toward him and the bull started walking away at about the same speed. Soon he half turned which gave me a close easy shot at his neck—and I missed. He stopped and looked me over. I took the neck shot again and he dropped dead.

John now came up with the horses, we tied a rope on the hind feet and dragged it uphill so it would bleed well, dressed him out and left him to be picked up later and then went on to see if the shooting had frightened our moose, some half-mile away. It hadn't so we got a good inspection of the head, concluded it wasn't what we wanted and returned to camp.

Binoculars Essential In Alaska

Every since we had crossed the Klapan river it had been snowing and the barrens were covered with from three to five inches of snow. The trouble was we never knew when we left camp, how long before a half-blizzard would sweep down on us, blotting out the landscape, making our glasses useless and hunting futile. In this country, as in most of the big game sections of the north, binoculars are an absolute nessity to hunt successfully.

Next day we packed in the head meat of the caribou, then made an afternoon hunt. We saw several hundred bulls, cows and calf caribou but nothing that looked good enough to take. Strange to me, although the rutting season had begun, many of the bulls were still in velvet. During out protracted stay on Caribou mountain we seldom were out of sight of caribou and while we also were on the lookout for moose and grizzlies—grizzlies on the barrens above timberline, digging for ground hogs; bull moose lying around in the little fingers or splits of timber that run themselves out just at timberline.

Always there was an expectancy, except when the snowstorm wasn't so disagreeable and blinding that we took shelter in the last timber or beat it for camp. At this camp the horses gave us a lot of trouble and on three seperate occasions they were overtaken only after Alex had put in a day following them, once for 18 or 20 miles. Their winter range was some 35 miles away and they were heading for it.

Difficulties of Search

After snowing most of the night, John and I started out over that cold, inhospitable blanket of white, to find the country alive with caribou in considerable bunches and, believe me, it was no easy matter, under such circumstances, to select a head we afterwards would be pleased with Some of the heads that are tall and attractive have too few points. Others are narrow, while the beams of others are not massive enough. The effort is to get a head that combines enough of all these features to make it symmetrical and desirable. Many of the horns still had velvet and this was many animals together, some one or two of these were apt to get nervous and start the whole bunch on the trot or run.

At best they were always milling about or traveling and a fair shot at an individual animal was hard to get.

Finally I made a selection of one that, while not an unusually big specimen had some of the requirements, in fact most of them, and I took the shot, hitting him too far back to be immediatly fatal. He trotted up a knoll and I missed a second shot, but the third broke his back. This knocked him down and I finshed him with the 22-rifle. We dressed him out, cut off the head at base of the horns and left him in the snow six or seven miles from camp to be brought in next day.

Undefeated Bears Rout Santa Clara

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—(UP)—University of California's unbeaten basketball team added Santa Clara to its list of victims last night. The Bears scored a 48-29 victory.

SPORTS BULLETINS

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(UP)—Max Baer, actor-pugilist, was named defendant today in a $250,000 breach of promise suit brought by Bee Starr, circus aerialist.

PASADENA, Dec. 29.—(INS)—Despite the illness of Bobby Grayson, mainspring of the Stanford football backfield, odds today went to 2½ to 1 that Stanford would defeat Columbia in the New Year's day game, with even money that Stanford would win by 13 points.

SANTA CLARA, Dec. 29.—(INS)—Santa Clara university's football team will not meet Rice institute of Texas in 1934, according to Sam Dunne, Santa Clara athletic manager, who announced today that negotiations had been called off.

The game originally was set for No. 3, but that date was later taken on the Bronco schedule by University of California.

Rice is unable to give a favorable date during the regular season and Santa Clara is not interested in a post-season game, Dunne said.

ROME, Dec. 29.—(INS)—Primo Carnera, world's heavyweight boxing champion, escaped injury today when an automobile in which he was riding in Genoa collided with a horse and wagon.

Carnera had just disembarked from the liner Conte Di Savoia, returning him from New York.

DONS, SLOW TO HIT PEAK, GET TEST TONIGHT

Still inconsistent on offense, Santa Ana junior college's basketball team must improve greatly before the Eastern conference season opens January 13 if it would figure in the 1934 championship race. Coach Bill Cook's Dons performed raggedly in Andrews gym last night while trimming Fullerton's Pay-n-Takit grocery quintet, second flight opposition, by only 10 points, 37-27.

Santa Ana has a stiffer assignment tonight. The Dons oppose Vic Baden's Concordia clubmen at 8 o'clock on the Walker gymnasium floor in Orange. How they treat this opposition should determine their changes in the Jaysee league, since the Concordians possess probably the strongest team in Orange county.

For the past seven games the Cookmen have not been at full strength. Three of their best prospects—Harold Welty, Frank Kroener and Walt Gunther—have not reported, and will not be in suit until after the holidays. Cook proposes to start his best available lineup, which includes Ed Bragg and Byron Stoddard, forwards; Horace Ritner, center; Alex Clark and Bob Schwarm or Clair Preininger, guards.

Bragg was the only Don who displayed real defensive ability against the Fullerton team. He slipped in six field goals and a foul shot for 13 points while playing three quarters of the game. The whole Santa Ana team received numerous opportunities to score, but failed to take advantage of them.

Assistant Ed Adams was in charge of the Dons in the absence of Coach Cook.

The lineups:

Bragg (13)	F	(2) Hilgers
B. Stoddard (6)	F	Ellis
Schwarm (2)	C	(6) Mallar
Preininger (4)	G	Price
A. Clark (3)	G	(3) Banks

Score by Quarters

Santa Ana	5	10	15	7	—37
Fullerton	1	7	14	5	—27

Substitutions

Santa Ana—R. Clark (2) for Bragg, McDaniel (2) for R. Clark, Youel (2) for B. Stodard, Dugan (3) for Schwarm, Lash for Dugan, Schwarm for Lash for A. Clark, R. Clark for A. Clark, Hurley for Youel.

Fullerton—Ellis for Hilgers, Gargan (8) for Ellis, McNay (2) for Price, Hilgers for McNay, Price for Banks.

350 GOLFERS ENTER SANTA MONICA PLAY

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 29.—(UP)—A $2000 pot of gold attracted a horde of golfers to the fourth annual Santa Monica pro-amateur golf tournament today.

Approximately 350 golfers were entered. Top-ranking American stars, paired with lesser-known amateurs, divided their forces in the opening round. One half of the field played today, the other half will play tomorrow, with the final 36-holes scheduled Sunday. The first ten professionals in the opening rounds will split $500 each day. A $1000 prize will be at stake Sunday.

Archie Hambrick, bespectacled Zanesville, O. pro who won the championship last year with Jim Ross of Santa Monica, had the self-same amateur partner today.

LOLITA MEAD FIRST IN S. A. MEDAL PLAY

Miss Lolita Mead's card of 96-12-84 gave her first place by one stroke in medal play competition at the Santa Ana Country club yesterday, Mrs. B. W. McClure and Mrs N. W. Miller placing second and third. Mrs. McClure had 101-16-85, Mrs. Miller 106-20-86.

Class B place winners: Mrs. Jack Colburn, 109-29-80; Mrs. Ludy Schaffer, 107-26-81; Miss Nan Mead, 104-23-81.

N. C. A. A. OFFICIALS BEGIN CONVENTION

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—(UP)—The 28th annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic association opened a two-day gathering today at the Hotel Stevens. Major John L. Griffith, Big Ten commissioner, is president of the body, which conducts annually collegiate championships in track and field, swimming and wrestling.

The N. C. A. A. track and field championships, which have been held in Chicago for the past 12 years, will be shifted to the Far West this year, going to Los Angeles June 22 and 23.

BOXING BOARD DELAYS ACTION ON AMATEURS

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—(UP)—The California boxing commission is not yet ready to recognize amateur boxing of a semi-pro character on a par with professional fighting.

Commissioners Harry W. Martin of Los Angeles and Harry Sperb of San Francisco deferred action on the proposal when they met here yesterday.

Joe Genschlea, secretary, prepared a code providing that the commission regulate amateur boxing. The issue was sidetracked when Henry Learned of the S. P. A. A. U. said his group wanted the membership of all competing fighters in order to guarantee their amateur standing.

The commission as a result of the postponement, held in abeyance the applications of promoters at Long Beach, Wilmington, San Pedro, Inglewood and Pasadena for permits to promote amateur bouts.

The board granted the application of Jackie Fields, former world welterweight champion, for a referee's license. Professional permits for boxing or wrestling were issued to the following applicants:

The commission also reinstated Tom Maloney, who seconded Frankie Campbell in his fatal fight with Max Baer at San Francisco three years ago.

TROY PREPARES FOR BASKETBALL SEASON

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—Opening of the conference basketball season being hardly more than two weeks off, Coach Sam Barry of the University of Southern California team today announced the scheduling of a pair of practice games to help condition the Trojans for the league contests.

The Southern Californians meet the Firestone five tonight at 8 p. m. at the Armory in Long Beach, and the United Athletic club of San Francisco Jan. 6 in the Olympic auditorium here. Both games will be return affairs. The Trojans opened the season by defeating the Firestones 27-26 and recently dropped a 31-28 game to the United A. C. in San Francisco.

Barry's boys have won five games out of their six practice tilts. After beating the U. S. S. Tennessee and the Firestones in Southland games, they went to San Francisco to win from the Young Men's institute, 28-24, and to lose to the Uniteds. From San Francisco the Trojans went to Salt Lake where they defeated the University of Utah, 45-40, and Brigham Young university, Rocky Mountain champions, 36-33.

The Trojan-Firestone contest tomorrow night is expected to be one of the fastest of the non-conference season. Jerry Nemer, star Trojan forward for three years, and Wilbur (Web) Caldwell, former S. C. center, are the aces of the Firestones.

BOTTOMLEY TO BE TRADED FOR BURT SHOTTON?

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—After taking testimony from several available sources, I can feel free today to state that there seems to be more fact than fiction in the story that the Philadelphia National league ball club is ready to trade its manager, even up, for nobody.

That, anyhow, is the general aspect of a deal that is understood to be under way, whereby Jim Bottomley, first baseman, is to be traded from Cincinnati to Philadelphia for Don Hurst, first baseman, with Mr. Burt Shotton, the manager, being, as they say, thrown in.

Maybe that's what is holding it up. Most of the time, Shotton is being thrown out. In fact, I now am informed that Gerald Nugent, the president, offered to do this only a few weeks ago, with the result that the story got around that Jimmy Wilson, the catcher, was to take over the club.

However, there was and is only one thing against it. Shotton isn't very broad minded and it seems he doesn't want to be thrown out and, besides, he has a contract which says that he is not to get what he doesn't want. So when Nugent suggested that he leave, Shotton offered to arbitrate.

"All right," said he brightly. "I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll stay."

It was then, I believe, that the ball club decided to offer the trade of Shotton for nobody and, in fact, to make up the difference out of its own pocket. This no doubt sounds like a lot of light, airy banter but it seems to be no more than the simple truth. The deal, as I get it, is being considered strictly on the basis named, the idea being that if the Cincinnati club is not willing to pay Shotton his $15,000 as provided by the contract, the Philadelphia club is ready to kick back with the difference.

This, for all I know, may be contrary to baseball law. It may even be contrary to common sense but Nugent might be a little prejudiced on that point. In fact, if I didnt know better, I'd almost begin to think that maybe he isn't one of Shotton's many admirers.

SAINT 'BEES' BEAT GARDEN GROVE, 29-22

Climaxing its vacation schedule against the reputedly powerful Orange middleweights, Coach Clyde Cook's undefeated Santa Ana high school Class B basketball team today hoped to win its fourth game in as many days.

Employing reserves for three quarters, the Saint quintet defeated Garden Grove, 29-22, at Andrews gymnasium yesterday afternoon. Coach Cook started Gross and Patton at forward, Clem at center, Hammil and Meserve at guards, and the reserves played until the fourth period when the regulars—Nissley, Flood, Warren, Wallace and Beall—came in for a brief workout.

The lineup:

Santa Ana (29)		(22) Garden Grove
Gross	F	(6) Kuhn
Patton (6)	F	(2) Skinner
Clem (4)	C	Allen
Hammil	G	Rumbaugh
Meserve (6)	G	(4) Nida

Substitutions

Santa Ana—Brown (4) for Gross, Nisley (2) for Brown, Flood (2) for Patton, Warren (2) for Clem, Wallace (3) for Hammil, Beall for Meserve.

Garden Grove—Niiro (2) for Kuhn, Chapman (4) for Skinner, Estep for Allen, Masuda (2) for Rumbaugh, Kobayashi for Nida.

LEVINSKY 6-5 OVER DON M'CORKINDALE

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—(UP)—An international heavyweight bout of importance will bring together King Levinsky, idol of Chicago's Ghetto, and Don McCorkindale, champion of South Africa, in a 10-round engagement at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

The crowd is expected to reach 14,000 and the gate receipts $20,000. Levinsky was quoted a 6 to 5 favorite today.

The winner of tonight's bout may find himself stepping right into a match with either Max Schmeling former heavyweight champion, or Max Baer, leading challenger for Primo Carnera's crown.

THE NEW YEAR

The coming 365 days have all the appearance of being the most bountiful in some time for lean and hungry sports fans.

It seems as if sports promoters, realizing that the New Deal has shuffled quite a few kopecs into heretofore empty pockets, are out to cash in on the upturn in the purchasing department.

Let it be said that the promoters have cooked up some tasty tid-bits for the boys, excluding, of course, that Johnny Risko-Jimmy Maloney affair.

• • •

THE FIRST COURSE

To start, there's that Rose Bowl tilt between Stanford and Columbia. And don't let anyone tell you that the big Red team from the Pacific coast is going to have things easy. Lou Little's Lions will play plenty interesting ball and will be out there to win, not just to make the game interesting.

That will be football's swan song, following which the indoor tracksters will start pounding the boards.

This season one of the hottest rivalries in years has been built up around three of the greatest milers to step off the distance in moons.

Starting January 6, with the K. of C. indoor meet at New York, and swinging around the circuit, lasting well into February, Bill Bonthron of Princeton, Gene Venzke of Penn and Glenn Cunningham of Kansas will put on their show.

Bonthron, you know, is the fellow who ran second to Jack Lovelock, New Zealander, when they both broke Jules Ladmougues' mile record in the Cambridge-Oxford vs. Princeton-Cornell games last summer. Hill's mile mark was the best produced during the year.

• • •

BETTER THAN EVER

Venzke is the fellow who, as a high school student in 1931, set a new 1500-meter indoor mark. Last season he dueled with Cunningham on the eastern board tracks, and didn't do so well. But with a year of training under Lawson Robertson, Penn mentor, he's bound to be better.

Cunningham, resembling one of those Kansas cyclones in action, was the best all-season performer in 1933. He didn't set any world marks, for he didn't have to. His competition wasn't the kind that Bonthron faced in Jack Lovelock.

With the three greatest distance men in the country running together, each striving to outdo the other, you'll see a new indoor mile mark set before the season is over.

• • •

OLD BASEBALL ECHOES

When the baseball magnates recently renewed the expensive contract of Judge Kenesaw Mountain mop-haired Landis for a period of seven years, there was some surprise and criticism . . . it was felt in some conservative quarters that the judge, as baseball's high commissioner, had outserved his usefulness . . . what was there left for the judge to do? . . . was there still crookedness in organized baseball?

The point seems poorly taken, and though the administration of Landis has been accused of many injustices in the name of righteousness, I would say that he has earned every dime baseball has given him or will give him during the next seven years.

• • •

The judge came to his high office at a time when relentless investigation and punishment were badly needed . . . it has not been made public how rotten the game had become . . . not only in the majors were ball games thrown like the White Sox threw that 1919 world series to the Cincinnati Reds . . . the uncleanliness reached down into remote minors.

I have talked with ball players who suspected their teammates of throwing games for as cheap a reward as a few dollars . . . they have told me they were very sure about certain infielders allowing easy grounders to roll through their legs for hits because they had made bets that morning on the opposing team . . . and of pitchers who heaved "fat" pitches to dangerous hitters at critical times.

• • •

"MONEY CHANGERS"

Gamblers became bolder and more numerous in the baseball stands than they had ever been at the race tracks . . . not only in the big league towns was there a "morning line" furnishing odds on that afternoon's entertainment. Landis stepped into this situation . . . soon the scourge of his vengefulness was snapping about the ears of the men who were killing baseball's respectability.

He sent secret emissaries from city to city . . . they unearthed startling evidence of skullduggery, much of which has not been printed . . . I know a former newspaperman who became an operative under Landis . . . and who toured the south inquiring into activities of a certain major league ball club that had been soliciting school kids to sign contracts.

SILENT SERVICE

Landis was ballyhooed, himself, but many of the works he performed were done quietly . . . his picture was printed so often in the newspapers that people began to grow tired of seeing it . . . and asked, "What is the cause for this guy now anyway?" . . . . What they could not see was the tireless, patient investigation that he started to conduct in 1920 and which he still pursues.

He purged baseball of an evil element ..... vermin could not live under a regime such as he set up . . . he became feared by the people who had been wronging the game . . . and it seems to me he has earned every dime those magnates ever paid him . . . so much for that!

Net Hitch-Hiker With $1.50 Club Extends Tidball

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—(UP)—After hitch-hiking from West Virginia, without practice for months, playing with a $1.50 racket he had strung himself and then cracked against a post, Jack Field extended Jack Tidball, National intercollegiate tennis champion, last night.

Field was playing indoors for the first time in his life when he met Tidball in the Southern California indoor championships.

Although he lost the first set, 6-0, Field carried the champion 8-6 in the second set.

N. Y. GARDEN LOSES $40,105 IN QUARTER

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(INS)—Madison Square Garden officials had a financial hearache today as they surveyed the figures for the last quarter which showed a deficit of $40,105, compared with a profit of $26,011 last year.

The Garden lost $205,629 for the last six months compared with a loss of $130,135 for the same period in 1932. The deficit is attributed to boxing.

HARD PRACTICE OVER FOR BOTH LIONS, INDIANS

PASADENA, Dec. 29.—(UP)—Stanford and Columbia today neared the end of their training routes that will converge in the Rose Bowl here New Year's day.

Heavy workouts are over. Light drills were the order of the day. Rival coaches, "Tiny" Thornhill and Lou Little, began polishing off offensive and defensive formations. Tomorrow the training grind will be completed and Columbia's 30 players will be bundled aboard a train at Tucson, Ariz., and brought here for a one-day rest.

The situation today found Stanford an overwhelming favorite to repel the invasion of New York City's first Rose Bowl representative. Odds held at 2½ to 1 or 12 points at even money. Betting commissioners complained there was little response even at these odds.

Their report reflected what was generally believed—a lack of popular interest in the forthcoming battle. Although officials displayed a reluctance to discuss the matter, it was believed in most quarters the two teams will battle before the smallest crowd in years. An attendance of 50,000 was regarded as a maximum.

Stanford cohorts received a fright last night when Bobby Grayson, spectacular sophomore halfback, was ordered to bed with a bad cold. As Grayson went on the sick list, "Monk" Moscrip, star end, and Wes Muller, center, returned to service. Both had been out with colds. They took part in today's exercises.

The Columbia squad was reported in tip-top condition, physically and mentally. Coach Little has made no secret of his satisfaction and partisans who accompanied the team shared his enthusiasm.

Little barred the gates for the final drills at the University of Arizona stadium. Only accredited newspapermen were admitted but they too were ejected toward the end of the daily session.

"I'm not doing this to throw an air of mystery about Columbia," Little said, "but simply to have the boys to myself while we rehearse some of our more complicated plays."

Reports from Tucson indicate the Lions will uncork a tricky attack for Stanford. Little has stressed speed in workouts and had campaigned actively against Stanford's passing attack.

COLUMBIA PLAYERS EAGER TO GET AT CARDS

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 29.—(INS)—Columbia university's football team will take only easy workouts today and tomorrow in preparation for the Rose Bowl game with Stanford.

Coach Little said today his team was physically perfect and he did not intend to take a chance on either injury or staleness.

The players are eager to get at Stanford. The natives here, who have seen many teams practice on their way to Rose Bowl duels, say they never saw a team so eager to battle as Columbia.

The boys think they have a great chance to score the major upset of the season despite a disparity of 15 or more pounds a man in weight.

BETTING ODDS EVEN IN SHRINE CONTEST

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—(UP)—The flash shown by Eastern football players in their training for the annual East-West game New Year's day has shifted betting odds today to even money.

For a week after Coach Dick Hanley and Andy Kerr unloaded their 22 Eastern college stars off a transcontinental train, the odds had favored their Western rivals, usually at 10 to 8.

But Beattie Feathers of Tennessee, Eddie Laws of Iowa, Everhardus of Michigan and their mates, working out at Stanford university, showed so much speed and ability in practice that reluctant Western fans finally were convinced that "maybe those Eastern boys do stand a chance."

Hail Westrope As Champion Jockey

HOUSTON, Tex., Dec. 29.—(INS)—Little Jackie Westrope, sensational American jockey, today was hailed the outstanding rider of his time.

Booting home winner No. 300 and 301 following a short suspension for alleged rough riding, the cherub-faced 16-year-old jockey yesterday attained a record unequalled in 25 years. The last jockey to ride 300 winners in one year was Vincent Powers, who booted home 324 in 1905.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

"Help! Help!" yelled Dotty. "Stop it, please! Oh, Duncy, you're an awful tease. I do not like to have my face washed with a mess of snow."

And then she grabbed wee Duncy by the neck and shouted, "Now, I'll try to wash your funny little face." Poor Duncy yelled, "Let go!"

But Dotty proved she was in trim. She soon smeared snow all over him. This made the other Tinies laugh. "It serves you right," cried one.

Then little Duncy scrambled free. His face looked funny as could be. He shouted, "Well, we're even now, and it was lots of fun!"

* * *

One little elf then cried, "Let's make a big snowman. It will not take us very long, if we all help. The snow packs nice and tight.

"We'll clear a place where he can stand. Who's willing, now, to lend a hand?" "We all are," shouted Goldy. "Oh, I'll bet he'll be a sight!

"Now, first of all, we'll try to make some real strong legs, so they won't break. We'll roll two balls, then trim them down until they're long and fat.

"Then we can roll a body ball. Our snowman's going to be real tall. Then, when his legs and arms are on, we'll give him someone's hat."

* * *

And so, the whole bunch worked away and shortly Windy cried, "Hurray! His legs are set. Now put the body on. Don't let it fall."

When this was done, the arms and head were added, and brave Coppy said, "Our snowman's almost finished. Gee, that wasn't hard at all."

An elf then brought a ladder and he said, "I think it will be grand to give the snowman two black eyes. I'll use two bits of wood.

"I cannot reach the face from here, so I'll climb up. Now, never fear, I will not fall." And then he put the eyes on. They looked good.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

"Help! Help!" yelled Dotty. "Stop it, please! Oh, Duncy, you're an awful tease. I do not like to have my face washed with a mess of snow."

And then she grabbed wee Duncy by the neck and shouted, "Now, I'll try to wash your funny little face." Poor Duncy yelled, "Let go!"

But Dotty proved she was in trim. She soon smeared snow all over him. This made the other Tinies laugh. "It serves you right," cried one.

Then little Duncy scrambled free. His face looked funny as could be. He shouted, "Well, we're even now, and it was lots of fun!"

* * *

One little elf then cried, "Let's make a big snowman. It will not take us very long, if we all help. The snow packs nice and tight.

"We'll clear a place where he can stand. Who's willing, now, to lend a hand?" "We all are," shouted Goldy. "Oh, I'll bet he'll be a sight!

"Now, first of all, we'll try to make some real strong legs, so they won't break. We'll roll two balls, then trim them down until they're long and fat.

"Then we can roll a body ball. Our snowman's going to be real tall. Then, when his legs and arms are on, we'll give him someone's hat."

* * *

And so, the whole bunch worked away and shortly Windy cried, "Hurray! His legs are set. Now put the body on. Don't let it fall."

When this was done, the arms and head were added, and brave Coppy said, "Our snowman's almost finished. Gee, that wasn't hard at all."

An elf then brought a ladder and he said, "I think it will be grand to give the snowman two black eyes. I'll use two bits of wood.

"I cannot reach the face from here, so I'll climb up. Now, never fear, I will not fall." And then he put the eyes on. They looked good.

MRS. V. A. WOOD RE-ELECTED AS SOCIETY HEAD

ORANGE, Dec. 29.—Loyal Women of the First Christian church selected officers for the coming year at a meeting held Thursday at the church and Mrs. V. A. Wood was chosen for the sixth consecutive year to head the organization. Mrs. R. C. Burkett was elected first vice president, Mrs. M. E. Bivens, second vice president, and Mrs. Fred Perkins, third vice president.

Other officers are Miss Nellie White and Mrs. E. F. Gray, tabulating secretaries; Mrs. Irwin Hager, chorister, with Mrs. W. M. Whitney and Mrs. Grace Knolla as her assistants; Mrs. George Bonecutter and Mrs. Grace Strickland, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Grace Deck and Mrs. R. C. Burkett, assistants.

The meeting day of the organization was changed from the fourth Thursday of each month to the second Wednesday. During the afternoon Mrs. Wood was presented with a potted cyclamen plant and a beautiful bouquet of sweet peas and Chinese lilies, Mrs. Burkett making the presentation.

Women of the December committee were in charge of a covered dish luncheon. Women whose birthdays fall in the months of January, February and March will be in charge of meetings held in these months. Miss Anna Granger, Mrs. Fred Perkins and Mrs. Grace Deck will act as leaders of the group.

A musical program was presented, with Mrs. Leon Des Larzes as program chairman. Mrs. Hager, accompanied by Mrs. Des Larzes, sang two solos; Mrs. George Bonecutter accompanied Mrs. Des Larzes when she sang a group of Negro spirituals and the latter was accompanist for Miss Erene White, who gave several vocal solos.

FLYING AROUND With Dale Deckert

"Bill" Cheney, one of the local pilots, was sporting a new blue pigskin sweater Christmas day at the Martin Airport. A number of wagers have been made as to how long Bill will be able to keep the grease from his Waco bi-plane off it.

Santa Claus deserted his reindeer this Christmas season for an airplane and, flying low over the manor of Frank Borchard, dropped a Christmas package with the aid of a parachute—and were the Borchards surprised!

Juvenile pilots, that is, pilots under 21 years of age, from now on must obtain consent of parents or guardians before they can be issued any type of pilot license. The Department of Commerce will issue a new license known as the Amateur Pilot License which will require 25 hours of solo flying. The amateur license will permit the pilot to transport himself by air from city to city, and to fly for his own pleasure. However, he cannot carry passengers either for hire or pleasure, until he receives a private pilot's license necessitating 50 hours of solo flying.

Under the new rules a private pilot will have to pass the same requirements as the transport pilot, which type of license is the highest issued by the Department of Commerce, Aeronautics division. The minimum age requirement is 16 years for private, amateur and students' license, and 18 years for limited, commercial and transport pilot.

A law has been passed in Canton, China, banning the wearing of short skirts or slit skirts, because they distract the attention of automobile drivers and cause accidents.

TOM TYLER IN LEAD OF FILM AT STATE

"Deadwood Pass," latest starring vehicle for Tom Tyler, which is playing tonight and Saturday at Walker's State theater, is a snappy Western with a good story, according to advance notices.

Tom cavorts to a rapid tempo and he is ably aided by a splendid cast which includes Alice Dahl, pretty blonde, Wally Wales, a Western star himself, Duke Lee, band man, Buffalo Bill jr., a star in his own right, and Lafe McKee, Blackie Whiteford and others.

The story concerns itself with the Hawk, late of "Deadwood Pass," who has these many years been incarcerated in a state prison—but who, if the papers may be relied upon, has broken out. Just then a stranger arrives in town, a stranger, who, one of the discerning outlawry discovers, has a black hawk with an "X" tatooed on his arm. This means but one thing—the stranger must be the Hawk!

'ROAD MENDER OF NAZARETH' TOPIC

ORANGE, Dec. 29.—"Road Mending and Nazareth," was the topic at the meeting of the Women's Home Missionary society at the First Methodist church Thursday. Mrs. W. B. Nuckols presided and Mrs. R. M. Buckles was program chairman.

Mrs. D. E. Claypool conducted the devotional period, which was centered on the theme of the afternoon and Miss Virginia Lee Marshall sang two solos, accompanying herself on the piano. Miss Marshall and Mrs. P. A. Lyon, who both are from Encinitas, were guests of Mrs. Minnie Eckert, a member.

Miss Virginia Wilbur played violin solos and Miss Marshall accompanied her at the piano. Miss Azalia Bebermeyer gave a talk on "The Road Mender of Nazareth." A candle lighting ceremony was conducted by a group of girls of the Girls' Missionary society of the church. These were Mary Kagle, Lura Dotson, Laura Durnbaugh, Marie Kast, Olive Marie Johnson, Frances DeWitt and Virginia Wilbur.

The girls served tea and cakes at the close of the meeting and the committee in charge included Mrs. Harry Nuffer, Mrs. Sherman Gillogly, Mrs. M. L. Smith and Mrs. J. Hancock.

BUSINESS MEN PAY TRIBUTE TO PLAYERS

Paying tribute to Coach Bill Cook's championship Santa Ana junior college football team, winner of the Southern California title, nearly 300 Santa Ana business and professional leaders gathered at a luncheon meeting in the Ebell clubhouse yesterday.

William M. "Bill" Henry, sports editor of the Los Angeles Times, was the featured speaker at the session, sponsored by the Santa Ana Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions clubs. He was introduced by John Henderson, program chairman.

Henry, who also was technical director of the Olympic Games at Los Angeles, upheld football as a great game which he said was an honest part of American education because the game teaches sportsmanship, a quality invaluable after graduation.

He traced the evolution of American football, telling how the game originated with soccer in England, when the ball was just kicked, how rugby developed, a game in which the ball could be carried but with no interference before the runner, and how rugby had developed into American football after being transplanted here.

Teaches Fundamentals

"Football," Henry said, "teaches boys valuable fundamentals which are of great value after they get out of school. The game teaches coordination, control, how to get along with other people and how to work together for a common cause.

"Sportsmanship is the greatest thing which comes out of football. We may forget All-American players, but we never forget a good sport."

The speaker entertained his listeners with many stories of the Olympic Games, declaring that the greatest good which came out of the games was demonstration of the value of sportsmanship.

Coach Cook was given a great ovation by the business and professional men, as was Assistant Coach Ed Adams and Acting Captain Miles Norton.

Introduce Players

Members of the championship team who were individually introduced by Coach Cook were Bob Mitchell, Ray Hapes, Horace Ritner, Roy Waer, Loren Lukens, Bob Bell, Bruce Handy, Sam Tucker, Frank Kroener, "Bud" Boyle, Harold Youel, Byron Stoddard, Paul Perenich, Walt Gunther, Roy Nowotny, Clair Preninger, Harold Welty, Fred "Porky" Bell, Ben Slavin, Bob Hafer and Bob Phipps.

Carson Smith, president of the Lions club, presided at the meeting. E. B. Sharpley, president of Rotary, and Dr. H. G. Huffman, president, and Theo Winbigler, president-elect of the Kiwanis club, were seated at the head table.

Scalding Springs Killed Boy

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore.—(UP)—Delmer Darnell, seven, efll in a ditch a foot deep with water. He was scalded to death before he could stand up. The water comes fro ma natural hot springs near the center of the city, which is used by many persons to heat tehir homes and by the local high school for athletes' shower baths.

Confederate Vets Pledge President Aid

Never before have Confederate soldiers made a formal pledge of fealty to a President of the United States. But this was the historic ceremony in the White House as General Rice Pierce, Commander of the Tennessee Division, U. C. V., presented President Roosevelt with a resolution pledging the support of 10,000 survivors of the Southern Armies. At left is Adjutant General Henry R. Lee of Nashville, Tenn.

COUNTY TO PAY ALL COSTS OF POLICE RADIO OPERATION; CITIES TO BUY UNIFORM SETS

Informed that costs of installation and maintenance would be entirely paid from the county general funds, city officials of the county gave enthusiastic support to the new police and emergency radio station and indicated that all cities would equip their police cars at once with radio sets. The action was taken last night at the monthly meeting of the Orange County League of Municipalities in Fullerton.

Four members of the county board of supervisors appeared before the League with Chairman Willard Smith and William Jerome leading the discussion. Smith told of the campaign to secure the radio for the county and the granting of the federal permit for a 400-watt, 2430-kilocycle station here, one of the largest types for police use.

At the close of the discussion, Mayor Hermann Hilmer of Newport Beach expressed the sentiment of the League in moving that Sheriff Logan Jackson call together representatives of all cities to purchase receiving sets through the county purchasing agent in one lot, to insure uniformity, quality and economy. Through this plan, it is believed that the sets can be bought for less than $75 each and will permit the technicians to be thoroughly familiar with every set in the county.

Maintenance Costs

Supervisor Smith, in presenting the plan for the county to bear the expense of the system, said that the entire county paid taxes, that prorating the cost among cities would entail too much expense and trouble and that maintenance costs of $4000 and $5000 each year could be taken from the general funds. He said that preliminary figures on the system called for an expense of about $4500 to $5000 but bids received and additional equipment authorized has mounted the cost to nearly $9000. It will cost $750 more for an aerial, which will be erected on the county jail.

The new radio station will be located in the county jail, Smith said, to give the closest possible cooperation with the police teletype system and other agencies of preventing crime. Three operators will be employed to work on eight hour shifts but nothing was brought up about the personnel by Smith.

Smith said he came before the city officials to picture the great advantages of a police radio system, to thank the League for its efforts in securing the radio and to secure the reaction of the cities, now that the permit had been granted and the supervisors ready to stand the entire expense.

Accept Offer

Virtually every mayor at the meeting expressed full approval of the plan, with Fullerton councilmen adding that the experience with service from the Los Angeles police radio station had convinced them of the advisability of a county system. Mayor L. A. Hogue moved that the offer be accepted with thanks and there was unanimous approval.

Work will have to start by January 8, Smith pointed out after his proposition had been accepted. The job must be completed by April 8 and bids will probably be opened and accepted at the board meeting next week.

Jerome pointed out that he was glad of the approval of the cities and wished to emphasize that the installation of the radio was in no way a criticism of present law enforcing methods, but that it put the officers considerably ahead of the criminal element and will be a valuable deterrent to crime.

EARTHQUAKE REPORTS MADE BY SCIENTIST

A report on the earthquake in Southern California of last March has been prepared for Carnegie Institution of Washington by Dr. Harry O. Wood, research associate of the institute, stationed at the seismological laboratory at Pasadena. It is based in part upon preliminary study of the instrument readings obtained at the laboratory prior to, during and following the earthquake.

Some of the observations and conclusions follow:

"The earthquake, which occurred on March 10, 1923, at about 5:54 p.m., caused 120 fatalities and damaged property in a number of communities in a restricted area in Orange county and the southern part of Los Angeles county.

"It originated about six miles beneath the surface at a point 3½ miles southwest of Newport Beach, in the general course of a fault zone, commonly called the Inglewood fault, projected to the southeastward beyond its intersection with the coast line.

"For several years sporadic shocks, of no severity, have occurred within a small district from 10 to 30 miles northwest of the origin of the shock of March 10. These were neither frequent enough nor sufficiently close together to be recognized as "foreshocks" presaging an earthquake of serious nature. One shock, felt sharply at Huntington Beach at 1:13 a.m. on March 9, originated very near the source of the main earthquake and must now be recognized as a true fore-shock.

"Notwithstanding these circumstances, the chief shock came without any clearly indicated warning. It was followed by many after-shocks, some strong enough to cause alarm and do additional damage to structures already seriously injured, but none of these was comparable in size and strength to the main shock.

"Much of the structural damage caused by the shock was due to presence of made land, or deep water-soaked alluvium or sand, and to bad foundation structures, unsuitable materials, and poor workmanship. More than usual this earthquake "picked on the cripples." Within a certain range of distance, the character of the ground was of far more importance in controlling apparent intensity than distance from the fault.

"The lessons taught by earlier events were not learned, or else were forgotten or disregarded. Therefore the present shock caused a minor disaster, the consequences of which, in large measure could have been avoided."

SURGEON WILL GIVE SERIES OF BIBLE LECTURES

Starting Sunday morning Calvary church will present an unusual series of Bible lectures in the Ebell club auditorium where the church meets each Sunday. The series will be conducted by Dr. Arthur I. Brown, noted Canadian surgeon.

Dr. Brown

Dr. Brown, recently of Vancouver, B. C. studied medicine first in Toronto then in Edinburgh and finally in London and later became a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh.

Becoming interested in the theory of evolution during his university days Dr. Brown studied under the most eminent evolution authorities of the world. He later became a deep student of the Bible and is now one of the leading exponents of the scientific accuracy of the scriptures.

Dr. Brown begins his series of addresses at the morning service of Calvary church. He also will speak at 3 p. m. and 7 p. m. Meetings will continue through the week and will start each evening at 7:30 o'clock, except Saturday when there will be no lecture. All services will be held in Ebell auditorium with the exception of those scheduled for Monday and Tuesday night. They will be held in Berean hall, 407 Fruit street.

New Low Priced Models Equipped With Reo Shift

In addition to the announcement by Reo of the addition to this famous line of a Standard Sedan and a Standard Coupe model, this week Reo further announces a new low price for these models equipped with the exclusive new Reo self-shifting mechanism.

"This new low price for the Standard, including the marvelous self-shifter", says W. W. Woods, local Reo dealer, "brings the car well within the limits of the purses of thousands of people who have always wanted a Reo but have felt the price was beyond their means, lower, in fact, than any Reo was ever before sold.

"The new flying Cloud is a big 118-inch, 3500 pound car, with beautiful aerodynamic lines, a style which orginated with Reo, with no diminution in Reo quality. Included among some of its features are the Chrome nickel iron cylinder block with lo-ex aluminum alloy pistons, seven bearings counterbalanced crankshaft, four wheel internal hydraulic brakes operating in centrifuse drums, x-braced frame, safety glass windshield, sun-visor, six-inch balloon tires on seventeen-inch wire wheels with spare wheel mounted in the rear, synchronized shaft and many others.

No motor-driven craft would be allowed on the lagoon, Markel explained, as it is planned that the park would be a quiet retreat for bathing, picnicking and water sports outside of motor sports.

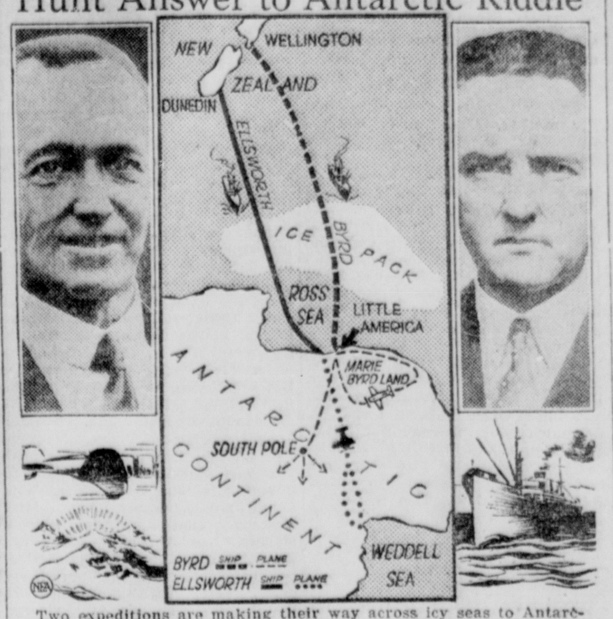
County Engineer Nat H. Neff was authorized to make preliminary plans and estimate of cost for the dredging and filling in the land where it is proposed to locate the park. The planning commission will take the matter up with the board of supervisors in the near future.

L. Demming Tilton, planning consultant, secured the approval of the planning commission to make application to the CWA for 10 men to be used in making a land survey to be used in the preparation of a county zoning map.

Consultant Tilton discussed the possibility of constructing a county auditorium and center on the fair grounds property between Santa Ana and Anaheim.

Commercial airplanes in United States, last year, flew 48,000,000 miles, as compared with 35,000,000 miles flown by all commercial lines of Europe.

Hunt Answer to Antarctic Riddle



Two expeditions are making their way across icy seas to Antarctica, to explore the "last continent," one headed by Richard E. Byrd, the other by Lincoln Ellsworth. The map shows their courses. Byrd is to land and explore Marie Byrd Land, Ellsworth is to fly from Ross sea across Antarctica to Weddell sea and return, in an effort to learn whether the vast mass is continent or islands. Ellsworth is shown, left, with sketch of his plane; Byrd, right, with his flagship, The Jacob Ruppert.

SUGGEST PARK DEVELOPMENT IN UPPER BAY TO UTILIZE PORT IMPROVEMENT MATERIAL

Visioning a quiet retreat in the form of a state park among the lagoons in upper Newport Harbor, members of the Orange county planning commission at a session yesterday in the courthouse annex, discussed plans for promoting the idea.

It is planned to take advantage of the dredged materials from the bay when the harbor improvement and development program starts, to build up sand fills along the lagoon just east of the bridge off the coast highway at the north end of the bay, according to Commissioner Jules Markel.

The land on Newport bay where the park would be located is owned by the county. The project would be one of a chain of state parks when completed, Markel said. It is hoped that aid will be obtained from the state park board. The land could be filled in with the dredged materials at little cost to the county, Markel stated.

REVEAL THANKS OF C. C. C. BOYS FOR DONATIONS

While an appeal for articles to make the camp recreation quarters more homelike and attractive for the boys who are stationed at Trabuco camp of the Civilian Conservation Corps, did not meet with the response hoped for, some articles have been donated which have added to the comfort of the camp, according to a statement made today by Lt. A Sutcliffe, camp commander.

Some two weeks ago an appeal was published in The Register, coming from Lieutenant Sutcliffe, for any games, furniture, playing cards, or anything which could be used to make the boys at camp feel at home.

As a result of the appeal, two 9x12 rugs, a phonograph and records, a piano and several small articles have been donated, for which the boys expressed sincere appreciation through their commander. Anyone who has anything they do not need and cares to give it to the camp may do so by notifying Lieutenant Sutcliffe by writing the camp at El Toro and the articles will be picked up.

A fireplace has been built into the recreation room and an orchestra is being formed, which is handicapped by lack of orchestrations, he reported.

Parents and Son Meet In S. A. 1st Time In 22 Years

A reunion of special significance occured here over the holiday when John Cotty, of Seattle, brother of Mrs. Harry Edwards, 930 Halliday street, met his parents for the first time in 22 years.

John Cotty, with his wife and daughter, Virginia, came to the Edwards home here, where he met his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Cotty, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, who are spending the winter at the Edwards home. They soon will celebrate their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary.

Starting Sunday morning Calvary church will present an unusual series of Bible lectures in the Ebell club auditorium where the church meets each Sunday. The series will be conducted by Dr. Arthur I. Brown, noted Canadian surgeon.

Dr. Brown

Dr. Brown, recently of Vancouver, B. C. studied medicine first in Toronto then in Edinburgh and finally in London and later became a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh.

Becoming interested in the theory of evolution during his university days Dr. Brown studied under the most eminent evolution authorities of the world. He later became a deep student of the Bible and is now one of the leading exponents of the scientific accuracy of the scriptures.

Dr. Brown begins his series of addresses at the morning service of Calvary church. He also will speak at 3 p. m. and 7 p. m. Meetings will continue through the week and will start each evening at 7:30 o'clock, except Saturday when there will be no lecture. All services will be held in Ebell auditorium with the exception of those scheduled for Monday and Tuesday night. They will be held in Berean hall, 407 Fruit street.

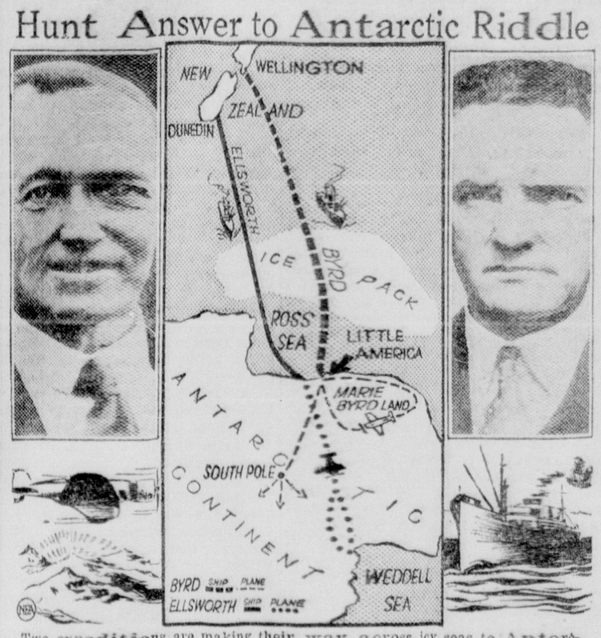
New Low Priced Models Equipped With Reo Shift

In addition to the announcement by Reo of the addition to this famous line of a Standard Sedan and a Standard Coupe model, this week Reo further announces a new low price for these models equipped with the exclusive new Reo self-shifting mechanism.

"This new low price for the Standard, including the marvelous self-shifter", says W. W. Woods, local Reo dealer, "brings the car well within the limits of the purses of thousands of people who have always wanted a Reo but have felt the price was beyond their means, lower, in fact, than any Reo was ever before sold.

"The new flying Cloud is a big 118-inch, 3500 pound car, with beautiful aerodynamic lines, a style which orginated with Reo, with no diminution in Reo quality. Included among some of its features are the Chrome nickel iron cylinder block with lo-ex aluminum alloy pistons, seven bearings counterbalanced crankshaft, four wheel internal hydraulic brakes operating in centrifuse drums, x-braced frame, safety glass windshield, sun-visor, six-inch balloon tires on seventeen-inch wire wheels with spare wheel mounted in the rear, synchronized shaft and many others.

Hunt Answer to Antarctic Riddle



Two expeditions are making their way across icy seas to Antarctica, to explore the "last continent," one headed by Richard E. Byrd, the other by Lincoln Ellsworth. The map shows their courses. Byrd is to land and explore Marie Byrd Land, Ellsworth is to fly from Ross sea across Antarctica to Weddell sea and return, in an effort to learn whether the vast mass is continent or islands. Ellsworth is shown, left, with sketch of his plane; Byrd, right, with his flagship, The Jacob Ruppert.

SUGGEST PARK DEVELOPMENT IN UPPER BAY TO UTILIZE PORT IMPROVEMENT MATERIAL

Visioning a quiet retreat in the form of a state park among the lagoons in upper Newport Harbor, members of the Orange county planning commission at a session yesterday in the courthouse annex, discussed plans for promoting the idea.

It is planned to take advantage of the dredged materials from the bay when the harbor improvement and development program starts, to build up sand fills along the lagoon just east of the bridge off the coast highway at the north end of the bay, according to Commissioner Jules Markel.

The land on Newport bay where the park would be located is owned by the county. The project would be one of a chain of state parks when completed, Markel said. It is hoped that aid will be obtained from the state park board. The land could be filled in with the dredged materials at little cost to the county, Markel stated.

No motor-driven craft would be allowed on the lagoon, Markel explained, as it is planned that the park would be a quiet retreat for bathing, picnicking and water sports outside of motor sports.

County Engineer Nat H. Neff was authorized to make preliminary plans and estimate of cost for the dredging and filling in the land where it is proposed to locate the park. The planning commission will take the matter up with the board of supervisors in the near future.

L. Demming Tilton, planning consultant, secured the approval of the planning commission to make application to the CWA for 10 men to be used in making a land survey to be used in the preparation of a county zoning map.

Consultant Tilton discussed the possibility of constructing a county auditorium and center on the fair grounds property between Santa Ana and Anaheim.

REVEAL THANKS OF C. C. C. BOYS FOR DONATIONS

While an appeal for articles to make the camp recreation quarters more homelike and attractive for the boys who are stationed at Trabuco camp of the Civilian Conservation Corps, did not meet with the response hoped for, some articles have been donated which have added to the comfort of the camp, according to a statement made today by Lt. A Sutcliffe, camp commander.

Some two weeks ago an appeal was published in The Register, coming from Lieutenant Sutcliffe, for any games, furniture, playing cards, or anything which could be used to make the boys at camp feel at home.

As a result of the appeal, two 9x12 rugs, a phonograph and records, a piano and several small articles have been donated, for which the boys expressed sincere appreciation through their commander. Anyone who has anything they do not need and cares to give it to the camp may do so by notifying Lieutenant Sutcliffe by writing the camp at El Toro and the articles will be picked up.

A fireplace has been built into the recreation room and an orchestra is being formed, which is handicapped by lack of orchestrations, he reported.

Parents and Son Meet In S. A. 1st Time In 22 Years

A reunion of special significance occured here over the holiday when John Cotty, of Seattle, brother of Mrs. Harry Edwards, 930 Halliday street, met his parents for the first time in 22 years.

John Cotty, with his wife and daughter, Virginia, came to the Edwards home here, where he met his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Cotty, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, who are spending the winter at the Edwards home. They soon will celebrate their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary.

Camp and Auxiliary Join in Holiday Dinner

The post-Christmas dinner with which Calumpit camp and auxiliary U. S. W. V. observed the holiday season this week in Knights of Columbus hall was attended by more than 200 members.

The hall was brightened with a large Christmas tree and a holly bell, while the dining table was decorated with cotoneaster, poinsettias and a smaller tree. Place cards were of Santa Claus design. Turkey and its accessories of vegetables, salad, preserves and plum pudding were served.

On the committee in charge of the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Hardin Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Tantlinger, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waffle, Mrs. Elva Hunt, Mrs. Tillie Weewell and Mrs. Anna Trueblood.

The program included group singing of "America"; a violin solo by Lloyd Folger, accompanied by Mrs. Folger; acrobatic dances by Velma Stroud, pupil of Vera Getty; selections, "Wooden Soldiers", "The Load is Heavy", "Sea Winds" and "Nursery Songs" by the Cloverleaf quartet; a reading, "Honeymooners", Miss June Arnold; a one act play, "Troubles of a Bridegroom and the Lost Collar Button" by Santa Ana Junior College students, with Miss Lucille Harper announcing the cast of characters.

Local Visitors Escape Injuries En Route Here

Narrowly escaping injury in an automobile accident enroute south from their home in Trona, Calif., for a holiday visit, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ousley and son, Kenneth, brought cause for special rejoicing in the home of Mrs. Ousley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baldwin, 1010 Fairview avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Ousley felt that they had been unusually fortunate in not receiving injuries, since their car was turned over and considerably damaged in the wreck, which occurred in Cajon Pass when they were hit by a drunken driver. Two men riding in the Ousley car were injured and taken to the hospital in San Bernardino.

Kenneth Ousley is remaining here for a week's visit with his grandparents, his parents having returned to their home Monday afternoon. Other Christmas guests of Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, some remaining for overnight visits, were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lord of San Bernardino, with whom the Ousleys visited before coming on to Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grey of Redlands; Mrs. A. V. Jones and grandson, Allen Hildebrand of Yucaipa.

Relief Corps

Sedgwick Women's Relief Corps met Wednesday afternoon in Pythian hall with Mrs. Julia Cozad, president, in the chair. In all there were 14 officers and 21 members present.

Initiation rites were conducted and Mrs. Sadie Ryan was received into membership.

Business details included the reporting of 52 calls made and seven bouquets delivered since the last previous meeting. Plans also were made for the Corps to adopt a Spanish War veteran at Sawtelle hospital to take the place of the veteran formerly receiving money and attentions from the group, but now able to work. George Woodward was the one selected for adoption.

Holiday Guests Here Inspire Pleasant Hospitalities

Among the many pleasant courtesies inspired by the holiday visit here of Mr. and Mrs. James Irvine of Irvine ranch and San Francisco, was the informal luncheon and bridge with which Mrs. Howard Timmons entertained Wednesday with Mrs. James Irvine and her mother, Mrs. James Holland Davis of Piedmont, as honor guests.

Christmas appointments still in place in the Timmons home on Red Hill avenue, gave a festive effect to the gay little party, and were especially charming at the small tables where luncheon was served. Miss Betty Jane Timmons, young daughter of the home, was her mother's assistant, and served the entire luncheon deftly and capably.

Places were indicated for Mrs. Irvine, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. George Briggs, Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank, Mrs. Sara Haddon, Mrs. M. D. Borgmeyer, Mrs. Benjamin J. MacMullen and Mrs. Irwin F. Landis.

Contract in the after-luncheon hours brought success to Mrs. Haddon and Mrs. Landis whose scores were first and second high. To them were presented the prizes selected by Mrs. Timmons.

Christmas Homecoming Is Joyous Event

Once again the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kohler, 1601 Willits street, was setting for the Christmas homecoming when members of the family gathered to enjoy a celebration.

Holly, cotoneaster, poinsettias and many bright candles heightened the holiday effect of the home and the table where turkey menu was served at 1 o'clock. Gay Christmas favors were at each place.

Mr. and Mrs. Kohler received as their guests, the former's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Kohler, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Kohler and daughter and sons, Miss Edna, Raymond and Lee Kohler, all of this city; Mrs. Sadie Beal, Canoga Park; Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Warne and son Donald, Covina, and Harold and Floyd Kohler of the home.

Family Circle Holds Annual Celebration

Among the countless family celebrations on Christmas was that in the J. B. Head home, 2117 Greenleaf street, where members of the family circle held their annual celebration.

A beautifully decorated and heavily laden tree, a fire blazing on the wide hearth, merry games for the young people, and a reverent hour devoted to the singing of Christmas carols, were features of a happy day climaxed by the elaborate turkey dinner.

In the party with Mr. and Mrs. Head and family were Mrs. C. W. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Burns and family, and Fred Pinkston of this city; Judge and Mrs. K. C. Newell and family of Pasadena and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bacon and family of Baldwin Park.

Disney's Little Pigs Find Their Way Here

Home for a holiday visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Allen, 1907 Spurgeon street, Miss Flossie Allen had unusually interesting incidents to relate of her activities as a nurse at the Good Samaritan hospital, where she has just had as her special charge, Mrs. Walt Disney and her new baby daughter.

The "Three Little Pigs" which brought Walt Disney additional fame this season, found their counterparts on many of the gifts which the Disneys distributed at Christmas time. Mrs. Disney's gifts to Miss Allen included a compact, decks of cards and bridge scores, all adorned with the famous pigs.

Mr. and Mrs. Disney have been married for 15 years, and the new daughter is their first child.

Sorority Groups Hold Gay Celebrations Of Holidays

Sigma Theta

Complimentary to three newly initiated members of Sigma Theta sorority was the supper dance given so successfully by the Santa Ana chapter on Wednesday night in the supper room of the Los Angeles Biltmore. The Misses Berenice Summers, Harriet Greutner and Catherine Cornwell were the members so charmingly received.

Dancing to the superlative music of Jay Whidden's orchestra, ...ist the attractive Yule decorations of the intimate supper room, the young people spent a merry evening culminating with the supper hour as midnight approached.

Sigma Theta members present were the Misses Martha Wallingford, Doris Rohrbacher, Barbara Rurup, Louise Rurup, Ruth Owens, Loretta Spangler, Helen Spangler, Elma McBride, Frances Bowman, Betty Wiswall, Corrinne Lecrivain, Betty Smith, Georgina Irvin, Betty Hewitt, Rachel Lamb, Charlene Lowell, Frances Vieira, Barbara Horton, Marjorie Burns, Marjorie Watkins, Eleanor Rairdon, Wilma Silver, Mrs. Joe Irwin, Mrs. William Jerome, Santa Ana; Miss Eleanor Yount and Miss Shirley Marble, Los Angeles. Their escorts were Messrs. George Preble, Orville Schuhardt, William Kistinger, Terry Stephenson, Robert Fixall, Herbert McVay, George Bradley, Ernest Stump, Dr. James Privett of Los Angeles, Walter Mellott, Will Wallingford, Gilbert Meisinger, Norman Paul, Will Cartwright, Frank Hillegass, Larry Reitnour, Philip Martin of Los Angeles, Joe Irwin, William Jerome, Stewart McPherson of Los Angeles, Joseph Bouchard, Remington Mills of Palos Verdes, Bob Campbell and Hubert Wakeham.

Phi Theta Chi

Dancing with the gay holiday crowd at the Hollywood Roosevelt hotel, members of Pi Theta Chi sorority and their escorts formed part of a brilliant picture Wednesd... night, and shared what all declared to have been a wonderful evening.

Christmas decorations of the hotel were striking and included a glittering tree in the foyer. The ballroom used the silver bell motif with delightful effect. The table reserved for the sorority members and their escorts, was embellished with Christmas symbols and vivid place cards.

Dancing between courses and after dinner was to the fine program played by the hotel orchestra, and was shared by the Misses Ruth Souder, Winifred Schneider, Lucille Crawford, Carol Smith, Betty Niedergall, Charlene Kype, Mary Alice White, Mary Louise Niedergall, Pi Theta Chi members, their guest, Miss Alberta Green, and Messrs. Kenneth Manderscheid, Bill Rasmussen, Bill Courtney, John Schrier, Bob Naylon, Richard White, Bernard Sharpley and Jac Crawford.

Sigma Tau Psi

Formal initiation ceremonies at which the Misses Velma Allen and Genevieve Glover became members of Sigma Tau Psi sorority Wednesday night in the home of the Misses Alyce and Mary Emil Majors, 1811 North Flower street, were followed by a supper dance at the Ambassador Cocoanut Grove in Los Angeles. All events of the pleasant evening had been arranged in compliment to the initiates.

By the light of many red tapers the ceremony was conducted by Miss Betty Rowland, president. Poinsettias furthered the holiday decorative theme. After Miss Allen and Miss Glover had been pledged to the organization, they were presented with Sigma Tau Psi bracelets.

The Misses Jean and Carol House were present, but did not go on to the Grove. In the group going to Los Angeles were the Misses Muriel Rogers, Alyce Majors, Mary Emil Majors, Jean Peacock, Jean Rowland, Betty Rowland, Louise Leck, Alyce Hanson, Betty Barkman, Lucie Holmes, Mary Jane Sturgeon, Mary Read, Winifred Johnston, Eloise Wright, Velma Allen, Genevieve Glover; Messrs. Leland Gerken, Thomas Jentges, Max Sherwood, Ray Mosberg, Howard Hales, George Reeves, Charles Oxrart, John Shoemaker, John Minter, Clarence Rousseau, Harold Lewis, Tobie McHenry, Edward Sugden, Bob Gardner, Stanley Dyckman and Stan Wheeler; Messrs. and Mesdames Harold Mathews, Robert Reed, C. W. Hoyle, Don Harwood, Bruce Vegeley, William Hewitt.

The sorority's first holiday event was an annual Christmas party in the Fullerton home of Miss Eloise Wright for members and former members. The two pledges, the Misses Velma Allen and Genevieve Glover provided a special program.

Bridge wasp layed during the remainder of the evening. Refreshments served t the small tables were in keeping with a Christmas theme. Miss Allen and Miss Glover were asked to fill the roles of Santa Claus and distribute the many pretty packages which had been placed beneath the decorated tree as guests first arrived.

Those participating in this affair with the hostess, Miss Wright, were Mrs. Dorothy Selway, Mrs. C. W. Hoyle, Mrs. Lavinia McClelland, Mrs. Don Harwood, Mrs. Bruce Vegeley, and the Misses Louise Leck, Jean House, Carol House, Betty Rowland, Jean Rowland, Ann Tarver, Betty Barkman, Virginia Berry, Genevieve Glover, Velma Allen, Lucie Holmes, Mary Emil Majors, Alyce Majors, Alice Hanson, Jean Peacock, Mary Read, Winifred Johnston, Mary Jane Sturgeon and a special guest, Miss Lucille Lowell of Los Angeles.

YOU and your friends

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pollock and Miss Florine Pollock, 1113 West Fifth street, have as a guest for a few days, their three-year-old granddaughter and niece, little Miss Sylvia Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davidson of Pasadena. Mrs. Davidson will be remembered as Miss Marjorie Pollock.

Paul Mefferd of Toledo, Ohio, who is wintering in California, spent the week end at the home of Mrs. Maude Bronson of West Fourth street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ernest and family of Los Angeles visited this week at the home of Mrs. Ernest's sister, Mrs. Maude Bronson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Platt of 416 South Birch street, and their son, Lawrence Platt, spent the Christmas holidays at the home of the Platts' daughter, Mrs. Frank Marshall of Pasadena.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Palmer of Eagle Rock spent the Christmas holidays at the home of the Rev. Mr. Palmer's mother, Mrs. Adelaide Palmer, 412 East Sixth street.

Mrs. Anna Allen, 416 East Sixth street, who spent the Christmas week end in Long Beach with her friends, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Copeland, returned yesterday, accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Copeland, who were her guests for the day in this city.

Mrs. Ida Boynton, 422 South Birch street, had a happy Christmas surprise in the unexpected arrival on the Sunday preceding the holiday, of her daughters, Mrs. John Farrand and Mrs. Everetta Arbogast of St. Paul, Minn. Yesterday, the Minnesotans spent the day in Los Angeles with their aunt, Mrs. Mary Gilbert, and will be week-end guests in Long Beach of their cousin, Mrs. M. E. Gilbert. They will remain with Mrs. Boynton until January 5 when they will leave via Union Pacific for St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Peters, 1022 North Broadway, had as visitors yesterday Mrs. Retta Julian and Mr. Peters' sister, Mrs. Addie Dean and Mrs. Mertha Myler, the latter a principal in the Los Angeles city schools, all residents of Glendale.

100 Couples Attend Fraternity Dance

One hundred couples participated in the holiday dance with which Sigma Alpha fraternity entertained recently in the old-English style ballroom of Long Beach Country club.

Marking the first time that the annual Christmas dance had been opened to young people not members of the chapter, the affair was acclaimed a huge success. Bob Dumm's Lafayette Hotel orchestra provided music for the occasion.

Guests of the fraternity were present from Los Angeles, Palo Alto, Pasadena, Alhambra and Long Beach. On the committee in charge of the affair were Walter Hendrie, Robert Wimbush and Otto Grigg, all of Santa Ana.

Bohemian Theme Used Successfully at Holiday Party

A night in Bohemia was the delightful manner in which a quartet of girls, the Misses Allien Lair, Mary Ford, Katherine Spicer and Marie Smith, chose to stage a gay reunion of old friends as a post Christmas event. Incidentally the party was the first social event to be staged in the home of Miss Lair's parents, 2304 Spurgeon street, of which they took possession in early December, and proved a most pleasant housewarming.

To be in accord with the party theme, guests arrived in informal attire of gay pajamas and pretty negligees, and as each arrived she was instructed to join the receiving line to aid in greeting later arrivals.

To the Yule decorations of the home were added bright-checked draperies and vivid table covers, tall candles in oddly shaped bottles and similar unconventional appointments to heighten the Bohemian studio atmosphere.

Guests were divided into four groups for drama, poetry, art and music, and showed a marked originality in providing the entertainment program. This included lyrics for a musical composition which proved to be "The Big Bad Wolf," original one-act plays on a romantic bridal theme, artistic paintings (via crayolas) of "Gazelle at Bay," and a collection of "Odes to M——." Prizes proved quite as original and entertaining as the productions meriting them.

For the late supper course, cellophane decorated paper bags filled with unusual dainties on the Bohemian theme, were passed, and the guests gathered in informal groups to enjoy the delightful supper menu.

Mrs. Allen Lair assisted her daughter and the three co-hostesses in all details of entertaining the gay group of young people who included Mrs. Dean Clair Hansen (Lorene Matney), and the Misses June Arnold, Ruth Crawford, Margaret Cianfoni, Mary Cianfoni, Mildred Calkins, Eva Deane Caskey, Beulah Dudgeon, Carol Erskine, Eugenia Gilbert, Helen Hoff, Dorothy Mayhew, Evelyn Metzgar, Elinor Metzgar, Lucie McDermott, Rowena Newcomb, Corrine Nelson, Madalynn Philleo, Emmalena Richards, Eleanore Redmond, Elsie Siemsen, Caroline Smith, Faye Stinson, Eunice Spicer, Ellen Snebley, Elza Venn, Genevieve Wicks and Hattie Belle Wall.

Jaysee Moav Alumnae Honored by Chapter At Bridge Party

Merry greetings were extended and friendships renewed at the delightful party Thursday evening with which members of the junior college Moav club honored alumnae members home for the holidays from various colleges and universities. This annual affair was held in the city Y.W.C.A. rooms effectively decorated with small green bushes.

Following a social interval, guests found their places at card tables for bridge, in which high score was made by Miss Edith Bailey who was presented with a pretty box of stationery while Miss Catherine Hull, scoring low, was given a bottle of perfume. A program featured Miss Jeannette Lutes in an amusing reading and Miss Dulcie Green, soloist, accompanied by Miss Margaret Gregg.

For the refreshment course card tables were centered with green tapers whose light provided the only illumination for that hour. Committees for the affair were the Misses Gertrude Chapman, refreshments; Jeanne Leive, entertainment; Eulabelle Smith, program; Barbara Allen, decorations.

Guests of honor were the Misses Dulcie Green, Edith Bailey, Katherine Chapman, Marie McGinnis, Geraldine Cole, Helen Wiesseman, Jeannette Lutes, Edna Hall, Elizabeth Riniker and Violet Johnson. Hostesses included the Misses Lucille Scheiber, Arden Murray, Evelyn Richardson, Natalie Neff, Gertrude Chapman, Jeanne Leive, Alta Fisher, Catherine Hull, Ardith Parham and the advisers, Miss Mabel Whitting and Miss Marian Bruner.

Recent Bride Receives Miscellaneous Gifts At Gay Party

Complimenting a reecnt bride, Mrs. Robert Wolfe of Hollywood, formerly Miss Inarose Welder of this community, was a delightfully planned bridal shower given this week in the home of Mrs. W. S. Eicher of Fullerton, an aunt of the honor guest.

Two entertaining contests were introduced as amusement features, and prizes awarded in each event went to Mrs. Norvell E. Whittam and Mrs. Bert Schrott, scoring first and second high in one, and to Mrs. Oss Oelke and Mrs. George Cupp, with similar scores in the second.

Small tables, prettily decorated, were employed for the serving of a refreshment course which featured wedding bell ices. This pleasant interval was followed by the main feature of the evening, the presentation to Mrs. Wolfe of an array of miscellaneous gifts for her new home in North Hollywood.

Santa Ana guests at the party were Mrs. Norvell E. Whittam and Miss Mary Jane Welder, sisters of Mrs. Wolfe, and Mrs. C. M. Whitham. Others present were Mrs. Bert Schrott, Mrs. Juday, Miss Ardis Eicher, Miss Joan Schrott and Mrs. C. Putnam, Fullerton; Mrs. Edward Anderson, Mrs. George Cupp, Mrs. George Findlay, Mrs. E. L. Hatcher, Mrs. Alice Schmidt, Miss Dorothy Berry and Miss Ruth Daugherty, Anaheim; Mrs. Osa Oelke and Miss Coral Oelke, Brea, with the hostess, Mrs. William S. Eicher, and the honor guest, Mrs. Wolfe, completing the group.

Church Societies

First Baptist

World Wide Guild Girls of the First Baptist church enjoyed a covered dish dinner and a program in the church basement this week under the leadership of Miss Mildred Marchant, counsellor.

Mildred Crowl Martin, a student at the University of Redlands, discussed white slavery and drug addiction in her talk on "The Problems Youth Must Face Today." Miss Dorothy Robinson, also a Redlands student, gave an interesting report of the work of her sister, Miss Elizabeth Robinson at the Baptist Missionary Training school in Chicago.

Helen Winchell Griffith, soprano soloist, sang "Be Still and Know." After visitors had been introduced, the two groups, Ashmore Circle and Naomi Fletcher chapter, held individual meetings.

First Presbyterian

First Presbyterian General Aid society held a program of special interest at its December meeting Wednesday in the church, where a large Christmas tree provided appropriate background.

The Rev. O. Scott McFarland conducted devotionals based on Moffett's translation of the 12th chapter ... Romans. The program followed, with Mrs. M. E. Geeting giving readings, "Mandy's Organ" and "The Candle of Service;" Frank Pearce, soloist of First Christian church, singing "Oh Love at Will Not Let Me Go" and "The Blind Ploughman."

Mrs. Charles H. Baird conducted a short business meeting with which the afternoon was concluded.

Camp and Auxiliary Join in Holiday Dinner

The post-Christmas dinner with which Calumpit camp and auxiliary U. S. W. V. observed the holiday season this week in Knights of Columbus hall was attended by more than 200 members.

The hall was brightened with a large Christmas tree and a holly bell, while the dining table was decorated with cotoneaster, poinsettias and a smaller tree. Place cards were of Santa Claus design. Turkey and its accessories of vegetables, salad, preserves and plum pudding were served.

On the committee in charge of the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Hardin Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Tantlinger, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waffle, Mrs. Elva Hunt, Mrs. Tillie Weewell and Mrs. Anna Trueblood.

The program included group singing of "America"; a violin solo by Lloyd Folger, accompanied by Mrs. Folger; acrobatic dances by Velma Stroud, pupil of Vera Getty; selections, "Wooden Soldiers", "The Load is Heavy", "Sea Winds" and "Nursery Songs" by the Cloverleaf quartet; a reading, "Honeymooners", Miss June Arnold; a one act play, "Troubles of a Bridegroom and the Lost Collar Button" by Santa Ana Junior College students, with Miss Lucille Harper announcing the cast of characters.

Local Visitors Escape Injuries En Route Here

Narrowly escaping injury in an automobile accident enroute south from their home in Trona, Calif., for a holiday visit, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ousley and son, Kenneth, brought cause for special rejoicing in the home of Mrs. Ousley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baldwin, 1010 Fairview avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Ousley felt that they had been unusually fortunate in not receiving injuries, since their car was turned over and considerably damaged in the wreck, which occurred in Cajon Pass when they were hit by a drunken driver. Two men riding in the Ousley car were injured and taken to the hospital in San Bernardino.

Kenneth Ousley is remaining here for a week's visit with his grandparents, his parents having returned to their home Monday afternoon. Other Christmas guests of Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, some remaining for overnight visits, were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lord of San Bernardino, with whom the Ousleys visited before coming on to Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grey of Redlands; Mrs. A. V. Jones and grandson, Allen Hildebrand of Yucaipa.

Relief Corps

Sedgwick Women's Relief Corps met Wednesday afternoon in Pythian hall with Mrs. Julia Cozad, president, in the chair. In all there were 14 officers and 21 members present.

Initiation rites were conducted and Mrs. Sadie Ryan was received into membership.

Business details included the reporting of 52 calls made and seven bouguets delivered since the last previous meeting. Plans also were made for the Corps to adopt a Spanish War veteran at Sawtelle hospital to take the place of the veteran formerly receiving money and attentions from the group, but now able to work. George Woodward was the one selected for adoption.

Holiday Guests Here Inspire Pleasant Hospitalities

Among the many pleasant courtesies inspired by the holiday visit here of Mr. and Mrs. James Irvine of Irvine ranch and San Francisco, was the informal luncheon and bridge with which Mrs. Howard Timmons entertained Wednesday with Mrs. James Irvine and her mother, Mrs. James Holland Davis of Piedmont, as honor guests.

Christmas appointments still in place in the Timmons home on Red Hill avenue, gave a festive effect to the gay little party, and were especially charming at the small tables where luncheon was served. Miss Betty Jane Timmons, young daughter of the home, was her mother's assistant, and served the entire luncheon deftly and capably.

Places were indicated for Mrs. Irvine, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. George Briggs, Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank, Mrs. Sara Haddon, Mrs. M. D. Borgmeyer, Mrs. Benjamin J. MacMullen and Mrs. Irwin F. Landis.

Contract in the after-luncheon hours brought success to Mrs. Haddon and Mrs. Landis whose scores were first and second high. To them were presented the prizes selected by Mrs. Timmons.

Christmas Homecoming Is Joyous Event

Once again the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kohler, 1601 Willits street, was setting for the Christmas homecoming when members of the family gathered to enjoy a celebration.

Holly, cotoneaster, poinsettias and many bright candles heightened the holiday effect of the home and the table where turkey menu was served at 1 o'clock. Gay Christmas favors were at each place.

Mr. and Mrs. Kohler received as their guests, the former's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Kohler, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Kohler and daughter and sons, Miss Edna, Raymond and Lee Kohler, all of this city; Mrs. Sadie Beal, Canoga Park; Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Warne and son Donald, Covina, and Harold and Floyd Kohler of the home.

Family Circle Holds Annual Celebration

Among the countless family celebrations on Christmas was that in the J. B. Head home, 2117 Greenleaf street, where members of the family circle held their annual celebration.

A beautifully decorated and heavily laden tree, a fire blazing on the wide hearth, merry games for the young people, and a reverent hour devoted to the singing of Christmas carols, were features of a happy day climaxed by the elaborate turkey dinner.

In the party with Mr. and Mrs. Head and family were Mrs. C. W. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Burns and family, and Fred Pinkston of this city; Judge and Mrs. K. C. Newell and family of Pasadena and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bacon and family of Baldwin Park.

Disney's Little Pigs Find Their Way Here

Home for a holiday visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Allen, 1907 Spurgeon street, Miss Flossie Allen had unusually interesting incidents to relate of her activities as a nurse at the Good Samaritan hospital, where she has just had as her special charge, Mrs. Walt Disney and her new baby daughter.

The "Three Little Pigs" which brought Walt Disney additional fame this season, found their counterparts on many of the gifts which the Disneys distributed at Christmas time. Mrs. Disney's gifts to Miss Allen included a compact, decks of cards and bridge scores, all adorned with the famous pigs.

Mr. and Mrs. Disney have been married for 15 years, and the new daughter is their first child.

Sigma Theta

Complimentary to three newly initiated members of Sigma Theta sorority was the supper dance given so successfully by the Santa Ana chapter on Wednesday night in the supper room of the Los Angeles Biltmore. The Misses Berenice Summers, Harriet Greutner and Catherine Cornwell were the members so charmingly received.

Dancing to the superlative music of Jay Whidden's orchestra, amidst the attractive Yule decorations of the intimate supper room, the young people spent a merry evening culminating with the supper hour as midnight approached.

Sigma Theta members present were the Misses Martha Wallingford, Doris Rohrbacher, Barbara Rurup, Louise Rurup, Ruth Owens, Loretta Spangler, Helen Spangler, Elma McBride, Frances Bowman, Betty Wiswall, Corrinne Lecrivain, Betty Smith, Georgina Irvin, Betty Hewitt, Rachel Lamb, Charlene Lowell, Frances Vieira, Barbara Horton, Marjorie Burns, Marjorie Watkins, Eleanor Rairdon, Wilma Silver, Mrs. Joe Irwin, Mrs. William Jerome, Santa Ana; Miss Eleanor Yount and Miss Shirley Marble, Los Angeles. Their escorts were Messrs. George Preble, Orville Schuhardt, William Kistlinger, Terry Stephenson, Robert Fixall, Herbert McVay, George Bradley, Ernest Stump, Dr. James Privett of Los Angeles, Walter Mellott, Will Wallingford, Gilbert Meisinger, Norman Paul, Will Cartwright, Frank Hillegass, Larry Reitnour, Philip Martin of Los Angeles, Joe Irwin, William Jerome, Stewart McPherson of Los Angeles, Joseph Bouchard, Remington Mills of Palos Verdes, Bob Campbell and Hubert Wakeham.

Phi Theta Chi

Dancing with the gay holiday crowd at the Hollywood Roosevelt hotel, members of Pi Theta Chi sorority and their escorts formed part of a brilliant picture Wednesday night, and shared what all declared to have been a wonderful evening.

Christmas decorations of the hotel were striking and included a glittering tree in the foyer. The ballroom used the silver bell motif with delightful effect. The table reserved for the sorority members and their escorts, was embellished with Christmas symbols and vivid place cards.

Dancing between courses and after dinner was to the fine program played by the hotel orchestra, and was shared by the Misses Ruth Souder, Winifred Schneider, Lucille Crawford, Carol Smith, Betty Niedergall, Charlene Kype, Mary Alice White, Mary Louise Niedergall, Pi Theta Chi members, their guest, Miss Alberta Green, and Messrs. Kenneth Manderscheid, Bill Rasmussen, Bill Courtney, John Schrier, Bob Naylon, Richard White, Bernard Sharpley and Jac Crawford.

Sigma Tau Psi

Formal initiation ceremonies at which the Misses Velma Allen and Genevieve Glover became members of Sigma Tau Psi sorority Wednesday night in the home of the Misses Alyce and Mary Emil Majors, 1811 North Flower street, were followed by a supper dance at the Ambassador Cocoanut Grove in Los Angeles. All events of the pleasant evening had been arranged in compliment to the initiates.

By the light of many red tapers the ceremony was conducted by Miss Betty Rowland, president. Poinsettias furthered the holiday decorative theme. After Miss Allen and Miss Glover had been pledged to the organization, they were presented with Sigma Tau Psi bracelets.

The Misses Jean and Carol House were present, but did not go on to the Grove. In the group going to Los Angeles were the Misses Muriel Rogers, Alyce Majors, Mary Emil Majors, Jean Peacock, Jean Rowland, Betty Rowland, Louise Leck, Alyce Hanson, Betty Barkman, Lucie Holmes, Mary Jane Sturgeon, Mary Read, Winifred Johnston, Eloise Wright, Velma Allen, Genevieve Glover; Messrs. Leland Gerken, Thomas Jentges, Max Sherwood, Ray Mosberg, Howard Hales, George Reeves, Charles Oxrart, John Shoemaker, John Minter, Clarence Rousseau, Harold Lewis, Tobie McHenry, Edward Sugden, Bob Gardner, Stanley Dyckman and Stan Wheeler; Messrs. and Mesdames Harold Mathews, Robert Reed, C. W. Hoyle, Don Harwood, Bruce Vegeley, William Hewitt.

The sorority's first holiday event was an annual Christmas party in the Fullerton home of Miss Eloise Wright for members and former members. The two pledges, the Misses Velma Allen and Genevieve Glover provided a special program.

Bridge was layed during the remainder of the evening. Refreshments served t the small tables were in keeping with a Christmas theme. Miss Allen and Miss Glover were asked to fill the roles of Santa Claus and distribute the many pretty packages which had been placed beneath the decorated tree as guests first arrived.

Those participating in this affair with the hostess, Miss Wright, were Mrs. Dorothy Selway, Mrs. C. W. Hoyle, Mrs. Lavinia McClelland, Mrs. Don Harwood, Mrs. Bruce Vegeley, and the Misses Louise Leck, Jean House, Carol House, Betty Rowland, Jean Rowland, Ann Tarver, Betty Barkman, Virginia Berry, Genevieve Glover, Velma Allen, Lucie Holmes, Mary Emil Majors, Alyce Majors, Alice Hanson, Jean Peacock, Mary Read, Winifred Johnston, Mary Jane Sturgeon and a special guest, Miss Lucille Lowell of Los Angeles.

YOU and your friends

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pollock and Miss Florine Pollock, 1113 West Fifth street, have as a guest for a few days, their three-year-old granddaughter and niece, little Miss Sylvia Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davidson of Pasadena. Mrs. Davidson will be remembered as Miss Marjorie Pollock.

Paul Mefferd of Toledo, Ohio, who is wintering in California, spent the week end at the home of Mrs. Maude Bronson of West Fourth street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ernest and family of Los Angeles visited this week at the home of Mrs. Ernest's sister, Mrs. Maude Bronson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Platt of 416 South Birch street, and their son, Lawrence Platt, spent the Christmas holidays at the home of the Platts' daughter, Mrs. Frank Marshall of Pasadena.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Palmer of Eagle Rock spent the Christmas holidays at the home of the Rev. Mr. Palmer's mother, Mrs. Adelaide Palmer, 412 East Sixth street.

Mrs. Anna Allen, 416 East Sixth street, who spent the Christmas week end in Long Beach with her friends, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Copeland, returned yesterday, accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Copeland, who were her guests for the day in this city.

Mrs. Ida Boynton, 422 South Birch street, had a happy Christmas surprise in the unexpected arrival on the Sunday preceding the holiday, of her daughters, Mrs. John Farrand and Mrs. Everetta Arbogast of St. Paul, Minn. Yesterday, the Minnesotans spent the day in Los Angeles with their aunt, Mrs. Mary Gilbert, and will be week-end guests in Long Beach of their cousin, Mrs. M. E. Gilbert. They will remain with Mrs. Boynton until January 5 when they will leave via Union Pacific for St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Peters, 1022 North Broadway, had as visitors yesterday Mrs. Retta Julian and Mr. Peters' sister, Mrs. Addie Dean and Mrs. Mertha Myler, the latter a principal in the Los Angeles city schools, all residents of Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gebb, 1726 Spurgeon street, had as holiday guests, their sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gebb and family and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Gebb and Mrs. William Gebb's brother, John Haines, all of Los Angeles.

An enjoyable Christmas day was spent at the new home of Dr. R. E. Nida on Ocean avenue near Garden Grove when they entertained friends and relatives from Santa Ana and Long Beach. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McCullough, parents of Mrs. Nida; Mr. C. A. McCullough and family, Miss Mildred McCullough, Eleanor and Earl. Friends present were Mrs. Ida Sides, Mrs. Maude Bronson and daughter, Miss Bernice Bronson, of Santa Ana; Mrs. Lister and daughter, Miss Edna Lister, of Long Beach, and Paul Mefferd of Toledo, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Phillips and children, Barbara and Jack of Phoenix, Ariz., are here for a visit with Mrs. Phillips' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Baird, 619 West Eighth street. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips plan to attend the football game in Pasadena on New Year's Day.

100 Couples Attend Fraternity Dance

One hundred couples participated in the holiday dance with which Sigma Alpha fraternity entertained recently in the old-English style ballroom of Long Beach Country club.

Marking the first time that the annual Christmas dance had been opened to young people not members of the chapter, the affair was acclaimed a huge success. Bob Dumm's Lafayette Hotel orchestra provided music for the occasion.

Guests of the fraternity were present from Los Angeles, Palo Alto, Pasadena, Alhambra and Long Beach. On the committee in charge of the affair were Walter Hendrie, Robert Wimbush and Otto Grigg, all of Santa Ana.

Parent-Teachers

Provided by students of Woodrow Wilson school, gifts of food and toys were distributed to needy families during the holidays by members of the school P.-T. A. The welfare chairman, Mrs. Warren McCarty, assisted by Mrs. A. E. Purington, took charge of distribution.

Although the association held no December meeting, committee members carried on activity by calling on prospective members of the organization. Mrs. George Calhoun is directing the campaign for new members.

The Christmas program put on at the school included a play given by students of Miss Johanne Eilers.

Bohemian Theme Used Successfully at Holiday Party

A night in Bohemia was the delightful manner in which a quartet of girls, the Misses Allien Lair, Mary Ford, Katherine Spicer and Marie Smith, chose to stage a gay reunion of old friends as a post Christmas event. Incidentally the party was the first social event to be staged in the home of Miss Lair's parents, 2304 Spurgeon street, of which they took possession in early December, and proved a most pleasant housewarming.

To be in accord with the party theme, guests arrived in informal attire of gay pajamas and pretty negligees, and as each arrived she was instructed to join the receiving line to aid in greeting later arrivals.

To the Yule decorations of the home were added bright-checked draperies and vivid table covers, tall candles in oddly shaped bottles and similar unconventional appointments to heighten the Bohemian studio atmosphere.

Guests were divided into four groups for drama, poetry, art and music, and showed a marked originality in providing the entertainment program. This included lyrics for a musical composition which proved to be "The Big Bad Wolf," original one-act plays on a romantic bridal theme, artistic paintings (via crayolas) of "Gazelle at Bay," and a collection of "Odes to M——." Prizes proved quite as original and entertaining as the productions meriting them.

For the late supper course, cellophane decorated paper bags filled with unusual dainties on the Bohemian theme, were passed, and the guests gathered in informal groups to enjoy the delightful supper menu.

Mrs. Allen Lair assisted her daughter and the three co-hostesses in all details of entertaining the gay group of young people who included Mrs. Dean Clair Hansen (Lorene Matney), and the Misses June Arnold, Ruth Crawford, Margaret Cianfoni, Mary Cianfoni, Mildred Calkins, Eva Deane Caskey, Beulah Dudgeon, Carol Erskine, Eugenia Gilbert, Helen Hoff, Dorothy Mayhew, Evelyn Metzgar, Elinor Metzgar, Lucie McDermott, Rowena Newcomb, Corrine Nelson, Madalynn Phlleo, Emmalena Richards, Eleanore Redmond, Elsie Siemsen, Caroline Smith, Faye Stinson, Eunice Spicer, Ellen Snebley, Elza Venn, Genevieve Wicks and Hattie Belle Wall.

Jaysee Moav Alumnae Honored by Chapter At Bridge Party

Merry greetings were extended and friendships renewed at the delightful party Thursday evening with which members of the junior college Moav club honored alumnae members home for the holidays from various colleges and universities. This annual affair was held in the city Y. W. C. A. rooms effectively decorated with small green bushes.

Following a social interval, guests found their places at card tables for bridge, in which high score was made by Miss Edith Bailey who was presented with a pretty box of stationery while Miss Catherine Hull, scoring low, was given a bottle of perfume. A program featured Miss Jeannette Lutes in an amusing reading and Miss Dulcie Green, soloist, accompanied by Miss Margaret Gregg.

For the refreshment course card tables were centered with green tapers whose light provided the only illumination for that hour. Committees for the affair were the Misses Gertrude Chapman, refreshments; Jeanne Leive, entertainment; Eulabelle Smith, program; Barbara Allen, decorations.

Guests of honor were the Misses Dulcie Green, Edith Bailey, Katherine Chapman, Marie McGinnis, Geraldine Cole, Helen Wiesseman, Jeannette Lutes, Edna Hall, Elizabeth Riniker and Violet Johnson. Hostesses included the Misses Lucille Scheiber, Arden Murray, Evelyn Richardson, Natalie Neff, Gertrude Chapman, Jeanne Leive, Alta Fisher, Catherine Hull, Ardith Parham and the advisers, Miss Mabel Whitting and Miss Marian Bruner.

Recent Bride Receives Miscellaneous Gifts At Gay Party

Complimenting a reecnt bride, Mrs. Robert Wolfe of Hollywood, formerly Miss Inarose Welder of this community, was a delightfully planned bridal shower given this week in the home of Mrs. W. S. Eicher of Fullerton, an aunt of the honor guest.

Two entertaining contests were introduced as amusement features, and prizes awarded in each event went to Mrs. Norvell E. Whittam and Mrs. Bert Schrott, scoring first and second high in one, and to Mrs. Osa Oelke and Mrs. George Cupp, with similar scores in the second.

Small tables, prettily decorated, were employed for the serving of a refreshment course which featured wedding bell ices. This pleasant interval was followed by the main feature of the evening, the presentation to Mrs. Wolfe of an array of miscellaneous gifts for her new home in North Hollywood.

Santa Ana guests at the party were Mrs. Norvell E. Whittam and Miss Mary Jane Welder, sisters of Mrs. Wolfe, and Mrs. C. M. Whitham. Others present were Mrs. Bert Schrott, Mrs. Juday, Miss Ardie Eicher, Miss Joan Schrott and Mrs. C. Putnam, Fullerton; Mrs. Edward Anderson, Mrs. George Cupp, Mrs. George Findlay, Mrs. E. L. Hatcher, Mrs. Alice Schmidt, Miss Dorothy Berry and Miss Ruth Daugherty, Anaheim; Mrs. Osa Oelke and Miss Coral Oelke, Brea, with the hostess, Mrs. William S. Eicher, and the honor guest, Mrs. Wolfe, completing the group.

Two Sons Arrive for Holiday Visit in Gallagher Home

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gallagher and their daughter, Miss Helen Gallagher, 514 East Pine street, were welcoming the arrival today from San Francisco on the S. S. Yale, of their son and brother, Thomas A. Gallagher, who with Mrs. Thomas Gallagher and their two little sons, Thomas jr. and John, will be here for the New Year holiday. John Gallagher arrived in time to spend Christmas with his parents and sister, and will return north with his brother and family on Wednesday. Thomas Gallagher, an alumnus of Stanford, will see the New Year game at the Rose Bowl.

The holiday dinner in celebration of New Year's day will be held in the home on Sunday, when the family circle will be completed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart of Los Angeles. Mrs. Stewart is a grandniece of the host, Arthur Gallagher.

Church Societies

First Baptist

World Wide Guild Girls of the First Baptist church enjoyed a covered dish dinner and a program in the church basement this week under the leadership of Miss Mildred Marchant, counsellor.

Mildred Crowl Martin, a student at the University of Redlands, discussed white slavery and drug addiction in her talk on "The Problems Youth Must Face Today." Miss Dorothy Robinson, also a Redlands student, gave an interesting report of the work of her sister, Miss Elizabeth Robinson at the Baptist Missionary Training school in Chicago.

Helen Winchell Griffith, soprano soloist, sang "Be Still and Know." After visitors had been introduced, the two groups, Ashmore Circle and Naomi Fletcher chapter, held individual meetings.

First Presbyterian

First Presbyterian General Aid society held a program of special interest at its December meeting Wednesday in the church, where a large Christmas tree provided appropriate background.

The Rev. O. Scott McFarland conducted devotionals based on Moffett's translation of the 12th chapter of Romans. The program followed, with Mrs. M. E. Geeting giving readings, "Mandy's Organ" and "The Candle of Service;" Frank Pearce, soloist of First Christian church, singing "Oh Love at Will Not Let Me Go" and "The Blind Ploughman."

Mrs. Charles H. Baird conducted a short business meeting with which the afternoon was concluded.

Out of Town Guests Attend Dinner Here

Holiday observances shared by large family groups included the dinner with which Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wisdom entertained in their home, 933 Highland avenue.

The dinner was preceded by a pleasant social afternoon during which Roberta Lee Wisdom, daughter of the home, entertained with songs and dances.

Those present, other than Mr. and Mrs. Wisdom and their children, Roberta Lee, Norman and Dixie Ann Wisdom were Miss Rhoda Haxton, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sanders and children, Dannie, Lucille and Edna, Winton; Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Jerome and children, Donna Lee and Jackie, with H. S. Jerome, Placentia; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Leatherman and two children, Kenneth and Ray, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Tassey and son, Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Mixon, Mrs. Johnson, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Forest Hunter, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Stearns, Chico.

Late News From Fullerton And Vicinity

TWO FINED AND ONE JAILED ON LIQUOR COUNTS

FULLERTON, Dec. 29. — Two men paid fines and another was sent to jail when they pleaded guilty to charges of violation of liquor ordinances before Judge Halsey I. Spence yesterday.

In lieu of the fine of $50 imposed on J. L. Blackburn for driving while intoxicated, he was lodged in the county jail for 25 days.

William Moore paid a fine of $20 after pleading guilty to a charge of drunkenness and George Hatton paid a $10 fine on a charge of drunkenness. The charge of intoxication against Charles McComber, of Fullerton, arrested last Sunday, is to be heard January 2 before Judge Spence.

INSTALLATION OF D. U. V. JANUARY 2

FULLERTON, Dec. 29.—Emma West, president of the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil war, has requested that all members be present for installation, which is to be held Tuesday, instead of Monday at 2 p. m. in Odd Fellows' temple.

Commonwealth As State Road Gets Chamber Backing

FULLERTON, Dec. 29.—Although Orangethorpe avenue has received tentative approval for inclusion into the state secondary system, it was recommended that the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce still try to have Commonwealth avenue recognized instead, providing there be no expense attached to the city in such a move, in a report given by R. S. Gregory, highway committee chairman, at the meeting of directors at noon yesterday in McFarland's cafe. The report was filed without further action by the directors as indicating the opinion of the chamber.

Walter Humphreys, J. B. Horner and Robert Seamans were named as a committee to canvass ballots for the election of chamber directors. The ballots are due today.

Plans for an annual membership meeting of the chamber soon after the beginning of the year were discussed.

Church Of Christ Young People In Services Sunday

FULLERTON, Dec. 29.— Young people of all 15 congregations of the Ghruch of Christ of Southern California will join a program and midnight consecration service at Fullerton Sunday night, opening at 9 o'clock at Odd Fellows' hall here, the Rev. Seth Rehkop has announced.

Each group will bring numbers for the occasion and refreshments are to be served during the evening.

Baptists To Hold Watch Night Service

FULLERTON, Dec. 29.—A watch night service is scheduled for members of the Baptist church Sunday, opening at 9:15 p. m., where a period will be given over to resolutions and testimonies. Department heads of the church are planning a social hour for 10 p. m., and following that will be the dramatization of "The Pilgrim" presented by the pastor and the choir. A consecration service will be held at 11:45 p. m.

COLLEGE PLAYERS DEFEAT Y, 29-24

FULLERTON, Dec. 29.—In the only practice session held during the winter vacation, Arthur L. Nunn's Fullerton District Junior college basketball squad defeated the Orange Y. M. C. A. 29 to 24, at the Fullerton Union High school gymnasium Wednesday night. The lineups:

WELFARE BOARD TO CONVENE TUESDAY

FULLERTON, Dec. 29—The City Welfare center board is to meet Tuesday instead of meeting on New Year's day, at 2 p. m. at 233 West Santa Fe avenue, Mrs. Grace Johnson announced today. Plans for the coming year will be discussed and the report of December activities will be considered.

Winifred Hawes Chapter Hostess

FULLERTON, Dec. 29. — Miss Winifred Hawes was hostess to chapter HU of the P. E. O. sisterhood at her Riverside home last night. At the program hour, a paper on Italy was read by Mrs. Mabel Jeffers. The short business meeting was presided over by Miss Margaret Wright. Quantities of tall scarlet tapers lighted the rooms.

Others present were Mrs. Cora McGuire, Mrs. L. E. Hendrickson, Miss Edna Munford, Mrs. Barney Thoele, Mrs. C. Jack Zinn, Miss Amelyn Avey, Dr. Mary Ruenitz, Mrs. Jean Lumsdon and the hostess' mother, Mrs. Hawes, who assisted as a hostess.

HOLD FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. ROE TUGGY

PLACENTIA, Dec. 29.—Calvary church was filled yesterday when friends gathered from all parts of Southern California to pay tribute to Roe Tuggy, missionary from the church, whose funeral was held there. Mrs. Tuggy, who had served since 1923 as missionary of the class that formed Calvary church, died Tuesday at her home in Placentia. A small son, Arthur jr., and her husband, Arthur Tuggy, survive.

Services were conducted by Dr. McCreary, dean of Bible institute of Los Angeles; by the Rev. Elmer L. Walden, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Los Angeles; the Rev. Charles E. Fuller, former pastor of Calvary church, and the Rev. Don Milligan, pastor of the church.

Howard Jerome and J. Lightfoot, the latter a brother-in-law of Mrs. Tuggy, sang solos and Miss Ruth Allen and Lawrence Allen a duet for the services.

Pallbearers were members of the official board of the church. Interment was at Loma Vista cemetery.

CHILDREN ON STAGE IN SAN FRANCISCO

FULLERTON, Dec. 29.—Two talented Fullerton children are appearing at the Warfield theater in San Francisco this week. They are Junior Kavanagh, well known local dancer and son of Mr. and Mrs. Cash Kavanagh of Wilshire and Lawrence, and little Miss Joy Wurgaft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wurgaft of East Commonwealth.

The children are members of Burk's Dancing Dolls troupe and their singing and dancing numbers attracted much favorable attention on local programs. They recently accepted the week's northern engagement in a Warfield review being staged by the O'Neill sisters, and while in the north have broadcast over the NBC network, and appeared on programs before several clubs and other organizations.

The young entertainers were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wurgaft and Mrs. Kavanagh, expecting to return to Fullerton soon.

Address On New Banking Act For Club Next Week

FULLERTON, Dec. 29. — Homer Chaney will talk at the meeting of Fullerton Kiwanis club Tuesday on the new banking act, which is to become effective January 2 and will explain its several phases, according to announcement made today by Dan O'Hanlon, secretary of the club. Plans are to initiate a new member.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICE PLANNED BY MEMBERS OF TWO CHURCHES

FULLERTON, Dec. 29.—A program suited for all ages is being planned for the watch night service to be held at the Christian church Sunday, according to announcement made today by the pastor, the Rev. George F. Tinsley. The service will open at 7:30 o'clock. Members of the Presbyterian church will join with the Christian congregation at 9 p. m. for the services.

At 7:30 p. m., members of the High School department of the Sunday school will present a play, "These Are My Friends," directed by Mrs. Esther Culp Litchfield. Vera Stull and Stanley Berkey. Players are to be John Raitt, Lois King, Velma Caldwell, Jean Irwin, Billie Winter, Kenneth Wheeler, Harold Courtney, Philip Courtney, Mary Elizabeth Quigley, Arthur Coltrin, with properties and lights in charge of Theodore Riehl.

The joint choirs of the Christian and the Presbyterian churches will present an hour's program at 9 p. m. and following that the groups will adjourn for a social hour, the children in one, the young people in one and the adults in another group. Light refreshments are to be served.

The pastors of the two churches the Rev. Mr. Tinsley and Dr. Graham C. Hunter, will conduct a consecration candlelight service as the last part of the program, and the program for this portion will be as follows.

Organ numbers, Mrs. Charles Peckham, organist of the host church; hymn, "This is My Father's World," by the congregation; evening prayer; hymn, "Watchman, Tell Us of the Night," by the congregation; "The Light of the World," by Dr. Hunter; solo, "The Lord is My Light" and anthem, "Send Out Thy Light," by choir; meditation thought "The Light that Shineth," by the Rev. Mr. Tinsley; hymn, "Follow the Gleam," by the congregation; candle lighting ceremony, by officers of the two churches; forming of cross and closing hymn of consecration.

Cancel Meeting Of O. E. S. Circle

FULLERTON, Dec. 29.—The regular December session of the Friendly Circle of Ami Tai chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, has been cancelled and the meeting will be announced later.

V. F. W. GROUPS TO HOLD JOINT MEETING SOON

FULLERTON, Dec. 29.—Orange and Santa Ana posts of auxiliaries of Veterans of Foreign Wars are to meet jointly January 11 at Fullerton, where Mrs. Phoebe Neron of San Diego, department president of California and Nevada, will make her official visit.

This was announced last night at the meeting of the auxiliary in Fullerton. Mrs. J. M. Pearson was appointed on the refreshment committee for the occasion.

At the session, where Mrs. Nina Walters presided, reports of Christmas activity were given. The auxiliary gave a party for children of the members of the post and auxiliary Saturday night, on which Mrs. Troeller reported. Mrs. Pearson said that additional baskets, containing about $15 worth of supplies, were sent out Christmas morning and during Sunday; six members of the post and auxiliary attended the home at Sawtelle, where 50 Christmas baskets containing candy and fruit were taken.

Following the business session, the post and auxiliary joined in a short social hour, with Mrs. George Walter and her committee serving refreshments.

Funeral Services For George Nelson Held On Saturday

FULLERTON, Dec. 29.—Funeral services for George W. Nelson, 50, who died at his home in Placentia Wednesday night, are scheduled for 10 a. m. Saturday from the McAulay and Suters Funeral home in Fullerton, with the Anaheim Masonic lodge in charge. Interment will be in Loma Vista cemetery.

Mr. Nelson was injured about a month ago while at work in the Dominguez oil field for the Shell Oil company, and this injury was thought to have had something to do with the subsequent illness of Nelson, although he had gone back to work.

Dinner Of Club Set For Jan. 2

FULLERTON, Dec. 29.—The date of the Izaak Walton club public dinner and card party has been changed to January 2.

V. F. W. POST PLANNING NEW MEMBER DRIVE

FULLERTON, Dec. 29. — Plans were made for opening of a membership drive when members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars post met last night at the Odd Fellows' temple in regular session. Harold Troeller, commander, was in charge.

The commander appointed Chas. Kincaid, of Santa Ana, chairman of the membership drive. The next meeting of the post will be January 9 at Odd Fellows' hall.

Following the business session last night the post and auxiliary joined in a social hour.

The Register welcomes news and Fullerton residents are urged to telephone or bring their items to the branch office, located on the north side of the California hotel building. The phone number is Fullerton 550.

Late News From Fullerton And Vicinity

TWO FINED AND ONE JAILED ON LIQUOR COUNTS

FULLERTON, Dec. 29. — Two men paid fines and another was sent to jail when they pleaded guilty to charges of violation of liquor ordinances before Judge Haisey I. Spence yesterday.

In lieu of the fine of $50 imposed on J. L. Blackburn for driving while intoxicated, he was lodged in the county jail for 25 days.

William Moore paid a fine of $20 after pleading guilty to a charge of drunkenness and George Hatton paid a $10 fine on a charge of drunkenness. The charge of intoxication against Charles McComber, of Fullerton, arrested last Sunday, is to be heard January 2 before Judge Spence.

INSTALLATION OF D. U. V. JANUARY 2

FULLERTON, Dec. 29.—Emma West, president of the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil war, has requested that all members be present for installation, which is to be held Tuesday, instead of Monday at 2 p. m. in Odd Fellows' temple.

Commonwealth As State Road Gets Chamber Backing

FULLERTON, Dec. 29.—Although Orangethorpe avenue has received tentative approval for inclusion into the state secondary system, it was recommended that the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce still try to have Commonwealth avenue recognized instead, providing there be no expense attached to the city in such a move, in a report given by R. S. Gregory, highway committee chairman, at the meeting of directors at noon yesterday in McFarland's cafe. The report was filed without further action by the directors as indicating the opinion of the chamber.

Walter Humphreys, J. B. Horner and Robert Seamans were named as a committee to canvass ballots for the election of chamber directors. The ballots are due today.

Plans for an annual membership meeting of the chamber soon after the beginning of the year were discussed.

PRESBYTERIAN YOUNG PEOPLE ATTEND DINNER

ORANGE, Dec. 29.—"Wonderland" was the theme for the fifth annual Presbyterian Young People's banquet, which was held in the church dining room at 6:30 o'clock last night, with more than 90 young people attending.

The tables were decorated with characters from the story of "Alice in Wonderland," while huge pictures of flowers and animals adorned the walls.

Kenneth Stowell presided as toastmaster, while the main address was given by Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the church, on the subject, "Adventures in Wonderland." Mrs. Sally Coe Mueller sang two groups of soprano solos, including the following numbers: "Spirit Flower," "Sally Roses," "Song of the Open" and "Kiss Me Again." She was accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. Jess Coe. Thomas Flippen, accompanied by Miss Virginia Lee Harper, played two baritone solos, "Serenade," by Gounod, and "Guarnay," by Gomez.

FACTS ON ARSON PRESENTED AT ROTARY CLUB LUNCHEON

ORANGE, Dec. 29.—Capt. Paul Wolfe, head of the arson squad of the city of Los Angeles, explained to the Rotary club yesterday how the origin of fires is determined. Wolfe declared that Los Angeles is the only city in the nation which maintains so large an arson squad, 28 men being employed in this work.

As a consequence of the work of the arson squad, Wolfe declared the city of Los Angeles has a loss ratio of $1; while the city of Boston has a loss ratio of $8.60. In spite of the fact that Los Angeles has few destructive fires in comparison with other cities of the nation, it still has as many fires in 24 hours as there are in London, England, in an entire 12 months.

The reason for the many fires of incendiary origin in the United States is because the public laughs over a fire of this nature, notwithstanding the fact that arson is listed in crime as next to murder, declared Wolfe. The speaker said that both courts and the public must be educated to consider the crime in its true light.

It is possible, Wolfe stated, not only to tell by what means a fire is started but also to tell the nationality and sex of the person starting it. Ninety-five per cent of the fires of incendiary origin are started by foreign born persons, the arson chief declared. Women, he said, use more material in starting fires than do men. Chemistry is of little use in determining the origin of fires but the microscope reveals what material was used for the blaze, whether gasoline, linseed oil, dynamite or kerosene, he said. The speaker showed pictures of partly burned wood greatly enlarged which showed the differences of appearance between wood burned by these mediums.

Wolfe told of a fire in Los Angeles which was thought to have been the result of incendiarism but no proof of this contention could be proved. After the fire ants infested the ruins and the traces of sugar were discovered. Sometime afterward, the same property owner had another fire which was not so successful and it was found the man had combined a chemical with sugar and laid trails about the property, the combined materials forming an ideal medium for his purpose.

The arson chief also told of a fire where 62,000 cubic feet of floor space was destroyed by the use of two gallons of gasoline. A large percentage of persons who commit arson are arrested and convicted, it was brought out, but Wolfe expressed the belief that they were not punished in proportion to their crimes.

MRS. JOHN ADAMS ELECTED AID HEAD

ORANGE, Dec. 29.—Mrs. John Adams, was named president of the Ladies' Aid society, formerly the Women's Service division of the Christian church at the regular meeting held yesterday at the church. A pot luck dinner was served at noon.

Other officers are as follows: First vice president, Mrs. Alice Shell; second vice president, Mrs. Ed Windolph; secretary, Miss Nellie White, and treasurer, Mrs. M. E. Bivens. The nominating committee was composed of Mrs. R. C. Burkett, Mrs. V. D. Johnson and Mrs. H. F. Gray.

It was voted that the organization would meet every Thursday except the first week of the month, with each second Thursday to be an all day meeting with a pot luck dinner at noon.

Mrs. John Adams, Mrs. Frank Scovell, Mrs. Tibbetts, Mr. R. C. Burkett and Mrs. Bert Deck were hostesses.

Robert Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Jones, spent a part of his vacation with his cousin, Rex Hastings jr., of Yorba Linda.

Two reroofing permits were issued this week in the office of Frank B. Dale, building inspector. Roch Bradshaw of Santa Ana took out a permit for $70 to reroof a house at 224 North Glassell street and another permit was issued to Mrs. A. R. Fernald to reroof a building at 207 West Palmyra avenue at a cost of $800. Zelda Swan took out a permit several days ago to erect a residence on East Collins avenue at a cost of $1500. The house will be a five-room frame structure.

Dr. Norman Abbott is leaving tomorrow for Modesto, where he will spend New Year's day with his wife and son, Billie, who have been visiting with relatives during the holidays. The Abbotts will return to their home on North Pine street Tuesday.

Miss Dorothy Flintham was a Redlands visitor yesterday.

SINGERS GIVE THIRD PROGRAM SUNDAY NIGHT

ORANGE, Dec. 29.—The Latvian singers of Los Angeles will make their third appearance in the Presbyterian church Sunday night. On this occasion they are coming with a special Christmas program of Russian, Latvian and other European Christmas carols. The service will begin at 7 o'clock.

This is one of a number of similar programs the singers are providing for different churches and organizations on Sunday. The pastor will speak briefly on the fifth of a series of tests of marriage, "The Religious Test."

The public is cordially invited to attend.

PRESBYTERIAN YOUNG PEOPLE ATTEND DINNER

ORANGE, Dec. 29.—"Wonderland" was the theme for the fifth annual Presbyterian Young People's banquet, which was held in the church dining room at 6:30 o'clock last night, with more than 90 young people attending.

The tables were decorated with characters from the story of "Alice in Wonderland," while huge pictures of flowers and animals adorned the walls.

Kenneth Stowell presided as toastmaster, while the main address was given by Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the church, on the subject, "Adventures in Wonderland." Mrs. Sally Coe Mueller sang two groups of soprano solos, including the following numbers: "Spirit Flower," "Sally Roses," "Song of the Open" and "Kiss Me Again." She was accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. Jess Coe. Thomas Flippen, accompanied by Miss Virginia Lee Harper, played two baritone solos, "Serenade," by Gounod, and "Guarnay," by Gomez.

Impromptu speeches were given by Kemper Anderson, Roy Tulene and Alex Chastain.

Hosts for the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McGill, Mr. and Mrs. James Goode, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Corcoran, Miss Doris Flippen, Miss Clara Frazier, Miss Helen Harper, Miss Marcella Turner, Miss Elizabeth Lowry and Miss Mildred Binkley.

Committee chairmen were as follows: General chairman, Roy Tulene; menu, Miss Hazel Settle; invitations and programs, Miss Pauline Snodgrass; program, Miss Shirley Haynes; decorations, Miss Helen Anderson. The dinner was prepared and served by members of the Ladies' Aid society of the church.

Robert Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Jones, spent a part of his vacation with his cousin, Rex Hastings jr., of Yorba Linda.

Two reroofing permits were issued this week in the office of Frank B. Dale, building inspector. Roch Bradshaw of Santa Ana took out a permit for $70 to reroof a house at 224 North Glassell street and another permit was issued to Mrs. A. R. Fernald to reroof a building at 207 West Palmyra avenue at a cost of $300. Zelda Swan took out a permit several days ago to erect a residence on East Collins avenue at a cost of $1500. The house will be a five-room frame structure.

Dr. Norman Abbott is leaving tomorrow for Modesto, where he will spend New Year's day with his wife and son, Billie, who have been visiting with relatives during the holidays. The Abbotts will return to their home on North Pine street Tuesday.

Miss Dorothy Flintham was a Redlands visitor yesterday.

SINGERS GIVE THIRD PROGRAM SUNDAY NIGHT

ORANGE, Dec. 29.—The Latvian singers of Los Angeles will make their third appearance in the Presbyterian church Sunday night. On this occasion they are coming with a special Christmas program of Russian, Latvian and other European Christmas carols. The service will begin at 7 o'clock.

This is one of a number of similar programs the singers are providing for different churches and organizations on Sunday. The pastor will speak briefly on the fifth of a series of tests of marriage, "The Religious Test."

The public is cordially invited to attend.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

NEW BOOKS IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

BY VERA RAMSEY

Many radio listeners have been inspired by the rich musical voice of David Ross. Comparing the tones of his voice to those of ordinarily heard leads to a wonder as to how its remarkable qualities, its subtle modulations and thrilling intensity were developed.

To a great extent it is the result of reading poetry aloud. A poet, himself, Mr. Ross has acquainted himself with the whole range of world poetry. Even before his radio connections, he gave successful readings of poetry. But it was radio that gave him his opportunity to bring to hundreds of thousands the treasures of poetry. His program "Poet's Gold" demonstrates that when read as it shoud be read, nothing can equal the appeal of great poetry.

Educators and writers agree that much of the music and inspiration of great poetry is lost unless it is read orally. In his anthology "Poet's Gold," David Ross has gathered out of the vast treasure of the world's best poetry, those poems which are most suited to reading aloud.

The book has a twofold value. For all lovers of poetry it offers an unusual selection chosen by an authority whose sensivity to poetic delight and verbal magic is unmatched. To all those who wish to develop their own elocutionary powers, to teachers of oral English, and to all whose mission is to develop a love of poetry this book is invaluable; for Mr. Ross has brought to it not only his own sense of taste and discrimination but also the lessons learned by practical experiences in radio work. This is an anthology, unique in its field, since it includes those great poems among the world's poetry which survive the severest test—the test of reading aloud.

Much has been written about the part that America played in the World War overseas. Mark Sullivan in his fifth volume of "Our Times" which is titled "Over Here," is the first book to give a complete picture in text and illustration of what was happening at home during those years.

It might be called the story of the "Home Fires" and how they were kindled, how they were kept burning, the flames, the smoke, the embers, and the ashes. For the first time the whole nation from coast to coast was unitedly engaged in a great foreign war. What the War did to men and women and children, how they lived whilei t was going on, how they met the problems of the day, what they said, what they believed—or were led to believe, their enthusiasms, their amusements, their songs, their every-day life is here magnificently re-created.

Not one of the innumerable facets of those years brilliant with great man and stupendous events has been missed. Once and for all, Mark Sullivan brings out of the mists of memory the most amazing period in the history of the nation. The text, as in the other volumes of "Our Times" is supplemented and made even more vivid by hundreds of illustrations, rescued from wartime newspapers, magazines, and original documents.

These volumes of "Our Times" are not only interesting history in themselves, but will furnish future historians valuable source material.

Yeats-Brown says: "We are all escapers, men, women and children. Almost everything we do, except the supremest acts of enjoyment, is an escape in some manner of degree." In his new book "Escape" he tells of the different methods by which this has been accomplished.

For this collection of escapes he has chosen what most amused and interested him. We read of ingenious escapes from ancient days to the present; adventurous escapes; escapes aided by chance, or a trick; daring escapes; escapes from prison, from shipwreck; escapes of spies; escapes from crashing airplanes. The escapers tell of their adventures in their own words, but Mr. Yeats-Brown adds pungent comments as exciting as the narratives themselves.

There have been many remarkable escapes in the past. The lives of Casanova and Benvenuto Cellini abound with adventure and close calls. In contrast to such adventurous escapes as these we have the beautiful story of Elizabeth Barrett, whose marriage to Browning was an escape from death into life. Spies during the European war had many thrilling escapes. During the Great Plague the line between those who escaped and those who did not was very fine indeed.

This book weaves humor, pathos, tragedy, and romance into an exciting whole.

Other new books in the library are:

Bogert, L. Jean—Nutrition and Physical Fitness.

Couch, Osma Palmer—Basket Pioneering.

Collins, A. Frederick—Experimental Television.

Dunn, Edward D.—Double-Crossing America by Motor.

Durant, Will—The Tragedy of Russia.

Edgar, Pelham—The Art of the Novel.

Eriksson, E. M. and Rowe, D. N.—American Constitutional History.

Hoskins, R. G.—The Tides of Life.

Maurois, Andre—The Edwardian Era.

Miller, Max—The Beginning of a Mortal.

Payne, Arthur F.—Art Metal Work.

STYLED IN LARGER SIZES
PATTERN 1738
BY ANNE ADAMS

When you're past the "thirties" the mode has charming fashions to offer you. Frocks that reflect the dignity and charm of your age, frocks that are gracious and flattering to the figure as well as up-to-the-minute with chic—these are the prize-winners of skilled designers. Such a model is sketched today—isn't it lovely? It boasts simple lines, smart revers, comfortable sleeves and slender skirt seaming. The back is cut in one piece, so you see how easily the frock can be made. Wash silk or cotton prints are most appropriate.

Pattern 1738 is available in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 36 takes 3 5-8 yards 39 inch fabric and 5-8 yard contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

For some time I have been intending to talk to women of middle age about certain mild phobias with which they may be afflicted and the necessity to nip them in the bud before they take such root that the term "queer" can be applied. Do any of these conditions fit you?

A disposition to dislike new clothes, to let them hang for weeks in the closet before one has a desire to wear them.

A super-cleanliness complex: washing hands unnecessarily, elaborately wiping off silver, even china, before eating, sometimes in one's own house or a friend's.

Sloppiness of attire and lack of attention to good grooming.

The idea that people are snubbing you just because you are getting along in years.

Get after these things before they get you: don't procrastinate one instant, MAKE yourself do things on time, make yourself liked by others because of your youthful mind and understanding heart, and be in all things a well groomed, smart woman, in full command of your full-fruited mind.

TODAY'S RECIPE

A Fool-Proof Cake

Part 1—
1 1-2 cups thick cream
1 1-3 cups sugar
1 tsp. salt
3 eggs
1 1-2 tsps. flavoring

Part 2—
2 1-2 cups flour
2 1-2 tsps. baking powder

—Contributed recipe.

The lady says that one may use sour cream if they have it, and to stir through the sour cream 1-4 tsp. of soda.

Put cream, sugar, eggs, salt and flavoring together in the mixing bowl and beat thoroughly with the egg beater.

Sift and measure the flour, add baking powder and sift again, gradually working the sifted flour into the cream part until a very smooth batter results. Bake in 2 layer tins, and put together with favorite filling.

Vary this cake by using 1-2 cup of ground raisins in the batter one time, next time use a little spice and a cup of finely chopped nut meats. Bake 30 minutes in a 350 degree oven.

• • •

This cake may be fool-proof but it isn't fat-proof by a long shot. . . . in fact, you fat ladies had better just read over the recipe and forget about it unless you have a cast-iron will and can stand to bake it and see the family eat it without heart-burnings.

Saturday: Cheese Scallop, one grand dish, a substitute for meat.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Dec. 29, — A family dinner was served in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson, Monday, when they acted as hosts to Mrs. Johnson's father, Mr. Beamer, of Pawpaw, Ill., his granddaughter, Mrs. Mary Warren and her three children, of Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grandy, their son, Douglas Grandy, and wife and their two children, Marinel and Lois Grandy, were at Beaumont Monday.

Mrs. F. C. Percy and daughter, Miss Frances Percy came for a short visit Monday in the home of Mrs. Addie L. Blakey as they were on their way to visit relatives at Colton.

Mr. and Mrs. U. E. Phipps and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phipps, motored to Long Beach Monday as guests in the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pawson. Sunday evening the family gathered at the U. E. Phipps home. In this group were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nelson, Miss Helen Harris, Stephen Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pawson, Patty and Junior Pawson, of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Bader and Bill and Frank Bader, of Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Phipps, of Sunset Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phipps and Mr. and Mrs. U. E. Phipps.

Judge W. H. Bentley motored Monday to Los Angeles, where he was the dinner guest of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Day visited at Corona Sunday, as guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Day.

Herbert Day is spending a week with friends in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Glen Wells and daughters, the Misses Maxine and Glennrae Wells, of Santa Ana called on local friends Saturday as they were returning from a few days spent in Los Angeles with relatives. The Wells are former local residents.

Mr. and Mrs. James Morgan had as Monday guests, Mr. Morgan's brother, George Morgan, and family, of Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Price and son, of San Diego county, have returned to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Baker of Jacumba, were with their two daughters, Mrs. May Finley and Mrs. Vera Skinner over the week end. A family dinner was enjoyed in the Loyal Skinner home, with Mr. and Mrs. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Finley and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Skinner and two sons being of the group.

OUR ROMANTIC PRESIDENTS ON KREG TONIGHT

The California Broadcasting System feature "Our Romantic Presidents," each Friday night at 8 o'clock, broadcast from KREG, will conclude the dramatization of the life of George Washington tonight and will feature the actual marriage ceremony used by George and Martha Washington.

The leading roles are played by True Boardman and Lucille LaPoint.

Next Friday, this feature broadcast will present the first episode in the dramatization of the life of Andrew Jackson.

Tomorrow's C. B. S. broadcasts from KREG will include the "High Hatters" at 11:30 a. m.; the "Hi-Nooners" at 12:30 p. m.; and from 2:30 to 4 p. m., Karl Brandenburg, the "Whispering Tenor"; Lois Deering, concert pianist, and C Sharpe Minor, organist.

GAJESKI PROGRAM ON KREG TONIGHT

Musical gems in "Gadjeskis' Music Album" presentation on KREG tonight, presented by the Gadjeski Furniture Company of Santa Ana, will include Ketelbey's descriptive composition: "In the Mystic Land of Egypt," with oriental sound effects, and the voice of Mary Lewis singing the favorites: "Little Grey Home in the West," and "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water," by Cadman.

The presentation will start at 7:30.

KREG NOTES

More reports from KREG's DX broadcast of last Sunday morning are arriving, indicating that further reports will be received from other parts of the United States. Letters were received from the states of Ohio, Mississippi, Nevada and Iowa; in addition to the letters from Massachusetts and northern California received last Wednesday by air mail.

Mrs. Helen Walden, instructor of typewriting in the Adult Education Department, Santa Ana City Schools, will speak on attaining speed in the adult typing classes, 5:30 this evening, KREG.

Julia Jordan, concert vocalist, will offer four songs by master-composers tonight during her broadcast from KREG, starting at 6:15. Her program will include: "My Heart Is Singing," Gertrude Sans Souci; "La Paloma," Yradier; "Rose in the Bud," Dorothy Forster, repeated by request, and "I Hear a Thrush at Eve," Charles Wakefield Cadman.

Julia Jordan said that she would be pleased to grant requests for her programs, Tuesdays and Fridays at the above time, provided they are mailed to her in advance, care of KREG.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References Are Pacific Standard Time

Outstanding events of 1933 will be dramatized during the "March of Time" over a nationwide Columbia network including KHJ at 5:30 this evening. The year just drawing to a close has probably been filled with more happenings of great importance than any 12 months in the past decade.

* * *

The Philadelphia orchestra, with Leopold Stokowski conducting, will present the interesting composition of Vaughn Williams, Variations on a Theme by Thomas Tallys, during the broadcast to be heard over the Columbia network including KHJ at 6 tonight.

A three-hour broadcast of the entire presentation of the opera "Mignon" with Lucretia Bori and Lily Pons included in the cast, will be heard over the NBC network including KFI beginning at 10:55 a. m. Saturday.

Anaheim Police Notes

ANAHEIM, Dec. 29.—Norman Hubert of Los Angeles was taken to the Orange County Hospital yesterday morning after he had fainted on the witness stand when he appeared before Judge Frank Tausch of the recorder's court on a charge of petty theft. From there he will be removed to the county jail to serve a term of 90 days, as will his companion in crime John Mattler.

Jack Lyons, former police officer at Maywood, California, was fined $10 or five days in jail, yesterday morning when he appeared in the recorder's court with a citation for parking in an alley.

DX SCHEDULES FOR NEXT WEEK GIVEN PUBLIC

Have you heard your home town radio station since you came to California? If not, here is your opportunity, as no other station will be on the air, on the same frequency, at the times the following stations are scheduled.

Following is the DX schedule for the week ending January 6. All times listed below are Pacific Standard:

Sunday, December 31—WEED, 1420 kcs, Greenville, N. C., 12:01 to 1:00 a. m. WEHS, 1420 kcs., Cicero, Illinois, 1:00 to 2:00 a. m.; XEFV, 1400 kcs, Juarez, Mexico, 1:00 to 3:00 a. m.; WIBW, 580 kcs., Topeka, Kansas, until 1:00 a. m.; CKWX, 1010 kcs, Vancouver, B. C., 12:01 to 2:00 a. m.

Monday, January 1—KCRC, 1370 kcs, Enid, Oklahoma, 1:10 to 1:30 a. m.; KGY, 1210 kcs, Olympia, Washington, 1:40 to 2:00 a. m.

Tuesday, January 2—CHWK, 780 kcs, Chilliwack, B. C., 12:01 to 1:00 a. m., KWG, 1200 kcs, Stockton, California, 12:01 to 1:30 a. m.

Wednesday, January 3—KBTM, 1200 kcs, Paragould, Arkansas, 12:50 to 1:10 a. m.; WCAL—1250 kcs., Northfield, Minnesota, 1:30 to 1:50 a. m.; WKBB, 1500 kcs, East Dubuque, Illinois, 12:01 to 12:20 a. m.

Thursday, January 4—WGCM, 1210 kcs, Gulfport, Mississippi, 12:01 to 12.10 a. m.; WNBR, 1430 kcs, Memphis, Tennessee, 1:10 to 1:30 a. m.

Friday, January 5—WCLO, 1200 kcs, Janesville, Wisconsin, 1:30 to 1:50 a. m.; WTAQ, 1330 kcs, Eau Claire, Wisconsin, 2:40 to 3:00 a. m.

Saturday, January 6—WIS, 1010 kcs, Columbia, South Carolina, 1:00 to 2:00 a. m.; WCAC, 600 kcs, Storrs, Connecticut, 1:30 to 2:30 a. m.; KGCR, 1210 kcs, Watertown, South Dakota, 2:10 to 2:30 a. m.; KVL, 1370 kcs. Seattle, Washington, 12:01 to 1:30 a. m.

To avoid any possible error in checking the dates and times on these tips as given, a brief explanation is made. For instance, when a station is listed to broadcast on Friday, January 5, from say 12:01 to 1:00 a. m., PST, it means, of course, that the station will be on Friday morning, January 5. Or in other words, to make it clearer, the program would be held after midnight on the night of January 4. While this is not as lengthy an explanation as might be given we hope it will tend to clear up any doubt or confusion that might occur.

"THE BROKEN COIN" ON KREG TONIGHT

Another intense drama will be broadcast from KREG tonight at 7:45, under the title of "The Broken Coin."

It is a sketch about the strange talisman that brought together, under tragic circumstances, the lives of two people that had been separated for years. The play is full of atmospheric color, taking place in resorts of "Gay Paris" night life, showing how cafes swindled tourists, the brazenness of gold-diggers thieving waiters, etc., and the plot is laid in this foreign locale.

Florence Malone, dramatic actress of radio, will carry the feature role.

CITRUS HOUSES TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETS

ANAHEIM, Dec. 29.—With the 1933 citrus industry in Anaheim closed packing houses of the Central Orange County Citrus Exchange today made known the dates for the annual meetings that will be held in each of the packing houses.

The Anaheim Citrus Fruit association will hold its meeting on January 10, Carl Monahan, manager, stated and on the following day, January 11, the Orange and Lemon association will meet according to G. W. Sandilands, manager. The Anaheim Community Citrus association will meet on January 12, according to announcement from Edward Mills, manager.

The district meeting for the Exchange will be held on February 12, the meeting place to be announced at a later date.

ANAHEIM RESIDENT EXPLOSION VICTIM

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—Hubert R. Brown, 40, of Anaheim, died at the General hospital yesterday from burns received the day following Christmas when a gasoline tank exploded.

The accident occurred while the victim was visiting the dairy of his brother, Herbert Brown, in Baldwin Park. Herbert was pumping up a tank of gasoline used in the sterilization equipment of the milkhouse when it burst, spraying both of the brothers with ignited gas. Herbert was not seriously burned.

BUSINESS MEN TO TALK OVER SCHOOL PLANS

ANAHEIM, Dec. 29.—With the $275,000 bond issue for the reconstruction of buildings in the Anaheim Union High school plant, lost, and board of trustees facing the serious problem of providing for the safety of the school children without any visible method of means of procedure the Chamber of Commerce board of directors yesterday issued an invitation for the former group to meet with the latter in the Elks' clubhouse on January 11 for the purpose of discussion of plans. The meeting will immediately precede the regular board meeting time of the high school trustees.

This invitation was extended when the booster body trustees met at the Elks' clubhouse for its regular monthly meeting.

A resolution was passed urging the federal government to buy citrus to be donated to needy families as it has been doing with pork and greens, the resolution stating that oranges and lemons are a basic food. The resolution was presented by the Riverside Chamber of Commerce and cited figures to show what the industry has done in this district to aid needy families. In 1932 155 cars of fruit were donated and last year 600 cars of fruit.

A communication was read from Angelo Glorioso of Oklahoma, head of the Anaheim Canning company, stating that negotiations with the Community and Industrial Land company may be completed in two weeks as the deal will then be discussed by the board of directors.

The Industrial Land company is willing to donate 2 acres of land in the tract northeast of town, providing the canning company will put up a $15,000 building. The canning company is seeking larger accommodations in order to expand and negotiated first for the old citrus packing plant that has now been idle for two years, but once was used by the Anaheim Citrus Fruit association.

A letter was read from Herbert Osborne, chief engineer for the county C. W. A. committee urging that all bids for materials in the C. W. A. jobs be directly submitted to him in order to speed up the program. He advised that all parties making bids first contact him. Bids should be sent to Room 353 Court House Annex.

Al Ruitcel, vice president of the board of directors, presided over the meeting.

MISS TAUNTON TO SPEAK TO WOMEN

ANAHEIM, Dec. 29.—With this week's meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club postponed until January 11 the first program for the New Year will feature Miss Ruth Taunton, formerly of Anaheim, in an address on present conditions in Washington, D. C., and work being carried on in the National Women's party.

Miss Taunton, formerly president of the local group, has recently completed a year's work with the National Women's party in Washington, D. C., where she was publicity chairman.

The next executive board meeting will be held on January 4 and all members are urged to attend.

SOCIETY

Magnolia Circle

Twenty-two members of Magnolia circle of Royal Neighbors met yesterday in the home of Mrs. Grace Gross, 615 Cypress avenue, for their Christmas party.

After the covered dish luncheon at noon and before the business meeting, the members adjourned in a body to Harrell and Brown to attend the funeral of their departed member, Mrs. Etta M. Douglas.

At the subsequent business meeting in the Gross home, several items were taken care of, and then numbers were drawn for the exchange of Christmas gifts. These had been piled around the Christmas tree which remained with other Yule decorations of the home, for the meeting of this organization. The next gathering place will be in January at the home of Mrs. Stella Miller, 817 North Parton street.

Torosa Rebekahs

One of the interesting features of Wednesday night's meeting of Torosa Rebekah lodge, was the disclosure of identities of "mystery pals" who have done so much for various members during the past six months. This disclosure came in connection with the final friendly gesture of these unknown friends, the exchange of Christmas gifts.

Miss Bessie Potter, noble grand, and her officers conducted the usual lodge business session as a preliminary to a New Year's party, plans for which were in the hands of Adeline Cochems Harrell. Mrs. Edward Cochems was chairman of the committee serving refreshments in the banquet room at the close of the social program.

Torosa Rebekahs will hold an open installation of new officers in I. O. O. F. hall on the night of January 10.

RELIEF FUNDS TO BE SOUGHT OF CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(UP)—Federal Relief Administrator Hopkins indicated today that congress would be asked for "around $100,000,000" to carry on the government's relief activities to July 1, 1934.

The $500,000,000 relief fund probably will last until April 1, Hopkins said.

The administrator said he anticipated that there would be an additional appropriation for the Civil Works program out of the public works fund. He did not name a figure but observed that President Roosevelt had indicated he would seek a further appropriation of $250,000,000.

Since the Public Works fund of $3,300,000,000 is virtually depleted. It will be up to congress, Hopkins pointed out, to appropriate funds for the CWA.

After July 1, 1934, the end of the fiscal year, Hopkins said the regular yearly appropriation would be sought for relief activities. He pointed out that the anticipated $100,000,000 appropriation would be asked only to complete the present fiscal period.

Relief activities will proceed, Hopkins announced, in the inundated areas of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Northern California. In these areas aid is being extended to families who have been subjected to discomforture by rising waters.

CWA PROJECT FOR ANAHEIM PLANNED

ANAHEIM, Dec. 29.—An $1800 project under the CWA that was submitted by the city of Anaheim for the repairing of curbs and sidewalks all over town, has been returned to the city authorities for slight changes after which it will undoubtedly be approved City Engineer Hapgood stated this morning, as he prepared to send in the revised specifications.

The changes required will be in the rate of pay and another division of material. When the project was submitted it called for a pay rate of 50 cents per hour, the city now being asked to increase this to 60 cents per hour. The sesond necessary change is an increase in the city's portion for the purchasing of material. CWA regulations state that all the labor money will be granted and materials up to one-third of the labor.

Work will be started as soon as final authority is given. Approximately 10 men will be hired to do the work.

RICHARD BORST TO DELIVER LECTURES

ANAHEIM, Dec. 29.—Richard Borst, head of English department at the Fullerton Junior college, will lead a series of lectures, beginning January 18, on current books at the Anaheim public library and the public is cordially invited to attend, according to an announcement from the board of trustees.

The lectures will begin at 7:45, the library closing its regular work at 7 o'clock (instead of 9 p. m.) and then reopening for the lectures.

Mrs. Alice Chandler, Raymond Penhall and son, Melvin, and Mr. and Mrs. Lem Hay and children were entertained Sunday evening in the home of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hoffman at Costa Mesa.

FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NE WYORK, Dec. 29.—(UP)—Firmness in utilities, wet stocks and a few special issues stood out today in an otherwise lower stock market. Trading was light.

Most commodities reacted downward, notably grains. Wheat last 2⅝ to 2⅛c for the day, while corn was down 1⅝ to 1⅞ cents; oats down 1 to 1¼ cents; Rye down 1⅜ to 2⅛ cents, and barley down 1¼ to 1½ cents. Silver, hides and cotton were down moderately, while rubber and silk advanced.

Demand for "wet" stocks was a feature of the stock market session. American Commercial Alcohol touched 52 up 2½; National Distillers, 25⅛, up 1, and U. S. Industrial Alcohol 51¾, up 1. The gains were reduced late in the session.

Stock sales today were 1,130,000 shares as against 1,480,000 shares yesterday. Curb sales today totaled 271,000 shares as against 282,000 shares yesterday.

Dow Jones preliminary averages showed Industrials 98.67, off 0.62; railroad, 40.42, off 0.06, and utility 23.10, up 0.04.

NEW YORK BONDS

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(UP)—Speculative rails and utilities forged ahead on the bond market again today as heavy buying demand continued in spite of unsettlement in outside markets.

United States government issues were steady, most of the treasury certificates showing small gains. Foreign obligations showed narrow price movements, with exception of German issues, most of which, including the government 5½, gained from 1 to about 3 points.

Rails continued to lead other sections of the corporation list. Gains of 1 to 3 points and more took place in issues of the Chesapeake & Ohio, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, Nickel Plate, New Haven, New York Central, Chicago and Northwestern and others.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

NEW BOOKS IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

BY VERA RAMSEY

Many radio listeners have been inspired by the rich musical voice of David Ross. Comparing the tones of his voice to those of ordinarily heard leads to a wonder as to how its remarkable qualities, its subtle modulations and thrilling intensity were developed.

To a great extent it is the result of reading poetry aloud. A poet, himself, Mr. Ross has acquainted himself with the whole range of world poetry. Even before his radio connections, he gave successful readings of poetry. But it was radio that gave him his opportunity to bring to hundreds of thousands the treasures of poetry. His program "Poet's Gold" demonstrates that when read as it shoud be read, nothing can equal the appeal of great poetry.

Educators and writers agree that much of the music and inspiration of great poetry is lost unless it is read orally. In his anthology "Poet's Gold," David Ross has gathered out of the vast treasure of the world's best poetry, those poems which are most suited to reading aloud.

The book has a twofold value. For all lovers of poetry it offers an unusual selection chosen by an authority whose sensivity to poetic delight and verbal magic is unmatched. To all those who wish to develop their own elocutionary powers, to teachers of oral English, and to all whose mission is to develop a love of poetry this book is invaluable; for Mr. Ross has brought to it not only his own sense of taste and discrimination but also the lessons learned by practical experiences in radio work. This is an anthology, unique in its field, since it includes those great poems among the world's poetry which survive the severest test—the test of reading aloud.

Much has been written about the part that America played in the World War overseas. Mark Sullivan in his fifth volume of "Our Times" which is titled "Over Here," is the first book to give a complete picture in text and illustration of what was happening at home during those years.

It might be called the story of the "Home Fires" and how they were kindled, how they were kept burning, the flames, the smoke, the embers, and the ashes. For the first time the whole nation from coast to coast was unitedly engaged in a great foreign war. What the War did to men and women and children, how they lived whilei t was going on, how they met the problems of the day, what they said, what they believed—or were led to believe, their enthusiasms, their amusements, their songs, their every-day life is here magnificently re-created.

Not one of the innumerable facets of those years brilliant with great man and stupendous events has been missed. Once and for all, Mark Sullivan brings out of the mists of memory the most amazing period in the history of the nation. The text, as in the other volumes of "Our Times" is supplemented and made even more vivid by hundreds of illustrations, rescued from wartime newspapers, magazines, and original documents.

These volumes of "Our Times" are not only interesting history in themselves, but will furnish future historians valuable source material.

Yeats-Brown says: "We are all escapers, men, women and children. Almost everything we do, except the supremest acts of enjoyment, is an escape in some manner of degree." In his new book "Escape" he tells of the different methods by which this has been accomplished.

For this collection of escapes he has chosen what most amused and interested him. We read of ingenious escapes from ancient days to the present; adventurous escapes; escapes aided by chance, or a trick; daring escapes; escapes from prison, from shipwreck; escapes of spies; escapes from crashing airplanes. The escapers tell of their adventures in their own words, but Mr. Yeats-Brown adds pungent comments as exciting as the narratives themselves.

There have been many remarkable escapes in the past. The lives of Casanova and Benvenuto Cellini abound with adventure and close calls. In contrast to such adventurous escapes as these we have the beautiful story of Elizabeth Barrett, whose marriage to Browning was an escape from death into life. Spies during the European war had many thrilling escapes. During the Great Plague the line between those who escaped and those who did not was very fine indeed.

This book weaves humor, pathos, tragedy, and romance into an exciting whole.

Other new books in the library are:

Bogert, L. Jean—Nutrition and Physical Fitness.

Couch, Osma Palmer—Basket Pioneering.

STYLED IN LARGER SIZES
PATTERN 1738
BY ANNE ADAMS

When you're past the "thirties" the mode has charming fashions to offer you. Frocks that reflect the dignity and charm of your age, frocks that are gracious and flattering to the figure as well as up-to-the-minute with chic—these are the prize-winners of skilled designers. Such a model is sketched today—isn't it lovely? It boasts simple lines, smart revers, comfortable sleeves and slender skirt seaming. The back is cut in one piece, so you see how easily the frock can be made. Wash silk or cotton prints are most appropriate.

Pattern 1738 is available in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 36 takes 3 5-8 yards 39 inch fabric and 5-8 yard contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

THE CURRENT EDITION OF THE ANNE ADAMS PATTERN BOOK WILL HELP YOU SAVE MONEY. ORDER YOUR COPY TODAY! PRICE OF CATALOG FIFTEEN CENTS. CATALOG AND PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Live Poultry Comment

LOS ANGELES— The market tone was firmer this morning under improved demand on most classes of dressed poultry. Heavy broilers were firm with majority of receipts going to lighter weights. Leghorn hens cleared readily with receipts no more than equal to demand. There was no change noted in the colored fryer or roaster market.

TURKEYS—Dealers showed very little interest in purchasing additional stocks of live and dressed turkeys. Local receipts of live were very light and little interest was shown at 14 to 16 cents for same. A few fresh dressed turkeys were reported being purchased at 17½ to 18 cents. Holiday stock was offered at 16 cents with very little interest shown in same.

For some time I have been intending to talk to women of middle age about certain mild phobias with which they may be afflicted and the necessity to nip them in the bud before they take such root that the term "queer" can be applied. Do any of these conditions fit you?

A disposition to dislike new clothes, to let them hang for weeks in the closet before one has a desire to wear them.

A super-cleanliness complex: washing hands unnecessarily, elaborately wiping off silver, even china, before eating, sometimes in one's own house or a friend's.

Sloppiness of attire and lack of attention to good grooming.

The idea that people are snubbing you just because you are getting along in years.

TODAY'S RECIPE

A Fool-Proof Cake

Part 1—
1 1-2 cups thick cream
1 1-3 cups sugar
1 tsp. salt
3 eggs
1 1-2 tsps. flavoring
Part 2—
2 1-2 cups flour
2 1-2 tsps. baking powder
—Contributed recipe.

The lady says that one may use sour cream if they have it, and to stir through the sour cream 1-4 tsp. of soda.

Put cream, sugar, eggs, salt and flavoring together in the mixing bowl and beat thoroughly with the egg beater.

Sift and measure the flour, add baking powder and sift again, gradually working the sifted flour into the cream part until a very smooth batter results. Bake in 2 layer tins, and put together with favorite filling.

Vary this cake by using 1-2 cup of ground raisins in the batter one time, next time use a little spice and a cup of finely chopped nut meats. Bake 30 minutes in a 350 degree oven.

• • •

This cake may be fool-proof but it isn't fat-proof by a long shot. . . . in fact, you fat ladies had better just read over the recipe and forget about it unless you have a cast-iron will and can stand to bake it and see the family eat it without heart-burnings.

"TURN BACKWARD O TIME IN THY FLIGHT"

The School Board has called an election for January 23rd in the city. On this date the voters will vote on the question of whether to undertake the repairing and rebuilding of the high school and the grammar schools. It involves a matter of $615,000. One hundred and fifteen thousand dollars is allocated for the primary schools and the balance for the high school. While Frances Willard school is mentioned, most of the money will be used for the high school.

In a way, we were rather surprised that this vote was asked. Two weeks ago the question was presented to the board as to whether they wanted this money. They had made application for a total of some $900,000 from the earthquake committee of the R. F. C. This amount was allocated to Santa Ana, but the school board had not actually entered into arrangements to take it.

The R. F. C. committee insisted that the school board at that time should decide whether they would borrow the money, or how much of it, because all of it lapsed back to the Federal government on the 31st of December, that was not allocated, and the amount of money in their hands was not great enough to meet the demands of other communities. Long Beach needed more money, Compton needed more money, and it was understood if Santa Ana were not going to take this money, it would be granted to these other towns.

With this distinct understanding, given in the plainest language imaginable, the school board entered into an agreement to borrow the $615,000. At that time, the question was squarely before them. They could have decided for or against it. The responsibility was theirs, and supposedly they assumed that responsibility when they entered into the agreement.

Now a vote is asked of the people. This vote has no actual or real legal significance. If it were a question of a bond issue for the $500,000 or $600,000, it would require a two-thirds vote, and the people could determine it for themselves. But the debt already upon the high school district precludes the voting of bonds, and this election is called simply for informative purposes. It will let the school board know where the majority of the citizens who vote stand.

It is very probable that there will not be over a 15 or 20 per cent vote. Even on the question of bonds, where it carried the full weight of legal power in Anaheim, there was only about a 20 per cent vote. So on a fraction of the vote, which is merely informative, and will let the school board know how the majority of the people who vote at that time feel about it, the school board will determine its further action. That is, having accepted the money, if the majority of the votes cast are against it, they will return the money. Long Beach will have lost it, Compton will have lost it, and the committee that granted the money, as well as these cities, will feel a shabby trick has been played upon it.

It is a perfectly legal thing to do, but some things that are legal are not morally permissable. When the school board assumed that responsibility, they should continue it and state to the public the reason why they had to do it. With this situation on, of course, the public can decide on what they consider its merits. There were some phases of the situation as it developed, which were very objectionable. It may be well that the public has the opportunity to decide, though we feel that faith was broken with the R. F. C. committee. Of course it makes no difference to them now, or to the other communities. They have lost the money in any case.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT RENOUNCES ARMED INTERFERENCE

We want to congratulate President Roosevelt on his public utterance last evening, in respect to armed intervention in other American nations. He has taken the position that the United States will not alone interfere with armed force in the internal affairs of other nations on the Western Hemisphere.

We believe this is the only consistent and logical position the United States can take. Assuming the other attitude, and interfering with other countries, has not only gotten us into great trouble, expense and loss of life, but it has developed the hostility of about half of the population of the country in which we interfere, and sometimes more, and challenged the hostility of all the other nations of Central and South America.

The difficulty has been that we have been the judges of what should be done. If there is going to be interference, let it be done by agreement, and let all the nations agree that they will accept interference under the same conditions. But if they do not agree, the nations should stay out of the internal affairs of other countries.

If we could enter an agreement here upon the Western hemisphere, that under certain conditions we could all be treated alike, so that the United States could have the other nations interfere with our internal affairs, as we would insist on doing with the others, well and good, it is a reciprocal agreement. But in this other manner it is a unilateral affair. It has been done primarily to protect the investments of big financial men in the United States. We have always done it, however, in the name of "patriotism" and "humanity" and "orderly government."

We should be governed by the same laws and regulations that we insist shall govern other people. There is no more reason in right that we should presume to go into Nicaragua, and tell them what they shall do, than that Nicaragua shall do the same thing to the United States. The reason we can do it with Nicaragua is because we have the power and Nicaragua has not.

President Roosevelt establishes his position upon law and right and fairness. He will receive the approval of all the nations of Central and South America, and undoubtedly the vast majority of the people of the United States. It strengthens our position against the possibility of war, and incidentally our trade relations with all of the Latin countries.

"WHO'S AFRAID OF THE BIG BAD WOLF"

Recent experiments on dogs, conducted by Professor Ivan Pavlov are believed to throw light on the strain placed upon the individual called upon to make decisions and is interpreted by Dr. Alan Gregg, director of medical science for the Rockefeller Foundation to indicate that rich people who have choices are subjected to great strain.

Most of us didn't need the elaborate experiment on this dog, who became frightfully irritable when confronted with a choice, to prove that making decisions was difficult. It is consoling to know, however, that two suits are really more injurious to our health than one, and two sets of dishes more of a strain on our nervous system than one. It is proverbial that the woman who has only one dress to wear is relieved of the necessity of debating what she shall wear. Of course she may worry now and then about what she will do if she spills coffee on her one and only dress but she won't worry long if she realizes, as Professor Pavlov's experiment helps her to do, how very fortunate she is in only having one.

It is generally reported that the well-to-do have suffered very much more than the habitually poor during the depression. Habit and custom harden one to suffering and want. Byron's Prisoner of Chillon, confined in a dungeon for years twenty feet beneath the waters of Lake Geneva, was finally liberated. When his keeper opened his dungeon door, Byron makes him say:

"My very chains and I grew friends,
So much a long communion tends
To make us what we are.
Even I regained my freedom with a sigh."

Yet, we suspect, neither rich nor the poor will see the point. The rich will always want to remain rich, and the poor will always want to cease to be poor, even though riches, with its more numerous decisions to make, breaks down the nerves.

"PEARLS BEFORE SWINE"

Thirteen learned societies held annual conventions in Philadelphia this week. They include: American Economic Association, American Statistical Association, American Farm Economic Association, American Association for Labor Legislation, American Association of University Instructors in Accounting, Association of Business Law in Collegiate Schools of Business, American Marketing Society, Econometric Society, American Association of Schools of Social Work, American Political Science Association.

Attending these conventions will be several thousand delegates and five hundred speakers. After they get through spreading their learning around Philadelphia we wish Miss Ethel Barrymore would go to Philadelphia and see if there isn't some hope for the city. Several weeks ago she lambasted a gathering there and said that there absolutely was not any hope for their ever knowing anything. She probably believes these conclaves in Philadelphia are "casting pearls before swine."

Yacht Harbor For Newport

Riverside Daily Press

After several unsuccessful attempts Orange county has finally voted bonds for Newport Harbor, and work is expected to be actually under way in a short time. The bond election carried by a good majority, almost three to one throughout the county, the beach section favoring the bonds almost unanimously.

Providing the government does its part, which would mean that for every local dollar Uncle Sam would provide two dollars, Newport Harbor will be completed on a fine plan. The improvement certainly means increased property values thereabouts, and this, of course, will be most interesting to Riverside county citizens who are property owners at Newport Beach.

The harbor improvement means the expenditure of considerable money during the coming months, an additional cause for rejoicing on the success of the bonds.

The primary objective in voting the bonds was the creation of a harbor of large area and unequalled facilities. Yachting enthusiasts stress the fact that there is need for such a yacht haven on the Southern California coast, where yachts in large numbers may maneuver and anchor as they desire without interference with commercial shipping.

The site selected is ideal, and it is expected there will be a great stimulus to yachting because of the increased accommodations.

Commercial shipping will also be provided for by ample terminals, so that both phases of maritime activity may be carried on. This is feasible because of the large area of Newport bay.

Jetty building and the dredging of channels will be two of the main items in the improvement program.

Great For His Time

San Francisco Chronicle

An obituary of Harry de Windt, famous traveler of only a generation ago, who died this month, comes like an echo from a long dead past. Those were thrilling newspaper exploits of de Windt when he traveled from Paris to New York by land, succeeding in 1901-02 where he had failed in 1896 with a narrow rescue by a whaler from the ice of Bering straits; when he rode horseback from Russia to India in 1899, and when he rode from Peking to Paris in 1887.

Yet Harry de Windt, whose long range speed journeys were so marvelous in his time, lived to see Haardt take a motor caravan across Asia and Wiley Post fly around the world in less than a week.

Taken For a Sleigh Ride

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

SAFETY FIRST

I'd like to brave wild roaring gales,
To scour the seas in quest of whales
Which plunge and leap
Across the deep—
Fair game to chase and slaughter.
But no cetacean have I slain
Upon the rolling, rocking main;
The whale abides
In briny tides,
And I don't like salt water.

I'd like to track the lion through
The jungle depths of Timbuktu;
To trail and shoot
The surly brute
Would, past all doubt, delight me.
But if a lion I should see
I know I'd climb the nearest tree,
And shudder while
I tried to smile
And begged him not to bite me.

I like to read of hunters brave
Who've faced the grizzly in his cave
And sent swift shots
To vital spots,
Until from life he parted.
But never bear shall I pursue,
For just between myself and you,
I should not care
To fight a bear;
I'm too doggone kind-hearted.

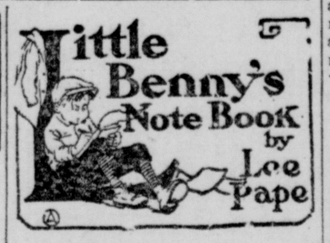
Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape



Ma was in her room in front of the mirrer watching herself put her hat on, and pop was waiting for her in the living room, saying, If I didn't haff to go out and play bridge tonite it mite not make me the happiest man alive but it would certeny make me happier than I am at present, and everything is relative.

Giving me a good ideer, and I said, Well G, pop, why don't you sneeze a few sneezes and then ma will think your cold is coming back and if she thawt that she wouldn't leave you go out even if you wanted to, on account of the way the wind is blowing.

Your ideer undoubtedly has its points, but I'm afraid to say I could not stoop to gain my ends by any such dubble deeling, underhand methods and skulduggery, pop said, and I said, Well gosh, pop, of course not, but suppose I suddenly axsidently sprinkled a little pepper neer your nose?

Axsidents will happen unfortunately, pop said, and I quick ran down in the dining room and spilled some pepper out in my hand and ran back again, and ma was in there telling pop to get reddy and I wawked passed his chair and unlumped the pepper out of my hand and sure enough pop sneezed 4 fast sneezes, saying, Well, well, what's happening to me? I'm not getting my cold back again, I know that much, and I'm not going to have anybody telling me diffrent and I'm not going to let a lot of cold wind bluff me into staying in the house, I dont care how loud it howls, he said.

Now Willyum, I'm not going to have you declining into a relapse on a nite like this, ma said. One more sneeze and I'll telefone to call off our ingagement, she said.

In the Long Ago

From The Register Files
14 Years Ago Today

DECEMBER 29, 1919

Two hundred pounds of turkey had been roasted in anticipation of the large crowd at the annual Christmas Jinks of Santa Ana B. P. O. E. Nearly 400 Elks were present for the dinner and special program.

Judge Z. B. West of the superior court of Orange county, left for Santa Barbara to preside as judge of the superior court of that county for three days.

The fourteen employes of the Santa Ana Iron Works were rejoicing in a Christmas present of a raise in wages, announced by the company as a reward for the cooperation shown by the men.

Miss Sara Rideout, assistant postmistress at Placentia, resigned that position in order to take up advanced study in library work, fitting herself for the position of librarian in the Placentia Public library to open in the near future.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

CAPITAL GOODS AND RECOVERY

Colonel Leonard P. Ayres is perhaps the most colorful and persistent advocate of the crucial importance of a prompt stimulation of the capital goods industries. He has entered the lists in ardent opposition to the Roosevelt drive to increase purchasing power for consumer goods, insisting that to increase purchasing power for durable goods is more important for national recovery.

Let me state the case for capital goods as the Ayres school of economists see it.

The great bulk of American unemployment is, they contend, in the heavy industries, in construction, in iron and steel, in the manufacture of machinery and equipment, in coal mining for industrial use and in freight-carrying railroads. And the greatest existing deficit in purchasing power is not, they tell us, in consumer purchasing power for retail goods, but in corporate and individual purchasing power for durable goods.

They say labor statistics indicate concretely that industrial unemployment in 1933 has been about one-twelfth among workers who produce consumer goods normally sold in stores at retail, with about eleven-twelfths among workers who produce and transport durable goods.

They decline to believe that capital goods have raced too far ahead of consumer goods. They contend there is real need for capital goods, for durable goods. Most of our automobiles, they say, are obsolete or obsolescent, our railroads are faced with a vast accumulation of maintenance and replacement needs, and myriad families need new houses. Above all, they argue, our whole industrial plant has been depreciating during the depression and needs a huge physical volume of work, materials and equipment.

Depressions are caused by sudden decreases in the output of capital goods and business revives only when demands for new construction and new equipment bring new stimulus to the creation of capital goods, they believe.

"To restore prosperity," says Colonel Ayres, "we must revive the production of durable goods, which involves the floating of corporate bonds, and that in turn requires the restoration of full faith in the future of money and credit."

The Ayres school of economists hold that the Roosevelt drive against depression is directed at the wrong enemy, unemployment in the camp of the producers of consumer goods, when the real enemy is unemployment in the camp of the producers of durable goods. They would have Mr. Roosevelt postpone his concern with shorter hours and higher wages and wider employment, stop monkeying with credit and currency, put most of the restrictions of the securities act in cold storage, and move heaven and earth to make things easy for the manufacturers of durable goods in confidence that a boom in the capital goods industries would fertilize the whole of our economic enterprise.

There is another side to this story, which I shall try to interpret tomorrow.

Our Children By Angelo Patri

PERFECTION

I have heard a great deal about the divine dissatisfaction of those who, having attained to perfection realized that they were still far short of their goal. Evidently that means infinite perfection. I wish that those who dealt with little children would put such fantastic notions out of their minds. There is no such thing in human experience as perfection. The perfection of infinity is beyond us, else why are we called human?

A child hands a teacher a fine bit of work. She scans it with eager eyes. Everything asked for is on the paper. It is neatly presented. It is correct. It calls for a hundred percent rating. What does the usual teacher say?

"Fine. That is a good paper. Now next time when you are handing in a paper try to make it perfect. Make all the down strokes the same color and in the same slant and don't forget to close the O's. That tail on the 'y' is bad. Finish the words carefully."

By this time the child has begun to think that maybe he isn't so good after all. Maybe he was mistaken in thinking he had done a perfect job and earned his hundred percent. He feels a sickening weight at his heart and wearily he listens for the dismissal bell. What's the use?

The teacher would say, if you asked the reason for this, "He would rest satisfied if I didn't point out to him that there was room for improvement. I must spur him on to greater effort and greater achievement. He does wonderful work and I must keep him to the highest possible pitch of effort and accomplishment."

So. Then destructive criticism, fault finding, grudging praise is a tonic to striving spirits? Not for a fraction of a grain is it effective for anything but discouragement and doubt and despair. That sort of criticism, the sort of marking that gives a child a poorer mark than his work called for, the grudging recognition of success are depressing influences and their results are certain failure.

When a child does a piece of work and he hands it to you or shows it to you, all in a glow of accomplishment, praise him. Tell him he has done well. Don't fix your eye on the crooked line, the slight smudge, the error in spelling or penmanship. Fix it on the whole job and say, "You did well. You're growing. You're getting better and better." Heighten his glow of accomplishment with the thrill of success and never mind the immaturities of his work.

Isn't he to be corrected? Of course. That is why he makes mistakes. To give us an opportunity to see his stage of growth and to build upon it in accord with its need. This job is not the last one he is to do although of might think by the reaction of some parents and teachers that this one deed is the final and the uttermost of his time. Take it for what it is, an effort, an expression of a stage of growth and with gentleness and understanding build upon it.

For there is no perfection in us. We go from stage to stage always progressing provided we retain within us the spark of hope that is fed by encouragement and praise and success.

GAJESKI PROGRAM ON KREG TONIGHT

Musical gems in "Gadjeskis' Music Album" presentation on KREG tonight, presented by the Gadjeski Furniture Company of Santa Ana, will include Ketelbey's descriptive composition: "In the Mystic Land of Egypt," with oriental sound effects, and the voice of Mary Lewis singing the favorites: "Little Grey Home in the West," and "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water," by Cadman.

The presentation will start at 7:30.

KREG NOTES

More reports from KREG's DX broadcast of last Sunday morning are arriving, indicating that further reports will be received from other parts of the United States. Letters were received from the states of Ohio, Mississippi, Nevada and Iowa; in addition to the letters from Massachusetts and northern California received last Wednesday by air mail.

Mrs. Helen Walden, instructor of typewriting in the Adult Education Department, Santa Ana City Schools, will speak on attaining speed in the adult typing classes. 5:30 this evening, KREG.

Julia Jordan, concert vocalist, will offer four songs by master-composers tonight during her broadcast from KREG, starting at 6:15. Her program will include: "My Heart Is Singing," Gertrude Sans Souci; "La Paloma," Yradier; "Rose in the Bud," Dorothy Forster, repeated by request, and "I Hear a Thrush at Eve," Charles Wakefield Cadman.

Julia Jordan said that she would be pleased to grant requests for her programs, Tuesdays and Fridays at the above time, provided they are mailed to her in advance, care of KREG.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References Are Pacific Standard Time

Outstanding events of 1933 will be dramatized during the "March of Time" over a nationwide Columbia network including KHJ at 5:30 this evening. The year just drawing to a close has probably been filled with more happenings of great importance than any 12 months in the past decade.

* * *

The Philadelphia orchestra, with Leopold Stokowski conducting, will present the interesting composition of Vaughn Williams, Variations on a Theme by Thomas Tallys, during the broadcast to be heard over the Columbia network including KHJ at 6 tonight.

A three-hour broadcast of the entire presentation of the opera "Mignon" with Lucretia Bori and Lily Pons included in the cast, will be heard over the NBC network including KFI beginning at 10:55 a.m. Saturday.

Anaheim Police Notes

ANAHEIM, Dec. 29.—Norman Hubert of Los Angeles was taken to the Orange County Hospital yesterday morning after he had fainted on the witness stand when he appeared before Judge Frank Tausch of the recorder's court on a charge of petty theft. From there he will be removed to the county jail to serve a term of 90 days, as will his companion in crime John Mattler.

Jack Lyons, former police officer at Maywood, California, was fined $10 or five days in jail, yesterday morning when he appeared in the recorder's court with a citation for parking in an alley.

DX SCHEDULES FOR NEXT WEEK GIVEN PUBLIC

Have you heard your home town radio station since you came to California? If not, here is your opportunity, as no other station will be on the air, on the same frequency, at the times the following stations are scheduled.

Following is the DX schedule for the week ending January 6. All times listed below are Pacific Standard:

Sunday, December 31—WEED, 1420 kcs, Greenville, N. C., 12:01 to 1:00 a. m. WEHS, 1420 kcs., Cicero, Illinois, 1:00 to 2:00 a. m.; XEFV, 1400 kcs, Juarez, Mexico, 1:00 to 3:00 a. m.; WIBW, 580 kcs., Topeka, Kansas, until 1:00 a. m.; CKWX, 1010 kcs, Vancouver, B. C., 12:01 to 2:00 a. m.

Monday, January 1—KCRC, 1370 kcs, Enid, Oklahoma, 1:10 to 1:30 a. m.; KGY, 1210 kcs, Olympia, Washington, 1:40 to 2:00 a. m.

Tuesday, January 2—CHWK, 780 kcs, Chilliwack, B. C., 12:01 to 1:00 a. m., KWG, 1200 kcs, Stockton, California, 12:01 to 1:30 a. m.

Wednesday, January 3—KBTM, 1200 kcs, Paragould, Arkansas, 12:50 to 1:10 a. m.; WCAL—1250 kcs., Northfield, Minnesota, 1:30 to 1:50 a. m.; WKBB, 1500 kcs, East Dubuque, Illinois, 12:01 to 12:20 a. m.

Thursday, January 4—WGCM, 1210 kcs, Gulfport, Mississippi, 12:01 to 12.10 a. m.; WNBR, 1430 kcs, Memphis, Tennessee, 1:10 to 1:30 a. m.

Friday, January 5—WCLO, 1200 kcs, Janesville, Wisconsin, 1:30 to 1:50 a. m.; WTAQ, 1330 kcs, Eau Claire, Wisconsin, 2:40 to 3:00 a. m.

Saturday, January 6—WIS, 1010 kcs, Columbia, South Carolina, 1:00 to 2:00 a. m.; WCAC, 600 kcs, Storrs, Connecticut, 1:30 to 2:30 a. m.; KGCR, 1210 kcs, Watertown, South Dakota, 2:10 to 2:30 a. m.; KVL, 1370 kcs. Seattle, Washington, 12:01 to 1:30 a. m.

To avoid any possible error in checking the dates and times on these tips as given, a brief explanation is made. For instance, when a station is listed to broadcast on Friday, January 5, from say 12:01 to 1:00 a. m., PST, it means, of course, that the station will be on Friday morning, January 5. Or in other words, to make it clearer, the program would be held after midnight on the night of January 4. While this is not as lengthy an explanation as might be given we hope it will tend to clear up any doubt or confusion that might occur.

"THE BROKEN COIN" ON KREG TONIGHT

Another intense drama will be broadcast from KREG tonight at 7:45, under the title of "The Broken Coin."

It is a sketch about the strange talisman that brought together, under tragic circumstances, the lives of two people that had been separated for years. The play is full of atmospheric color, taking place in resorts of "Gay Paris" night life, showing how cafes swindled tourists, the brazenness of gold-diggers thieving waiters, etc., and the plot is laid in this foreign locale.

Florence Malone, dramatic actress of radio, will carry the feature role.

CITRUS HOUSES TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETS

ANAHEIM, Dec. 29.—With the 1933 citrus industry in Anaheim closed packing houses of the Central Orange County Citrus Exchange today made known the dates for the annual meetings that will be held in each of the packing houses.

The Anaheim Citrus Fruit association will hold its meeting on January 10, Carl Monahan, manager, stated and on the following day, January 11, the Orange and Lemon association will meet according to G. W. Sandilands, manager. The Anaheim Community Citrus association will meet on January 12, according to announcement from Edward Mills, manager.

The district meeting for the Exchange will be held on February 12, the meeting place to be announced at a later date.

ANAHEIM RESIDENT EXPLOSION VICTIM

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—Hubert R. Brown, 40, of Anaheim, died at the General hospital yesterday from burns received the day following Christmas when a gasoline tank exploded.

The accident occurred while the victim was visiting the dairy of his brother, Herbert Brown, in Baldwin Park. Herbert was pumping up a tank of gasoline used in the sterilization equipment of the milkhouse when it burst, spraying both of the brothers with ignited gas. Herbert was not seriously burned.

BUSINESS MEN TO TALK OVER SCHOOL PLANS

ANAHEIM, Dec. 29.—With the $275,000 bond issue for the reconstruction of buildings in the Anaheim Union High school plant, lost, and board of trustees facing the serious problem of providing for the safety of the school children without any visible method of means of procedure the Chamber of Commerce board of directors yesterday issued an invitation for the former group to meet with the latter in the Elks' clubhouse on January 11 for the purpose of discussion of plans. The meeting will immediately precede the regular board meeting time of the high school trustees.

This invitation was extended when the booster body trustees met at the Elks' clubhouse for its regular monthly meeting.

A resolution was passed urging the federal government to buy citrus to be donated to needy families as it has been doing with pork and greens, the resolution stating that oranges and lemons are a basic food. The resolution was presented by the Riverside Chamber of Commerce and cited figures to show what the industry has done in this district to aid needy families. In 1932 155 cars of fruit were donated and last year 600 cars of fruit.

A communication was read from Angelo Glorioso of Oklahoma, head of the Anaheim Canning company, stating that negotiations with the Community and Industrial Land company may be completed in two weeks as the deal will then be discussed by the board of directors.

The Industrial Land company is willing to donate 2 acres of land in the tract northeast of town, providing the canning company will put up a $15,000 building. The canning company is seeking larger accommodations in order to expand and negotiated first for the old citrus packing plant that has now been idle for two years, but once was used by the Anaheim Citrus Fruit association.

A letter was read from Herbert Osborne, chief engineer for the county C. W. A. committee urging that all bids for materials in the C. W. A. jobs be directly submitted to him in order to speed up the program. He advised that all parties making bids first contact him. Bids should be sent to Room 353 Court House Annex.

Al Ruitcel, vice president of the board of directors, presided over the meeting.

MISS TAUNTON TO SPEAK TO WOMEN

ANAHEIM, Dec. 29.—With this week's meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club postponed until January 11 the first program for the New Year will feature Miss Ruth Taunton, formerly of Anaheim, in an address on present conditions in Washington, D. C., and work being carried on in the National Women's party.

Miss Taunton, formerly president of the local group, has recently completed a year's work with the National Women's party in Washington, D. C., where she was publicity chairman.

The next executive board meeting will be held on January 4 and all members are urged to attend.

SOCIETY

Magnolia Circle

Twenty-two members of Magnolia circle of Royal Neighbors met yesterday in the home of Mrs. Grace Gross, 615 Cypress avenue, for their Christmas party.

After the covered dish luncheon at noon and before the business meeting, the members adjourned in a body to Harrell and Brown to attend the funeral of their departed member, Mrs. Etta M. Douglas.

At the subsequent business meeting in the Gross home, several items were taken care of, and then numbers were drawn for the exchange of Christmas gifts. These had been piled around the Christmas tree which remained with other Yule decorations of the home, for the meeting of this organization. The next gathering place will be in January at the home of Mrs. Stella Miller, 817 North Parton street.

Torosa Rebekahs

One of the interesting features of Wednesday night's meeting of Torosa Rebekah lodge, was the disclosure of identities of "mystery pals" who have done so much for various members during the past six months. This disclosure came in connection with the final friendly gesture of these unknown friends, the exchange of Christmas gifts.

Miss Bessie Potter, noble grand, and her officers conducted the usual lodge business session as a preliminary to a New Year's party, plans for which were in the hands of Adeline Cochems Harrell. Mrs. Edward Cochems was chairman of the committee serving refreshments in the banquet room at the close of the social program.

Torosa Rebekahs will hold an open installation of new officers in I. O. O. F. hall on the night of January 10.

RELIEF FUNDS TO BE SOUGHT OF CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(UP)—Federal Relief Administrator Hopkins indicated today that congress would be asked for "around $100,000,000" to carry on the government's relief activities to July 1, 1934.

The $500,000,000 relief fund probably will last until April 1, Hopkins said.

The administrator said he anticipated that there would be an additional appropriation for the Civil Works program out of the public works fund. He did not name a figure but observed that President Roosevelt had indicated he would seek a further appropriation of $250,000,000.

Since the Public Works fund of $3,300,000,000 is virtually depleted. It will be up to congress, Hopkins pointed out, to appropriate funds for the CWA.

After July 1, 1934, the end of the fiscal year, Hopkins said the regular yearly appropriation would be sought for relief activities. He pointed out that the anticipated $100,000,000 appropriation would be asked only to complete the present fiscal period.

Relief activities will proceed, Hopkins announced, in the inundated areas of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Northern California. In these areas aid is being extended to families who have been subjected to discomforture by rising waters.

CWA PROJECT FOR ANAHEIM PLANNED

ANAHEIM, Dec. 29.—An $1800 project under the CWA that was submitted by the city of Anaheim for the repairing of curbs and sidewalks all over town, has been returned to the city authorities for slight changes after which it will undoubtedly be approved City Engineer Hapgood stated this morning, as he prepared to send in the revised specifications.

The changes required will be in the rate of pay and another division of material. When the project was submitted it called for a pay rate of 50 cents per hour, the city now being asked to increase this to 60 cents per hour. The sesond necessary change is an increase in the city's portion for the purchasing of material. CWA regulations state that all the labor money will be granted and materials up to one-third of the labor.

Work will be started as soon as final authority is given. Approximately 10 men will be hired to do the work.

RICHARD BORST TO DELIVER LECTURES

ANAHEIM, Dec. 29.—Richard Borst, head of English department at the Fullerton Junior college, will lead a series of lectures, beginning January 18, on current books at the Anaheim public library and the public is cordially invited to attend, according to an announcement from the board of trustees.

The lectures will begin at 7:45, the library closing its regular work at 7 o'clock (instead of 9 p. m.) and then reopening for the lectures.

HANSEN

HANSEN, Dec. 29.—Guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McInnis at dinner Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ketchum and daughter, Harriet Louise, of Glendale, and Richard Hanna, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Alice Chandler, Raymond Penhall and son, Melvin, and Mr. and Mrs. Lem Hay and children were entertained Sunday evening in the home of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hoffman at Costa Mesa.

FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW WYORK, Dec. 29.—(UP)—Firmness in utilities, wet stocks and a few special issues stood out today in an otherwise lower stock market. Trading was light.

Most commodities reacted downward, notably grains. Wheat last 2⅜ to 2½c for the day, while corn was down 1⅜ to 1⅞ cents; oats down 1 to 1¼ cents; Rye down 1⅜ to 2¼ cents, and barley down 1¼ to 1½ cents. Silver, hides and cotton were down moderately, while rubber and silk advanced.

Demand for "wet" stocks was a feature of the stock market session. American Commercial Alcohol touched 52 up 2½; National Distillers, 25½, up 1, and U. S. Industrial Alcohol 51¾, up 1. The gains were reduced late in the session.

Stock sales today were 1,130,000 shares as against 1,480,000 shares yesterday. Curb sales today totaled 271,000 shares as against 282,000 shares yesterday.

Dow Jones preliminary averages showed Industrials 98.67, off 0.62; railroad, 40.42, off 0.06, and utility 23.10, up 0.04.

NEW YORK BONDS

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(UP)—Speculative rails and utilities forged ahead on the bond market again today as heavy buying demand continued in spite of unsettlement in outside markets.

United States government issues were steady, most of the treasury certificates showing small gains. Foreign obligatinos showed narrow price movements, with exception of German issues, most of which, including the government 5½, gained from 1 to about 2 points.

Rails continued to lead other sections of the corporation list. Gains of 1 to 3 points and more took place in issues of the Chesapeake & Ohio, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, Nickel Plate, New Haven, New York Central, Chicago and Northwestern and others.

Live Poultry Comment

LOS ANGELES— The market tone was firmer this morning under improved demand on most classes of dressed poultry. Heavy broilers were firm with majority of receipts going to lighter weights. Leghorn hens cleared readily with receipts no more than equal to demand. There was no change noted in the colored fryer or roaster market.

TURKEYS—Dealers showed very little interest in purchasing additional stocks of live and dressed turkeys. Local receipts of live were very light and little interest was shown at 14 to 16 cents for same. A few fresh dressed turkeys were reported being purchased at 17½ to 18 cents. Holiday stock was offered at 16 cents with very little interest shown in same.

"TURN BACKWARD O TIME IN THY FLIGHT"

The School Board has called an election for January 23rd in the city. On this date the voters will vote on the question of whether to undertake the repairing and rebuilding of the high school and the grammar schools. It involves a matter of $615,000. One hundred and fifteen thousand dollars is allocated for the primary schools and the balance for the high school. While Frances Willard school is mentioned, most of the money will be used for the high school.

In a way, we were rather surprised that this vote was asked. Two weeks ago the question was presented to the board as to whether they wanted this money. They had made application for a total of some $900,000 from the earthquake committee of the R. F. C. This amount was allocated to Santa Ana, but the school board had not actually entered into arrangements to take it.

The R. F. C. committee insisted that the school board at that time should decide whether they would borrow the money, or how much of it, because all of it lapsed back to the Federal government on the 31st of December, that was not allocated, and the amount of money in their hands was not great enough to meet the demands of other communities. Long Beach needed more money, Compton needed more money, and it was understood if Santa Ana were not going to take this money, it would be granted to these other towns.

With this distinct understanding, given in the plainest language imaginable, the school board entered into an agreement to borrow the $615,000. At that time, the question was squarely before them. They could have decided for or against it. The responsibility was theirs, and supposedly they assumed that responsibility when they entered into the agreement.

Now a vote is asked of the people. This vote has no actual or real legal significance. If it were a question of a bond issue for the $500,000 or $600,000, it would require a two-thirds vote, and the people could determine it for themselves. But the debt already upon the high school district precludes the voting of bonds, and this election is called simply for informative purposes. It will let the school board know where the majority of the citizens who vote stand.

It is very probable that there will not be over a 15 or 20 per cent vote. Even on the question of bonds, where it carried the full weight of legal power in Anaheim, there was only about a 20 per cent vote. So on a fraction of the vote, which is merely informative, and will let the school board know how the majority of the people who vote at that time feel about it, the school board will determine its further action. That is, having accepted the money, if the majority of the votes cast are against it, they will return the money. Long Beach will have lost it, Compton will have lost it, and the committee that granted the money, as well as these cities, will feel a shabby trick has been played upon it.

It is a perfectly legal thing to do, but some things that are legal are not morally permissable. When the school board assumed that responsibility, they should continue it and state to the public the reason why they had to do it. With this situation on, of course, the public can decide on what they consider its merits. There were some phases of the situation as it developed, which were very objectionable. It may be well that the public has the opportunity to decide, though we feel that faith was broken with the R. F. C. committee. Of course it makes no difference to them now, or to the other communities. They have lost the money in any case.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT RENOUNCES ARMED INTERFERENCE

We want to congratulate President Roosevelt on his public utterance last evening, in respect to armed intervention in other American nations. He has taken the position that the United States will not alone interfere with armed force in the internal affairs of other nations on the Western Hemisphere.

We believe this is the only consistent and logical position the United States can take. Assuming the other attitude, and interfering with other countries, has not only gotten us into great trouble, expense and loss of life, but it has developed the hostility of about half of the population of the country in which we interfere, and sometimes more, and challenged the hostility of all the other nations of Central and South America.

The difficulty has been that we have been the judges of what should be done. If there is going to be interference, let it be done by agreement, and let all the nations agree that they will accept interference under the same conditions. But if they do not agree, the nations should stay out of the internal affairs of other countries.

If we could enter an agreement here upon the Western hemisphere, that under certain conditions we could all be treated alike, so that the United States could have the other nations interfere with our internal affairs, as we would insist on doing with the others, well and good, it is a reciprocal agreement. But in this other manner it is a unilateral affair. It has been done primarily to protect the investments of big financial men in the United States. We have always done it, however, in the name of "patriotism" and "humanity" and "orderly government."

We should be governed by the same laws and regulations that we insist shall govern other people. There is no more reason in right that we should presume to go into Nicaragua, and tell them what they shall do, than that Nicaragua shall do the same thing to the United States. The reason we can do it with Nicaragua is because we have the power and Nicaragua has not.

President Roosevelt establishes his position upon law and right and fairness. He will receive the approval of all the nations of Central and South America, and undoubtedly the vast majority of the people of the United States. It strengthens our position against the possibility of war, and incidentally our trade relations with all of the Latin countries.

"WHO'S AFRAID OF THE BIG BAD WOLF"

Recent experiments on dogs, conducted by Professor Ivan Pavlov are believed to throw light on the strain placed upon the individual called upon to make decisions and is interpreted by Dr. Alan Gregg, director of medical science for the Rockefeller Foundation to indicate that rich people who have choices are subjected to great strain.

Most of us didn't need the elaborate experiment on this dog, who became frightfully irritable when confronted with a choice, to prove that making decisions was difficult. It is consoling to know, however, that two suits are really more injurious to our health than one, and two sets of dishes more of a strain on our nervous system than one. It is proverbial that the woman who has only one dress to wear is relieved of the necessity of debating what she shall wear. Of course she may worry now and then about what she will do if she spills coffee on her one and only dress but she won't worry long if she realizes, as Professor Pavlov's experiment helps her to do, how very fortunate she is in only having one.

It is generally reported that the well-to-do have suffered very much more than the habitually poor during the depression. Habit and custom harden one to suffering and want. Byron's Prisoner of Chillon, confined in a dungeon for years twenty feet beneath the waters of Lake Geneva, was finally liberated. When his keeper opened his dungeon door, Byron makes him say:

"My very chains and I grew friends,
So much a long communion tends
To make us what we are.
Even I regained my freedom with a sigh."

Yet, we suspect, neither rich nor the poor will see the point. The rich will always want to remain rich, and the poor will always want to cease to be poor, even though riches, with its more numerous decisions to make, breaks down the nerves.

"PEARLS BEFORE SWINE"

Thirteen learned societies held annual conventions in Philadelphia this week. They include: American Economic Association, American Statistical Association, American Farm Economic Association, American Association for Labor Legislation, American Association of University Instructors in Accounting, Association of Business Law in Collegiate Schools of Business, American Marketing Society, Econometric Society, American Association of Schools of Social Work, American Political Science Association.

Attending these conventions will be several thousand delegates and five hundred speakers. After they get through spreading their learning around Philadelphia we wish Miss Ethel Barrymore would go to Philadelphia and see if there isn't some hope for the city. Several weeks ago she lambasted a gathering there and said that there absolutely was not any hope for their ever knowing anything. She probably believes these conclaves in Philadelphia are "casting pearls before swine."

Yacht Harbor For Newport

Riverside Daily Press

After several unsuccessful attempts Orange county has finally voted bonds for Newport Harbor, and work is expected to be actually under way in a short time. The bond election carried by a good majority, almost three to one throughout the county, the beach section favoring the bonds almost unanimously.

Providing the government does its part, which would mean that for every local dollar Uncle Sam would provide two dollars, Newport Harbor will be completed on a fine plan. The improvement certainly means increased property values thereabouts, and this, of course, will be most interesting to Riverside county citizens who are property owners at Newport Beach.

The harbor improvement means the expenditure of considerable money during the coming months, an additional cause for rejoicing on the success of the bonds.

The primary objective in voting the bonds was the creation of a harbor of large area and unequalled facilities. Yachting enthusiasts stress the fact that there is need for such a yacht haven on the Southern California coast, where yachts in large numbers may maneuver and anchor as they desire without interference with commercial shipping.

The site selected is ideal, and it is expected there will be a great stimulus to yachting because of the increased accommodations.

Commercial shipping will also be provided for by ample terminals, so that both phases of maritime activity may be carried on. This is feasible because of the large area of Newport bay.

Jetty building and the dredging of channels will be two of the main items in the improvement program.

Great For His Time

San Francisco Chronicle

An obituary of Harry de Windt, famous traveler of only a generation ago, who died this month, comes like an echo from a long dead past. Those were thrilling newspaper exploits of de Windt when he traveled from Paris to New York by land, succeeding in 1901-02 where he had failed in 1896 with a narrow rescue by a whaler from the ice of Bering straits; when he rode horseback from Russia to India in 1899, and when he rode from Peking to Paris in 1887.

Yet Harry de Windt, whose long range speed journeys were so marvelous in his time, lived to see Haardt take a motor caravan across Asia and Wiley Post fly around the world in less than a week.

Taken For a Sleigh Ride

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

SAFETY FIRST

I'd like to brave wild roaring gales,
To scour the seas in quest of whales
Which plunge and leap
Across the deep—
Fair game to chase and slaughter.
But no cetacean have I slain
Upon the rolling, rocking main;
The whale abides
In briny tides,
And I don't like salt water.

I'd like to track the lion through
The jungle depths of Timbuktu;
To trail and shoot
The surly brute
Would, past all doubt, delight me.
But if a lion I should see
I know I'd climb the nearest tree,
And shudder while
I tried to smile
And begged him not to bite me.

I like to read of hunters brave
Who've faced the grizzly in his cave
And sent swift shots
To vital spots,
Until from life he parted.
But never bear shall I pursue,
For just between myself and you,
I should not care
To fight a bear;
I'm too doggone kind-hearted.

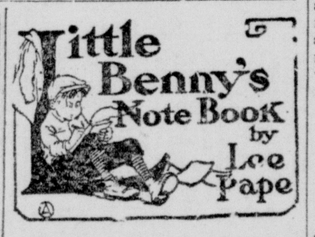
Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape



Ma was in her room in front of the mirrer watching herself put her hat on, and pop was waiting for her in the living room, saying, If I didn't haff to go out and play bridge tonite it mite not make me the happiest man alive but it would certeny make me happier than I am at present, and everything is relative.

Giving me a good ideer, and I said, Well G, pop, why don't you sneeze a few sneezes and then ma will think your cold is coming back and if she thawt that she wouldn't leave you go out even if you wanted to, on account of the way the wind is blowing.

Your ideer undoubtedly has its points, but I'm afraid to say I could not stoop to gain my ends by any such dubble deeling, underhand methods and skulduggery, pop said, and I said, Well gosh, pop, of course not, but suppose I suddenly axsidently sprinkled a little pepper neer your nose?

Axsidents will happen unfortunately, pop said, and I quick ran down in the dining room and spilled some pepper out in my hand and ran back again, and ma was in there telling pop to get reddy and I wawked passed his chair and unlumped the pepper out of my hand and sure enough pop sneezed 4 fast sneezes, saying, Well, well, what's happening to me? I'm not getting my cold back again, I know that much, and I'm not going to have anybody telling me diffrent and I'm not going to let a lot of cold wind bluff me into staying in the house, I dont care how loud it howls, he said.

Now Willyum, I'm not going to have you declining into a relapse on a nite like this, ma said. One more sneeze and I'll telefone to call off our ingagement, she said.

Wich just then there was another one, ony it was her own, and just then there was 2 more, being mine, ma saying, Why, it's pepper. Benny, did you bring pepper in here? she said.

Wich by that time I was half ways up to my room, so I didn't hear her very good.

In the Long Ago

From The Register Files
14 Years Ago Today

DECEMBER 29, 1919

Two hundred pounds of turkey had been roasted in anticipation of the large crowd at the annual Christmas Jinks of Santa Ana B. P. O. E. Nearly 400 Elks were present for the dinner and special program.

Judge Z. B. West of the superior court of Orange county, left for Santa Barbara to preside as judge of the superior court of that county for three days.

The fourteen employes of the Santa Ana Iron Works were rejoicing in a Christmas present of a raise in wages, announced by the company as a reward for the cooperation shown by the men.

Miss Sara Rideout, assistant postmistress at Placentia, resigned that position in order to take up advanced study in library work, fitting herself for the position of librarian in the Placentia Public library to open in the near future.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

CAPITAL GOODS AND RECOVERY

Colonel Leonard P. Ayres is perhaps the most colorful and persistent advocate of the crucial importance of a prompt stimulation of the capital goods industries. He has entered the lists in ardent opposition to the Roosevelt drive to increase purchasing power for consumer goods, insisting that to increase purchasing power for durable goods is more important for national recovery.

Let me state the case for capital goods as the Ayres school of economists see it.

The great bulk of American unemployment is, they contend, in the heavy industries, in construction, in iron and steel, in the manufacture of machinery and equipment, in coal mining for industrial use and in freight-carrying railroads. And the greatest existing deficit in purchasing power is not, they tell us, in consumer purchasing power for retail goods, but in corporate and individual purchasing power for durable goods.

They say labor statistics indicate concretely that industrial unemployment in 1933 has been about one-twelfth among workers who produce consumer goods normally sold in stores at retail, with about eleven-twelfths among workers who produce and transport durable goods.

They decline to believe that capital goods have raced too far ahead of consumer goods. They contend there is real need for capital goods, for durable goods. Most of our automobiles, they say, are obsolete or obsolescent, our railroads are faced with a vast accumulation of maintenance and replacement needs, and myriad families need new houses. Above all, they argue, our whole industrial plant has been depreciating during the depression and needs a huge physical volume of work, materials and equipment.

Depressions are caused by sudden decreases in the output of capital goods and business revives only when demands for new construction and new equipment bring new stimulus to the creation of capital goods, they believe.

"To restore prosperity," says Colonel Ayres, "we must revive the production of durable goods, which involves the floating of corporate bonds, and that in turn requires the restoration of full faith in the future of money and credit."

The Ayres school of economists hold that the Roosevelt drive against depression is directed at the wrong enemy, unemployment in the camp of the producers of consumer goods, when the real enemy is unemployment in the camp of the producers of durable goods. They would have Mr. Roosevelt postpone his concern with shorter hours and higher wages and wider employment, stop monkeying with credit and currency, put most of the restrictions of the securities act in cold storage, and move heaven and earth to make things easy for the manufacturers of durable goods in confidence that a boom in the capital goods industries would fertilize the whole of our economic enterprise.

There is another side to this story, which I shall try to interpret tomorrow.

Our Children By Angelo Patri

PERFECTION

I have heard a great deal about the divine dissatisfaction of those who, having attained to perfection realized that they were still far short of their goal. Evidently that means infinite perfection. I wish that those who dealt with little children would put such fantastic notions out of their minds. There is no such thing in human experience as perfection. The perfection of infinity is beyond us, else why are we called human?

A child hands a teacher a fine bit of work. She scans it with eager eyes. Everything asked for is on the paper. It is neatly presented. It is correct. It calls for a hundred percent rating. What does the usual teacher say?

"Fine. That is a good paper. Now next time when you are handing in a paper try to make it perfect. Make all the down strokes the same color and in the same slant and don't forget to close the O's. That tail on the 'y' is bad. Finish the words carefully."

By this time the child has begun to think that maybe he isn't so good after all. Maybe he was mistaken in thinking he had done a perfect job and earned his hundred percent. He feels a sickening weight at his heart and wearily he listens for the dismissal bell. What's the use?

The teacher would say, if you asked the reason for this, "He would rest satisfied if I didn't point out to him that there was room for improvement. I must spur him on to greater effort and greater achievement. He does wonderful work and I must keep him to the highest possible pitch of effort and accomplishment."

So. Then destructive criticism, fault finding, grudging praise is a tonic to striving spirits? Not for a fraction of a grain is it effective for anything but discouragement and doubt and despair. That sort of criticism, the sort of marking that gives a child a poorer mark than his work called for, the grudging recognition of success are depressing influences and their results are certain failure.

When a child does a piece of work and he hands it to you or shows it to you, all in a glow of accomplishment, praise him. Tell him he has done well. Don't fix your eye on the crooked line, the slight smudge, the error in spelling or penmanship. Fix it on the whole job and say, "You did well. You're growing. You're getting better and better." Heighten his glow of accomplishment with the thrill of success and never mind the immaturities of his work.

Isn't he to be corrected? Of course. That is why he makes mistakes. To give us an opportunity to see his stage of growth and to build upon it in accord with its need. This job is not the last one he is to do although of might think by the reaction of some parents and teachers that this one deed is the final and the uttermost of his time. Take it for what it is, an effort, an expression of a stage of growth and with gentleness and understanding build upon it.

For there is no perfection in us. We go from stage to stage always progressing provided we retain within us the spark of hope that is fed by encouragement and praise and success.
